Revolutionary Committee Issues Appeal to Powers to Intervene.

REVOLT IS SPREADING

GUERRILLA WAR IN PROGRESS

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Vienna, Aug. 10.—Friends of the revolutionary cause in Macedonia are jubilant over the turn given affairs in the Balkans by the murder of Russian Consul Rostkovski at Monastir by a Turkish gendarme and the sharp demand by the Russian government for reparation and punishment. The fact that the Turkish government has promptly met this demand by the dismissal of the vali of Monastir and will unquestionably inflict the severest punishment demanded by Russia on the murderer, does not in the minds of the Macedonian representatives here make the affair any the less encouraging from their viewpoint. They declare that such is the state of the public mind among the Mohammedan Macedonians created by Sarafoff's raids and his savage reprisals for Turkish outrages on Christians that the life of no Christian is safe in the district. There are bound to be massacres by Turks of subjects of the great powers who will compel them to take action to drive Turkey from Europe. They point out that under the most favored circumstances discipline is lax in the Turkish army, while the Turkish authorities have practically no control over the bands of Moslems who have taken the field to meet Sarafoff's guerrillas.

Revolt Is Spreading.

Every mail brings news that the revolt is spreading and is growing more aggressive and formidable. The entire vilayet of Monastir is overrun by bands of insurgents. In several instances they have been in contact with the Turkish forces, and invariably have been nominally defeated, but this amounts only to the carrying out of their plan of campaign, to scatter like a covey of partridges when they meet a force which they are not certain of overcoming, only to gather again as active and formidable as ever when the danger has passed.

A number of Mohammedan villages have been raided by the Macedonians, and, according to the reports, the same treatment has been meted out to the inhabitants as has been accorded by bashi basouks and Albanians to the inhabitants of Christian villages. As a result the Mohammedan inhabitants are in a state of panic. So widely scattered are the insurgents and so swift in their attacks that their blows fall like lightning out of a clear sky and they are away long before the Turkish troops can get anywhere near them.

An Appeal to the Powers.

SOFIA, Aug. 10.—The delegates here of the Macedonian committee addressed the following appeal to each of the representatives of the powers:

> Your Excellency—The delegates of the Macedonian committee have the honor to bring to your notice the following declaration with the request that you communicate it to your government:
>
> The Mussulmans' systematic persecution has compelled the Christians in Macedonia and the vilayet of Adrianople to institute a general rising. They have had recourse to this extreme measure after exhausting all pacific means to secure the intervention of Europe to enforce the provisions of the Berlin treaty. At the present moment this intervention is the only means of remedying the evil and stopping bloodshed. The sporadic effort of the powers to secure reforms having failed, they resulted merely in a recrudescence of Turkish fanaticism and government opposition.
>
> It is evident that reform measures to be efficacious must include the appointment of a Christian governor general of Macedonia, some one who has never held office under the porte, and who must be independent of the Turkish government in the exercise of his functions, and the further appointment by the powers of a joint, permanent administrative board with full powers to deal with any disturbance.
>
> Having published the foregoing facts to the civilized world and made known the causes which have driven the Macedonians to despair, the committee for the Macedonians now in arms proposes to continue the fight till the object of their uprising has been attained.

Details of the Murder.

BELGRADE, SERVIA, Aug. 10.—According to the latest reports regarding the murder of the Russian consul at Monastir M. Rostkovski abused the Turkish gendarme, who was doing sentry duty for not saluting him, and called him a "pig of a Turk." Then he struck the sentry with his whip, saying: "Next time, perhaps you will know me." The gendarme thereupon fired on the consul.

It is stated that M. Rostkoviski was hated by the Turks on account of his intense arrogance.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 10.—In reporting the assassination of the Russian consul at Monastir to the foreign office, the Russian ambassador at Constantinople telegraphed August 8:

> The grand vizier and the Turkish foreign minister have come to me with expressions of regret in the name of the sultan. Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier, informed me that the assassin was a gendarme, named Helim, and that he will be subjected to the severest punishment, and the vali of monastir will be removed from his post.

> His majesty has received a telegram from the sultan expressing his deep regret at the death of the Russian consul at Monastir. When I submitted your telegram to the emperor his majesty gave orders that you should not confine yourself to receiving explanations from the grand vizier, but should make the most energetic demands on the turkish gov-

ROOT PLANNED SNUB TO MILES

President Not Consulted on the Matter by War Secretary.

GEN. YOUNG EXPLAINS

HIS TAILOR WAS TO BLAME

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.

Upon the authority of an official of the administration it may be stated that the administration believes it was justified in the brevity of the order retiring Lieut.-Gen. Miles, by what it considers to have been Gen. Miles' obstructive tactics during the last few years, especially with reference to the conduct of the affairs of the army in the Philippines.

My informant took occasion to deny that the president consulted with the secretary of war about the terms in which the order should be couched. It has been said the president tore up a laudatory order which Mr. Root took with him to Oyster Bay. The president never saw the order and never consulted with Secretary of War Root about the order.

"At one time Secretary Root declared that Gen. Miles would have to leave the command of the army or he would have to resign as secretary of war. President Roosevelt prevailed upon Mr. Root to remain and complete the work he had on hand."

"Gen. Young's friends have an explanation of that officer's appearing at Gen. Miles' farewell reception in the dress uniform of a lieutenant-general. Gen. Young regretted the incident exceedingly. It seems that he did not receive his invitation to the reception until early Saturday morning. He telephoned to his tailor to send him his dress blouse without making further alterations in it. The blouse arrived a few minutes before the hour for the reception, but the energetic tailor had already attached to it the three stars worn by a lieutenant-general. Gen. Young was compelled, therefore, to attend the reception in that uniform or in civilian dress. The order was that all officers were to appear in dress uniform, and he decided to obey orders, and if necessary to explain the circumstances to Gen. Miles.

MILES A CANDIDATE.

New York Delegation Gets Letters Asking Support for G. A. R. Commander.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 10.—If the sentiments expressed by New York state delegates passing through Kansas City on their way to the Grand Army convention in San Francisco correctly represent the situation, Lieut. Gen. Miles, retired, will be a formidable candidate for commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Members of the official New York state delegation said they had received letters to the effect that Gen. Miles would be a candidate and urging their support of his candidacy. The letters were not from Gen. Miles, but it is said were from some one apparently empowered to represent him.

SEVEN MAD DOG VICTIMS TO BE TREATED AT THE MAGEE PATHOLOGICAL INSTITUTE

WERE BITTEN BY PET

SYMPTOMS NOT MANIFEST

Seven little patients—victims of a mad dog's rampage through the streets of Punxsutawney—arrived in the city last night for treatment in the Magee pathological institute of the Mercy hospital. The children were bitten on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, and fearing the development of dreaded hydrophobia Dr. T. R. Williams, the attending physician, ordered them sent to Pittsburgh.

This is the largest number of patients ever admitted at one time into the Magee institute. For 21 days they will be under the treatment of Dr. A. Leteve, director of the pathological department, and will undergo the same ordeal of inoculation as that prescribed for victims of hydrophobia in the Pasteur institution at Paris.

A large crowd gathered at the Pittsburgh & Western station in Allegheny when the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh express train arrived at 6:45 o'clock with Dr. Williams and the seven children under his care. The patients looked hale and hearty. They ranged in age from 4 to 12 years, were sunburnt and appeared to enjoy the best of health. Their wounds had been cauterized and as yet they have felt no bad effects of the dog's bite, the period for the first manifestations of the fatal symptoms not having been reached.

Victims Are All Italians.

The victims are Emmanuele, Giuseppe, Michale and Rosa Camerata, children of Biaggio Camerata; Gabriele Gigliatti, Vincenza Amata and Filippa Camerata, the last named being a niece of Biaggio Camerata. The children were accompanied by their parents, who will remain here until all are released from the hospital.

A mongrel cur named "Jack" was responsible for all the trouble. Jack was the prize pet of little Emmanuele Camerata, and until last week had been as docile as a lambkin. In lisping Italian dialect the boy told a reporter for The Gazette the story of the dog's wrongdoing.

"Jack was a gooda dog," he said. "He was a black an' a yalla, an' about so big. One day he went a-foolin' wid de oder dogs an' comed da homa feelin' a sore. He trya to bita things out a da air, an' we all got scairt, an' den he trya to eat us up."

The dog "Jack" was bitten by another mad canine several weeks before and soon went mad. On Wednesday he snapped two of the children and escaped. On the following morning he ran into the house and lacerated five children. Dr. Williams killed the dog and sent the carcass to the physicians of the institute for examination.

Evidences of Hydrophobia Found.

On opening the animal's skull, Dr. Leteve discovered that the dog had gone mad and promptly acquainted Dr. Williams with the facts. Arrangements were made to bring the children at once to the hospital.

The victims represent four Italian families who live in a small mining suburb of Punxsutawney. The foreigners seemed aware of the danger of their children and readily consented to allow them to be brought to the hospital, their parents' tenderness being shown by their desire to remain with them while they are treated in the hospital. The wounds caused by the dog's teeth are apparently slight, and if the treatment is effective no serious results will follow and none of the children will be disfigured. While undergoing treatment at the hospital the children and their parents will be entertained by friends in the city.

AN AGED CITIZEN STONED TO DEATH

HIS BROTHERS ALSO WANTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Weston, W. Va., Aug. 10.—Robert Moore, aged 21, is in jail at Addison, Webster county, charged with the brutal murder of the aged father of his sweetheart. Moore's younger brothers, Hance and Thomas, are also wanted for complicity in the alleged murder, but are still at large.

Benjamin Engar, a respected citizen of the little village of Cleveland, Webster county, was the victim, and it is charged that the boys stoned him to death while he was returning home from church with his family last night.

Robert Moore has for some time been devoted to Edgar's young and pretty daughter. Her father opposed the match and warned his daughter that he would punish her if she persisted in keeping company with young Moore, or even seeing him.

The girl disobeyed her father, and was with Robert Moore a week ago last Sunday. It is said that the next morning Edgar gave his daughter a severe thrashing. When Robert learned of the affair, it is alleged, he said he would kill Edgar on sight.

Edgar, being rather infirm, did not leave his home often, except to attend the village church, whence he was returning last night when the boys are charged with attacking him. As he was passing a little covered bridge three stones were thrown, the third one striking him in the temple. His death resulted in 20 minutes.

Sheriff C. F. Duffy and Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Hoover of Webster county, with a posse of 15 men are scouring the woods and are determined to run down the other brothers. Circuit court is in session at Addison with Judge W. G. Bennett on the bench and, to pacify public indignation, it is believed swift justice will be meted out to the Moores.

PENNSY MOVES TO BLOCK GOULD

B. & O. HAS LARGE HOLDINGS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.

While no official announcement has been made, it is believed that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has greatly strengthened its holdings of Reading through the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Now that Mr. Gould is desirous of reaching New York, it is perfectly natural that he would seek an outlet, and the cheapest route at the present time would be that of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company.

The capitalization of the Reading company is $14,000,000. At the close of the market today the market value of the first and second preferred and the common stock was $80,964,918. Although the Baltimore & Ohio and the Lake Shore hold almost a majority of the stock, there is supposed to be enough floating around to cause the holders considerable worriment in case a change of the management is desired. At the present time the stock is held by a voting combine, but this could easily be dissolved by the payment of a dividend of 4 per cent per annum on the first preferred stock for two successive years.

The recent buying of the stock is a mystery, although it is said that a prominent New York house, which generally does the operating for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was the largest purchaser. This has given rise to the belief that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was protecting its interests and at the same time averaging the price of the stock which it now holds. CHESTER D. POTTER.

ATE POISONED BEEF.

Pittsburghers Have Distressing Experience While on an Outing Near Dunkirk, N. Y.

BUFFALO, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cosgrove and Mr. Doyle of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Tuttle Place and daughter of Ripley, were poisoned by eating canned chipped beef at Point Gratiot, near Dunkirk, yesterday. The party went from Ripley early in the morning and ate lunches taken with them. Several hours later the little girl was taken ill. The others in the party were affected in the same manner a short time later. Dr. Vosburg, by heroic action, saved their lives. Three of the party were not declared out of danger until this morning.

CARNEGIES AND GUESTS OFF TO SKIBO CASTLE

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(Special Cable.)—Every Scotch express leaving London nowadays is crowded with men off to the moors, all of them with guns and many with dogs, though even in Scotland driving has become so generally the thing that the latter are not needed so much as they used to be, when they were required to point the birds. Many Americans are to be seen in these northward bound multitudes. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, F. M. Carnegie and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ricketson of Pittsburgh are among those who have gone to Scotland.

ATTORNEY GENERAL KNOX GOES TO OYSTER BAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Attorney General Knox was at the Waldorf-Astoria today with United States Senator Spooner. He and the senator had a long and earnest talk this morning on matters of importance to the administration. An effort was made to learn the object of the attorney general's visit to the city at this time, but Mr. Knox sent out word that he was too busily engaged with Senator Spooner to be seen. It was learned, however, that he will go to Oyster Bay tomorrow to see President Roosevelt and discuss affairs of state with him.

CLIMAX AT NEWPORT IS MRS. ASTOR'S BALL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Newport, R. I., Aug. 10.—The ball given tonight at her villa Beechwood by Mrs. Astor was not only the largest, but probably will prove to have been the most notable event of the present season here. It may be Mrs. Astor's distinctive entertainment of the season, as she has given no indication as yet that she will resume the series of weekly dinners at her villa which for so many years have been features of the season.

The ball was distinguished by an atmosphere of quiet elegance and refinement and the universal expression of the delighted guests was "may she live to give many more." The evening was no exception to the rule, so far as late hours are concerned, and though the cards of invitation asked the guests to asemble at half past ten o'clock it was very nearly midnight before there was a sufficient number to begin dancing.

The floral decorations were suberb and on a most elaborate scale. Mr. Astor's favorite flower, the American Beauty rose, being used in great profusion. After an hour of general dancing supper was served by Sherry at tables in the dining room, hall and on the verandas.

CANNING FACTORY EKPLODES AND THREE MEN ARE KILLED

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 10.—Humphreys & Hogan's canning factory at Rutland blew up at noon, killing three persons and injuring a dozen others. Those killed are Said Near, Don Mutchler and Dale Rawlings. The building was blown to pieces.

Mosquito Bite Killed Him.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—John Columbus of Gloucester died at the Cooper hospital, in Camden, this afternoon from blood poisoning. He was employed as a motorman on the Camden, Gloucester and Woodbury trolley line, and about two weeks ago was bitten by a mosquito.

SCORE OF FISHERMEN DROWNED IN STORM

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Death rode on a storm which swept down the Gulf of Georgia early this morning. Three thousand fishing boats were on the gulf and it is estimated that a score of Japanese were drowned.

Roof Garden on a Church.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—A roof garden will be one of the features of the new edifice to be erected by members of the Methodist Church of Christ at Oakley boulevard and West Van Buren street. It will be open every night during the heated season.

SHIFTING THE BLAME.

Railroads Will Not Accept Blame for Increase in the Price of Fuel.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The railroads entering Cleveland have notified coal dealers and brokers that car service rules will be strictly enforced and that any delay in unloading cars consigned to Cleveland will cost $1 per day.

They are taking this step to avoid the criticism that will follow the raise in the price of coal announced for September 1. Last year the dealers claimed that the increase in the cost of coal was because the railroads would not deliver it promptly.

Said a railroad official: "The public will be taught that these advances in prices are due entirely to the coal men and not to the railroads."

PITTSBURGH LAD HURT.

Son of Dr. Cadwallader Evans Victim of Trolley Accident.

ALLENHURST, N. J., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Norman Evans, the 10-year-old son of Dr. Cadwallader Evans of Pittsburgh, who is summering here, was injured this afternoon by being struck by a trolley car while riding a horse which had been frightened and became unmanagable.

Young Evans was attempting to quiet the animal when a car struck the horse, killing it instantly and throwing the boy to the ground. When picked up he was unconscious, but toward night he regained his senses and an examination showed that no bones were broken.

NEARLY ONE HUNDRED KILLED BY FRIGHTFUL CATASTROPHE IN PARIS' RAILWAY TUNNEL

VICTIMS WERE SUFFOCATED WHILE SEEKING THE EXITS

Passengers Were Entrapped in Underground Passage—Officials Lose Their Heads—Rescuers Unable to Enter for Hours.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Aug. 11.—Eighty-two bodies have been recovered from the trains which were destroyed by fire yesterday on the Metropolitan electric railway. The total number of victims is estimated at ninety.

Paris, Aug. 11.—An awful catastrophe occurred last evening on the Metropolitan electric railway, which runs mostly underground, in which many persons are believed to have lost their lives. Up to 3 a. m. seven bodies have been recovered and the search continues.

One of the trains broke down at Menilmontant station, in a poor and populous section of the city. This train was promptly emptied and the train which followed was ordered to push it to the repairing sheds. On the way these two trains caught fire, but the employes succeeded in escaping.

Meanwhile a crowded train reached Les Charonnes, the preceding station, and the officials, seeing smoke pouring out of the tunnel, gave the alarm. A panic ensued, the passengers struggling to escape from the station. Amid the increasing smoke so many attempted to return along the line toward Belleville that they were suffocated.

The officials seem to have lost their heads and are unable to say how many passengers went out. The firemen for several hours were unable to enter the station or the tunnel owing to the dense smoke which poured out in black clouds.

Finally the firemen succeeded in flooding the burning mass, and shortly afterward they were able to enter the tunnel. They brought up the corpses of five men and two women, all belonging to the working class.

There are believed to be many more bodies in the tunnel.

BIGELOW ON THE FREIGHT RATES

NAMES OF QUARTET

Brennen Has Heard Goehring Is Expecting Aid from Bigelow, Verner, Given, Lindsay.

DEMOCRATS DECIDE TODAY

Thomas S. Bigelow yesterday admitted that four men had agreed to provide all the money needed to conduct a campaign in case a Citizen-Republican was nominated for district attorney on the fusion ticket.

Last night W. J. Brennen said that he had been informed who composed the quartet, and named Thomas S. Bigelow, Murry A. Verner, T. Hart Given and Homer Lindsay as the four reported to be willing to back the candidacy of Harry L. Goehring.

When Bigelow was asked yesterday whether it was true that he had informed the Democracy that as large a campaign fund could not be raised to back the candidacy of W. J. Brennen as would be forthcoming for a candidate of his own choosing, the head of the Citizens party is credited with saying:

"Well, four men stand ready to guarantee whatever money may be neded for the campaign, providing a Citizen-Republican is nominated on a fusion ticket, and, of course, that is a very important matter to consider."

Of course, this statement caused talk. It is right in line with the report of Saturday that a fund had been insured if Bigelow's candidate was made the choice of the fusion conference. W. J. Brennen was asked last night if he had heard who the four men were, and this was his reply.

What Brennen Has Heard.

"On the day that the harmony negotiation with the Republicans fell through, a friend of mine told me that Harry L. Goehring had informed him that Thomas S. Bigelow, Murry A. Verner, T. Hart Given and Homer Lindsay had agreed to back his candidacy. There is at least one man mentioned in the list who I cannot believe would fight me if I were to be a candidate. I intend to see him today and learn what truth there is in the statement."

The Bigelow statement caused a sensation in local politics and it will probably have a great deal to do with shaping the course of the Democrats in the fusion deal. It is now believed that Bigelow will have to agree to the side-tracking of Goehring if he is to hope to make a fusion arrangement with the Democrats. The announcement of the existence of the campaign fund has resulted in a flood of Democrats going to Brennen and insisting that he stand as a candidate. He has been given flattering offers of support if he will agree to go into the fight as an anti-Bigelow candidate.

Will Decide Today.

Brennen announces that by this evening he will have determined on his course. This afternoon there will be a general conference of the Democratic leaders. As for himself, it is believed that Brennen has decided what he should do, but the voice of the conference will be listened to. There is a strong element in that conference that will endeavor to pursuade him to become the Democratic candidate with the indorsement of the anti-Bigelow forces of the Citizens party. It is generally agreed that this fall fight will see the end of the fusion movement, whether the Democrats ally themselves with Bigelow or with his enemies in the Citizens ranks.

While the Democrats and Citizens are wrangling over the doubtful spoils of fusion, Republicans are talking about the possible make-up of their ticket. Especial interest is shown in securing a strong nominee for district attorney. A man is desired who cannot be credited as the candidate of any man or faction. New names are being heard in the discussion. The latest are Senator W. A. Magee and ex-Senator John W. Lee. The former has refused to respond to the wishes of his friends and enter the field. The latter is simply being discussed without the knowledge of Senator Lee. He has been a resident of the Nineteenth ward for about 10 years, coming here from Venango county. In state politics he is well known. Mr. Lee is president of the Pure Oil Company and also general counsel for the corporation.

Interest was yesterday manifested in a conference between Mayor W. B. Hays and Select Councilman J. W. Ruhlandt. The latter says he was merely requesting the appointment of a friend to a position in the police force.

BOOKWALTER PROMISES CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTION

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—There is a story out tonight that John W. Bookwalter has promised $50,000 to the Democratic campaign fund. Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland secured Bookwalter's promise to allow his name to go before the Democratic state convention for indorsement for United States senator. It is said by Johnson's friends that it would not be good for the party to have two candidates from the same city, and if Bookwalter is indorsed an effort will be made to side-track Zimmerman for governor and secure the nomination for Johnson.

JOHN ARBUCKLE EXTENDS COURTESY TO HAVEMEYER

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—John Arbuckle, the coffee and sugar merchant, has extended an olive branch to H. O. Havemeyer, for he recently sent him 100 tickets for the Arbuckle free excursion to be distributed among Mr. Havemeyer's employes. Each ticket will admit a mother and six children. The boat leaves the Recreation pier at the foot of North Second street, Brooklyn, at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. It will return about 7 o'clock that evening.

LITTAUER HAD HAND ON WIRES

RIVAL ACCUSES HIM

Timothy Keck, Manufacturer and Bidder, Testifies to Devious Methods Used.

OTHER BIDDERS BOUGHT OFF

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

The Herald this morning prints a long interview with Timothy Keck, a glove manufacturer of Johnstown, N. Y., making serious charges against Congressman L. N. Littauer, whose connection with government glove contracts is now under investigation. Mr. Keck admits that he was "in" on some of the deals, and says he tells the story because he was treated unfairly by Littauer.

Up to 1896, when Littauer went to congress, Keck says he secured 25 glove contracts from the government in 10 years. Since then he has secured only three small contracts, though on several occasions he claims his was the lowest bid. At present Mr. Keck says he is not permitted to bid for government supplies because of his having entered into a combination with other bidders to put a certain price on a lot of caps for the army. Mr. Keck showed letters to prove Mr. Littauer had sent him at least one check as a reward for fixing his bid for a lot of gloves at a figure that would not interfere with the bid made by William Topp, whose factory here was practically owned by Littauer.

"All that I ask," said Mr. Keck, "is that this investigation which has been ordered by President Roosevelt be thorough and impartial. I do not want Mr. Littauer to go to Washington or to Philadelphia and read the riot act to the men who are to investigate, as he did, he told me, to Col. Furey, when that official refused to accept 3,000 pairs of gloves that were deemed to be below the standard demanded by the army.

Furey Declined to Hear Him.

"I have been criticised by some for appealing to President Roosevelt to make this investigation. I did that after every other effort to obtain fair play had failed. Col. Furey, who should have known that it was improper for Mr. Littauer to have any interest in the contract awarded by the government, was appealed to and he replied that he did not desire to hear any further complaint regarding the contracts. That, by the way, is the same Col. Furey who is said by Mr. Littauer to have listened quietly to the reading of the riot act."

When Mr. Keck began to lose contracts he did not for a time realize the cause, he says. He called on Littauer, but got no satisfaction.

"I went to Littauer and asked him why could not make the bids for him," said Keck. "He replied that Barton F. Blake of Philadelphia was making the bids for one cent per pair, which he considered too little for me to accept. 'That would make me $100 on each 10,000 pairs, and that would be better than nothing,' I replied, but nothing came of it."

Later Mr. Keck says he asked Mr. Littauer to allow him to bid on a contract that was to be let June 12, 1901, and in reply received the following letter:

> Your esteemed letter of May 27th is at hand. Pending the matter in contest over the delivery of United States army gauntlets at San Francisco, we are not in position to do any business except through Hood, Foulkrod & Company.

This was signed "Littauer Brothers & Co. (Dic. L. N. L.)."

Letter Is Significant.

"That letter, written by Mr. Littauer, becomes quite significant, when it is remembered that Thomas G. Hood, who is not a manufacturer, was a successful bidder for several gauntlet contracts about that time," said Mr. Keck. "Thomas G. Hood is the senior member of Hood, Foulkrod & Co., to whom we were referred. Mr. Hood purchased from Mr. Littauer the gauntlets which he furnished to the government."

On April 17, 1902, Keck says Littauer called at his office in Johnstown but he was absent. Littauer then wired Keck to meet him at the Liberty street ferry in New York.

"I met Mr. Littauer at the foot of Liberty street. 'I have $60,000 or $70,000 tied up in the Topp factory in Johnstown,' said Mr. Littauer, again proving his interest in the various Topp contracts, 'and if I am to get my money out of the Topp factory I must keep it running. I must have this contract, and I want to make some deal with you that will save trouble. I will do the fair thing. I will pay you 5 cents a pair if you will not bid on the contract, and I get it. And if I fail I will pay you $250 anyhow.'"

Keck says he declined the proposition and declared he would make his own bid.

Names Several Witnesses.

"I did not know then, as I have every reason to believe now, that Littauer had appeased all other probable bidders," said Keck. "He said he was going to Washington, but instead, he stopped in Philadelphia, and I learned later that he told other contractors I would not listen to him. That comes to me from several men whose names I will not give in any other way than to suggest that Col. Garlington, who is making the political investigation, could call as witnesses Theodore F. Seifert of Philadelphia, Charles D. Brown of the Manhattan Supply Company, New York, and Loeb & Kamholtz of Philadelphia.

"Well, I made my bid on that contract, my figures being $1 68 per pair for the gauntlets. H. J. Patterson, who is connected with John Wanamaker, bid $1 68 and received the contract. Mr. Littauer spoke to me of that contract, saying he furnished the gloves. I hope that Col. Garlington will not fail to take testimony of Mr. Patterson.

"Later that year, last September to be exact, skins having advanced, Patterson made another bid for Littauer and received the contract at $1 87. Littauer had paid 6½ cents per pair to the bidder, and he added: 'It was too much.'"

Keck Not Allowed to Bid.

Mr. Keck then told of a combination of cap manufacturers to make bids to the government that would allow a profit of 40 cents on each cap, which was to be divided. This was discovered and new bids called for. He says he let Littauer know about the agreement and Keck later received notice that thereafter he would not be allowed to bid on army contracts.

Returning to the gloves Keck says he agreed not to bid on the contract to be let August 17, 1900, and just 10 days later received a check for $400 from Littauer Brothers. He showed a letter dated August 27, 1900, saying, "Inclosed find check for $400."

Keck then quotes figures on many bids made to show that there was collusion to allow the agents of Littauer to secure the contracts. He also declared that previous to 1896 contracts also went to the lowest bidder, but since that time it has not always been so.

ROOT'S SERVICE NEARING ITS END

Secretary of War Will Do Little Else Besides Work on Boundary Commission.

HE RETIRES JAUNARY 1, 1904

Governor William H. Taft of the Philippines Will Succeed to the Post—Gen. Luke Wright Will Then Become Governor in the Archipelago.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.

It is said here that Elihu Root will resign January 1 as secretary of war and that Gov. William H. Taft of the Philippines will succeed him. It is said that on August 22, when Secretary Root leaves Washington to become a member of the Alaskan boundary commission in London, his duties as secretary of war will cease, though he will continue to hold the title until January 1, 1904, when he will wind up the affairs of his administration.

His retirement from the cabinet was decided upon several months ago, but was not carried out because of the weight of his counsel as a cabinet officer will be given in the boundary commission. It has been the president's earnest wish also that he should remain at the head of the war department just as long as he could without too great a sacrifice of his own interests.

Gov. Taft is in harmony with the president in all his plans. The special work for which he went to Manila has now advanced so far that it can be safely left in other hands, and the condition of his health is such that his continuance at Manila will be at a heavy sacrifice.

Gen. Luke Wright has served as acting governor during his superior's visit to the United States, and he can continue his policies with every promise of success. It has been planned for months that if anything should happen to bring Gen. Taft back to this country Gen. Wright should succeed him. This will leave a vacancy on the Philippine commission. W. W. Rockhill, chief of the bureau of American republics, has been considered for this vacancy, but it is possible that before the change comes in the Philippine commission a vacancy may occur in the mission to China. Minister Conger is not expected to remain at Peking very much longer, although there is no immediate prospects of his resignation. It is planned that Mr. Rockhill shall take his place. Should the vacancy at Manila occur first, however, it is probable that Rockhill will be sent there instead. Secretary Root will return to his practice at New York.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The attention of the president this evening was directed to a circumstantial statement that Secretary Root expected to retire from the cabinet and be succeeded by Gov. Taft of the Philippines. It can be said that there is no definite foundation for the story. The president believes that the secretary certainly will remain through the coming winter and probably a much longer time.

BRUTAL METHODS SHOCK GEORGIANS

STRICT INQUIRY IS ORDERED

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ATLANTA, GA., Aug. 10.—"It seems that the methods which have made Siberia infamous are being adopted as a part of the convict system of Georgia," was the burden of the cry of members of the legislature today, in demanding an investigation of the brutal knouting of Miss Mamie Decrist, at the state prison farm at Milledgeville.

Not in years has an event occurred which has so stirred the state, and the legislature was flooded with telegrams from every section of the state demanding a thorough investigation and severe punishment for those concerned in whipping the unfortunate woman.

The result is that the legislature will investigate and startling disclosures are expected. Supt. Foster, over whose protest Miss Decrist was knouted, has resigned because of the affair. He says in his letter of resignation that he will not jeopardize his soul by being part of a system which makes life a hell for a lot of unfortunates.

As the fact slowly creep out about the Decrist affair, the story becomes more shocking. It is stated today that the woman was made to disrobe, tied down—bucked, prison officials call it—just as negro male convicts are treated, and then lashed unmercifully. Almost immediately after the whipping Miss Decrist was manacled to a negress and sent to the field to work, where she fainted and was found by Supt. Foster.

No adequate reason has ever been given for the whipping. One report says she was whipped because she angered the warden's wife who gave Miss Decrit's place as stewardess to a negress. Another report given is "willfulness." One resolution introduced in the house calls for the discharge of the man who administered the whipping and the pardon of Miss Decrist.

Gov. Tyrrell called on the prison commissioners in person and demanded a fuller report than the commission had asked for and instructed the commission to send State Warden Moore to the state farm at once, and called for the discharge of the whipping boss.

"I want the man who whipped that woman discharged," said the governor. "I want this matter probed to the bottom. Such a thing as whipping a white woman like that was outrageous and I shall not have the name of the state disgraced with any more such occurrences."

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., Aug. 10.—A brief interview with Mamie Decrist was secured this afternoon, but it was in the presence of Capt. Alagood, who did the whipping.

"Miss Decrist, why were you whipped?"

"I was whipped because I talked rudely to Mrs. Alagood and did not leave when spoken to."

"Was your language vulgar or profane?"

"No, I never use such language."

She said she was very sorry for her conduct and regretted that she had been punished.

HEAVYWEIGHTS MAKE THEIR FINAL CLAIMS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The heavyweight pugilists tonight issued these final statements:

By James J. Jeffries.

"Corbett will meet a better Jeff next Friday night than ever stepped into the ring before. He may plan on winning on points, but the fight will never go the limit. I intend to go at him very fast, right from the start, and believe I will have him at my mercy inside of five rounds."

By James J. Corbett.

"If I lose to Jeffries next Friday night I will have no excuse to offer. I am in the best possible condition and I think I have cleverness enough to offset Jeff's greater strength. I have a punch, too, that will surprise you all. I may not knock out Jeff, but I am confident of earning the decision."

By John L. Sullivan.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., Aug. 10.—John L. Sullivan, discussing the Corbett-Jeffries fight, expressed the opinion that Jeff will beat Corbett inside of 10 rounds:

"I think Jeff will win easily because he is stronger, heavier and more of a fighter than Corbett. Jeffries can hit harder than any man in the ring today and can stand more punishment besides. On the other hand, Corbett is a clever boxer, shifty on his feet and a first class gymnasium man, but he can't hit hard enough to hurt any one.

"What did Corbett ever do besides beating a couple of stiffs, myself, Sharkey and Mitchell, who tried to drink all the rum in the world. I was beaten when I was not fit for the fight."

MME. HUMBERT AGAIN DOMINATES THE COURT

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The trial of the Humbert family on the charges of forgery and swindling in connection with the fictitious Crawford millions was resumed today. Mme. Therese Humbert created several scenes when the court attempted to examine the other members of the family. M. Bonnet, the presiding judge, insisted on examining Frederic Humbert, her husband, but Mme. Therese, rising, said:

"I demand to be heard. I am strong today and will explain where the millions are."

During Judge Bonnet's searching interrogation of her husband, Mme. Therese dramatically exclaimed:

"Monsieur, the president, you are clearly showing by your manner that you are against us. You should disguise your feelings and try to appear impartial."

The judge ordered Mme. Humbert to desist, but she again shouted:

"You are continually showing your prejudice."

Frederic Humber said he devoted most of his time to art and poetry, leaving the entire financial operations to his wife.

Mme. Humbert again made another declamatory statement protesting her complete innocence. "I have tried to find the Crawfords and their millions," she said. "I have not succeeded in finding the money, but I have found the Crawfords. They have made a terrible revelation to me."

The judge, interrupting her, asked: "Then, where are the Crawfords?"

"If the Crawfords do not come here I will give their names and that will suffice," replied Mme. Therese. "When the witnesses have been heard I will tell all."

Arrested for Embezzlement.

J. E. Brophy of Oakland was committed to jail yesterday on a charge of embezzlement made before Alderman S. J. Toole by Nicholas Bendel on behalf of the Oakland Livery Company. It is alleged in the information that Brophy had been employed by the livery concern and had sold a carriage for $75 and in payment received a check, which he indorsed, retaining the money.

OLD FRIENDS SEE PIUS X.

Pontiff Gives Lengthy Audience to Three Hundred Persons from Venice.

ROME, Aug. 10.—Pius X. had another fatiguing day, as he received all the delegations which had come to Rome to attend the coronation ceremonies. He accorded a lengthy audience to about 300 from Venice, receiving them in the Clementine hall. The pontiff allowed all the members of the delegation to kiss his hand and called by name those whom he knew, just as he had when he met them formerly in Venice.

An authority, which is frequently well informed, says that Cardinal Sebastiano Martinelli will be appointed papal secretary of state.

A FALSE FRANK CHIDO GETS REAL ONE'S MONEY

Italian Employe of the City Counterfeited by a Fellow-Countryman, Who Collects a Month's Wages—Controller Offers $50 Reward.

Frank Chido, an employe of the bureau of highways and sewers, made the welkin ring in the city controller's office yesterday when he found that his warrant for $47 50, his last month's wages, had been secured by a countryman whose identity has not been determined. The police and the detectives were out yesterday looking for the Italian who worked the bunko game by which Chido lost his money. The loss to Chido is, of course, only temporary, for the loss will fall on the city, the controller, or John A. Craig, the paymaster.

With the exposure of payroll padding by the late Samuel T. Paisley, then superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers, the controller's office adopted the plan of sending the warrants of the employes in charge of the paymaster to where the men were working. Each man was called up, identified by his foreman and received his warrant. Last Saturday Paymaster Craig went out to the city stables in Tunnel street to give the men their warrants, but when Chido's name was called there was no response. Chido's warrant was brought back to the controller's offices in the expectation that the man would call for it.

Yesterday morning an Italian went to the office and said he was Frank Chido. He was asked why he had not answered to his name on Saturday.

"Me at homa, very seeck," he answered. "If ma no seeck, me sure been there for ma mon."

That seemed reasonable enough, and the warrant was given to him. When he was asked to sign the payroll, he said he could not write, and so a clerk witnessed the mark. The man took the warrant and went immediately across the hall to the city treasurer's office, where the warrant was cashed. An hour later another Italian appeared, said his name was Frank Chido, and that $47 50 was coming to him. He identified himself thoroughly, and the police were notified to look out for and apprehend the counterfeit Chido, while the real one lamented lonely.

"The present method of paying off seemed to be the best way to prevent the padding of the payrolls," said Controller Larkin, "and I do not see how the forgery today could have been prevented, unless we take such precautions as to make the collection of money really burdensome to those to whom the city owes it. I will pay $50 for the arrest and conviction of the forger."

PENDING ADJUSTMENT WORKERS TAKE UP JOBS

As Soon as an Umpire Is Selected Joint Arbitration Committee for the Building Trades Will Settle Things.

Without further delay the joint arbitration committee of the Builders' Exchange league and the Building Trades council will begin the adjustment of the troubles between those bodies, which resulted in a lockout on the part of the builders, and sympathetic strikes by the unions, causing a suspension of work in the two cities involving over 10,000 workmen.

Both sides have appointed committees and yesterday a preliminary conference was held to select an umpire. This was not done, however. Pending the arbitration, by arrangement, all the trades will return to work, and yesterday morning practically every man obeyed the order.

The council's committee is composed of William O'Brien, H. S. Smith, Charles Shedden and Thomas Hughes, while the builders' committee is made up of William Morrison, D. A. Bailey, R. A. King, William Kratzer, George Miller and James Clark.

The trouble was caused by the refusal of the A. & S. Wilson Company to employ union hoisting engineers on the Horne building, on account of its objection to the scale of the International Union of Steam Engineers, which it would not sign. A strike was ordered and the builders in turn called for a lockout. The unions followed this action up by ordering general sympathetic strikes.

One of the most important clauses in the scale will be the time for the expiration thereof. The league has taken a determined stand on this point, and will insist that December 31 be named. The union objects to this. The object of the builders is to have a uniform and general time for the expiration of scales so that they will be enabled to make more reliable bids. The question of hours and wages has been practically agreed to by the league, as it has been hinted that the hoisting engineers will be paid $4 for eight hours, with no pay for the raising of steam by 8 o'clock.

A PICTURE OF BLISS ON A POSTAL CARD FROM PENETANGESHENE

The well-known Pittsburgh politicians harmoniously banded together in the organization known as the Duquesne Fishing club, and who are at present camping at Penetangesheue, in the Province of Ontario, are evidently living well, judging from the following extract from a letter from one of them received in this city yesterday by one poor mortal who could not go on the trip. Imagine his feelings when he read this:

"This is what we call weighing in: Frog's legs and champagne; bass, muskalonge and claret; a bowl of 'waldmeister' every evening; delightful time all around; congenial souls, weather fine, fishing good, liquid refreshments cold, a good chef, a colossal appetite, a delightful thirst, a magnificent yacht and all necessary accommodations—I think I could stand this all summer."

HURRICANE SWEEPS ISLAND OF JAMAICA

Banana Properties Suffer Great Damage—Storm Moving Toward Cuba.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

KINGSTOWN, JAMAICA, Aug. 10.—The tail of a hurricane struck the eastern end of the island of Jamaica this afternoon and did great damage to the banana properties of the United Fruit Company and the Jamaica Fruit Company, limited. The full extent of the injury is unknown.

SAN JUAN, P. R., Aug. 10.—The people are alarmed over the high southeast winds which are blowing. Hurricane signals have been set.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—At the weather bureau it was stated that the hurricane seems to be in the neighborhood of San Domingo. The bureau has notified all points in that vicinity, including the governor of the Bahama islands at Nassau and all gulf and ocean ports from New Orleans to Boston.

FORT DE FRANCE, Aug. 10.—The island of Martinique was swept by a hurricane of great violence last night. Its duration was 10 hours at Fort de France, where it caused much destruction.

DEATHS FROM SMALLPOX.

One Woman Dies in the Municipal Hospital and Another Near De Haven.

Mrs. Mellie Doverspike, 24 years old, of No. 705 Morgan street, died last night in the Municipal hospital. She became sick August 1.

Four cases were reported yesterday, as follows: J. C. Irwin, No. 128 Pearl street; Nicholas Novogordszac, Forty-third and Willow streets; Lizzie Schlender, rear No. 220 Webster avenue; Annie Heinert, No. 10 Overhill street.

Margaret Grubbs, who kept the tollgate on the Butler plank road at Etna, was taken sick 10 days ago and was removed to the home of her parents, Joseph and Margaret Grubbs, in Hampton township, near DeHaven, Pa., before her disease was recognized as smallpox. She died yesterday morning and was buried in Hampton cemetery last evening.

Sharpsburg council has decided to locate a physician in the town hall for the purpose of giving free vaccination. Sixteen new cases of smallpox were reported in the borough last week and eight in Etna.

POSSE SCOURING COUNTRY.

Ridgway Girl Assaulted and Citizens Search for Assailant.

RIDGWAY, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Miss Dora Singer, 20 years old, of Ridgway, was assaulted while picking berries in a clump of woods this afternoon, by an unknown white man who has not yet been apprehended. Her sister ran to town and gave the alarm and the court house bell was run calling all the men to the center of the town.

A hastily organized posse of 200 has been scouring the country ever since, many of them armed with rifles. The girl is at her home here and may not recover. There is no clue to the identity of her assailant except the common report of the disappearance of a stranger who had been seen in Ridgway in the morning.

Body Coming from Germany for Burial.

The body of Clement Arenth of No. 6324 Station street, will arrive from Germany next Saturday. Mr. Arenth went to Schneidermuehl in Alsace-Lorraine, last May, to benefit his health. Word was received by the family yesterday that the body would arrive Saturday accompanied by Joseph Arenth, a brother of Clement.

SUITS ENTERED AGAINST PHILADELPHIA CLUB

Two of Those Hurt by Collapse of Bleachers Endeavor to Collect Damages.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—Two suits were entered today as a result of the collapse of the promenade at the ball park here Saturday. They are directed against the lessees of the grounds to determine their liability for injuries sustained.

The remaining two games with Boston have been postponed and the regular schedule will be resumed tomorrow.

Mayor Weaver, accompanied by Director of Public Saftey Smythe, today visited the ball grounds and made a personal investigation of the collapsed bleachers. They then held a conference with Coroner Dugan, and at his request Director Smythe will not issue a permit for the rebuilding of the seats until a verdict has been reached by the jury now sitting on the case. A number of experts have made an investigation of the building and their evidence will be submitted to the jury.

INTERURBAN TENNIS.

Braddock Team Beats Duquesne Three in Five.

The second match in a series of interurban contests arranged between the tennis teams of this vicinity was played yesterday afternoon between the Braddock and Duquesne teams. The former won three out of five sets in doubles and stands undefeated. The Duquesne team won from Bellevue last week. Braddock and Bellevue will play a match Saturday afternoon and Duquesne will likely play with Oakmont. The scores yesterday were:

Braddock—Hawthorne and Hinderer, 6—3, 8—3 and 6—1.

Duquesne—Coltin and Herspergtr, 8—2 and 7—5.

RUBE WADDELL REJOINS THE ATHLETICS AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Rube Waddell, who disappeared last Wednesday, rejoined the Athletics here today. He was accompanied by his wife. He reported to Capt Lave Cross. Waddell will probably pitch against Boston tomorrow. Connie Mack is very much in need of pitchers, and if Waddell shows that he is in condition he will be continued on the team. The Rube has not been taking very good care of himself, but promises to do better. With Waddell in condition the Athletics will stand a very good chance of landing the pennant the second time, although some of the fielders are not in the best of shape.

TRIO OF OLD BOARDERS BROKE THE COOKSTOVE

Because they broke the cookstove, three lamps and other furniture, and raised a rough house generally, last Saturday night, Steve Murric of No. 9 South Twenty-ninth street yesterday entered suit for malicious mischief against three of his former boarders. They are Rada Zeba, Emanuel Jansic and Mike Jansic of No. 34 South Twenty-ninth street. They will have a hearing before Alderman James Sherran.

STEWART TURNED UP SAFE IN JOHNSTOWN

J. H. Stewart of No. 1234 Winter street, Allegheny, who disappeared from his home last Thursday, turned up last night at Johnstown, Pa. Stewart telegraphed his wife that he was at the home of her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Hill, and would return in the morning. He left home last Thursday after drawing his pay, amounting to $85.

Mrs. William McShane Dead.

Mrs. Maggie Hawks McShane, 38 years old, wife of William McShane, the former police inspector of the South Side district, died Sunday night at Tarentum camp grounds, where the family had been spending the summer. Mrs. McShane had been ailing for the past 14 weeks. She was born on the South Side and had spent her entire life in that district, having for some years past resided at No. 108 South Thirteenth street. Mrs. McShane was married November 27, 1885, and besides her husband, is survived by one daughter, Miss Olive May; two sisters, Miss Ida Hawks and Mrs. John Roth, and two brothers, William and James Hawks of Derry, Pa. Mrs. McShane was an active worker in church and charitable circles. She was a member of the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church, Bingham and South Thirteenth streets, and secretary of the Ladies' Aid society of the congregation. Funeral services will be held over her remains tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Bingham Street church, and interment will take place at the South Side cemetery.

DAY OF DEATHS AND ACCIDENTS

MOVEMENT IN BED WAS FATAL

Man With a Broken Back Snaps His Spinal Cord—Boy Drowned by Becoming Entangled in Wire—Persons Injured in Many Ways.

Violent and sudden deaths and many serious accidents made yesterday a sad day in a number of families. The list is a long one.

Harry Stewart, employed by the Keeling Coal Company, was at work yesterday morning on a coal tipple near the head of South Twelfth street, when he fell 40 feet to the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad tracks. He was taken to the South Side hospital, where it was found that the back of his head had been crushed and that he had sustained internal injuries. He died about noon, never having regained consciousness.

Benjamin Joerson killed himself accidentally in his bed at the West Penn hospital yesterday morning. Joerson on July 31 had his back broken while working at the Wabash railroad camp and was sent to the hospital. The physicians stated that his condition was improving until yesterday, when he attempted to move himself and snapped his spinal cord. He died instantly.

Mary Lacey, 4-year-old daughter of Jeremiah Lacey, died late Sunday night at her home No. 440 Rebecca street, North Braddock, from burns received while playing with matches on Saturday.

Homer Scolde, 11 years old, while bathing in the Monongahela river at the foot of South Twentieth street yesterday morning, became entangled in a mass of old wires and was drowned. His home was at No. 1918 Merrimans alley, South Side. His body was recovered.

William Trayer, an electrician at the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, was crushed by an electric buggy on which he was working. He was sent to Mercy hospital.

Charles Brennan, a conductor, and Clyde Oliffe, a flagman, were badly cut and bruised in a small freight wreck on the Fort Wayne railroad in Woods Run, Allegheny, yesterday morning.

R. H. Crawford, a fireman at the Pennsylvania Car Wheel Company's works in Allegheny, was seriously scalded yesterday while making repairs on an engine.

Walter J. Greenfield, 40 years old, of No. 10 Sweet briar street, Duquesne Heights, had his right leg fractured and left arm broken at Penn avenue and Thirty-second street yesterday. He attempted to board a summer car before it had come to a stop.

Mamie McConnell, 7 years old, had both her arms broken in a fall from the porch roof at her home in Dayne alley, Allegheny, yesterday morning.

ASSIGNMENT RECORDED.

Company Against Which Jones & Laughlin Have Claims Files Statement.

PORT HURON, MICH., Aug. 10.—The assignment of the Columbia iron works of this city to Russ S. Jenks of St. Clair, Mich., as the result of financial difficulties which caused the Gilchrist Transportation Company to assume temporary charge of the plant, was placed on record today.

In the legal papers filed the total indebtedness of the concern is scheduled at $368,920, while the assets, according to the appraisement, are placed at $179,475, although the original cost is said to have been $109,116. It is said that plans are under way for reorganization. The Jones & Laughlin company of Pittsburgh is one of the creditors of the company, holding claims to the amount of $29,522.

BOARDERS GOT DAINTIES; HUSBAND GOT DYSPEPSIA

Michael Schmoot of 39 Rosetta street was arrested last night for disorderly conduct on information of his wife Annie. Schmoot's excuse for his conduct was that he received inferior food to that furnished the boarders. The boarders, he alleges, were fed on spring chicken and other dainties, while the food set before him was so hard to digest that he requires the attention of a physician on account of dyspepsia.

ernment for full satisfaction and immediate and exemplary punishment both of the murderer and of all the military and civil officials on whom responsibility for the audacious crime may fall.

Excitement at Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 10.—The murder of the Russian consul, M. Rostkovski, has caused intense excitement here and is the sole topic of conversation in the streets, cafes and public resorts. The general belief is that the incident is bound to aggravate the already serious situation in Macedonia and it is felt that it will undoubtedly encourage the Bulgarians to support the insurrectionary movement, which is spreading rapidly, notably to the southward of Monastir.

According to mail advices from Monastir, dated August 5, the insurgents who recently occupied the little town of Krusnevo, 23 miles north of Monastir, numbered 900. They killed the garrison, consisting of 52 soldiers; dynamited and burned the government buildings and then hoisted on a hill, overlooking the town, a red flag, bearing on one side a lion with the inscription, "Death or Liberty," and on the other the words, "Courage, Brethren." The rebels were still in possession of the town when the letters were sent off.

The whole country north of Monastir is in revolt. The Turkish official reports state that fresh bands of revolutionaries in considerable numbers have crossed the frontier from Bulgaria during the last few days. The local Bulgarian officials, however, deny this and declare that the strictest watch is being kept along the frontier.

TYPHOID FEVER RAGING.

Seventeen New Cases Reported in a Day—Victim Walks Into Police Station.

The bureau of health yesterday reported 17 new cases of typhoid fever, four of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever.

About 9:30 o'clock last night George Rylobd walked into the South Thirteenth street police station and told the sergeant that he was sick and had no place to go. The officers were at a loss to know what to do with the man, but he was finally taken to the South Side hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from an attack of typhoid fever. Rylobd is 21 years of age.

Another Missing Man.

John Munhan, aged 60 years, of No. 1026 Kirkpatrick avenue, Allegheny, has disappeared from his home, and his family and friends are considerably worried. Munhan left home last Sunday afternoon to take a walk and has not been seen since.

BLUE LAW TALK UNDER BIG TENT

Seventh-Day Adventist Introduces a New Feature Into Wilkinsburg's Dispute.

HANDSOME REWARD FOR TEXT

Unnamed Clergyman Said to Have Offered $5,000 if Shown in the Scriptures Where Christians Are Commanded to Keep the First Day in the Week.

Under a tent the moral and religious end of Wilkinsburg's blue law crusade was discussed last night. A reward of $1,000 it was advertised, will be given by a prominent but unnamed clergyman to the person who would be able to find a single text in the Bible where Christians are commanded to keep the first day of the week. The meetings were opened by Evangelist C. S. Longacre.

A big throng surrounded the gospel tent, which had been pitched in Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg. Representatives of the church committee of 12 and the druggists' committee of five were on hand to hear the evangelist's sermon and to look out for their own interests in the crusade. The advocates of the scheme to annex the borough to the city were on the scene early in the evening, and politics played quite as important a part as religion in the conversation of the audience. The annexation party will soon have its petitions ready to present to the people, and the bitterness between the two factions is expected to eclipse that caused by the prosecution of the Sunday soda water mixers.

Topics in the Week.

Last night Mr. Longacre used this for is theme: "Do the Sunday Blue Laws ave a Scriptural Basis? Is Sunday Sabath or the Lord's Day of the New Testaent?" The program for the balance of e week follows:

Tuesday, "The Origin and the History of the Sunday Laws. When, Where and By Whom Was the Sabbath Changed?" Wednesday, "What Are the Limits of Civil Powers and the Rights of Conscience?" Thursday, "Shall the Church Dictate the Legislation in This Country?" Friday, "What Is the 'Mark of the Beast'?" Sunday, "Why Am I a Seventh Day Adventist?"

The annexation party expects to bring Wilkinsburg into the city under the provisions of the Greater Pittsburgh bill. Under the law the petition must be signed by 20 per cent of the qualified voters of the borough. It then goes to court, and the mayor is notified that such a petition has been filed. Within three months councils must take action, either favoring or disapproving the proposition to receive the borough into the city. If this action is favorable, the court fixes the date for a hearing, and if the petition passes, an election is ordered in the borough.

Mayor Met the Committee.

Mayor Hays said yesterday that a committee of Wilkinsburg citizens had conferred with him on the proposition, and that he had explained his attitude and directed them to circulate a petition as a preliminary measure.

The detectives employed by the committee of five to ferret out those who worked on Sunday will make their informations before Justice J. J. Walker today. Justice Walker said last night that he expected about 60 informations to be made against street car men, icemen and others who violated the blue laws.

In Wilkinsburg council last night the committee of twelve was referred to in a very sarcastic manner. When one of the members arose to inquire whether or not beer agents had paid their license for the present fiscal year to operate wagons in Wilkinsburg, the acting chairman, Samuel Steel, said he was unaware that any beer was delivered in Wilkinsburg.

To this Samuel Thompson replied that it was a matter which had been apparently overlooked by the committee of twelve, and suggested that it be referred to them, but this was not done.

Y. M. C. A. MAN QUIETLY MARRIED AVALON GIRL

Eugene A. Case.

Eugene A. Case, physical director of the Young Men's Christian association, was quietly married one day last week, and the news has just reached here that he and his bride are spending their honeymoon at Ocean City, Md. Mrs. Case formerly was Miss Mary Ames of Avalon. They will be at home in Pittsburgh early in September.

Death of James Little.

James Little, 85 years old, for many years a contracting carpenter in Pittsburgh, and a well-known property owner in the Hill district, died last night at his home, No. 1547 Wylie avenue, after an illness of two years of ailments due to old age. Mr. Little was born in County Derry, Ireland, and came to Pittsburgh 64 years ago, during the entire time residing in the Eighth and Eleventh wards. He retired from active business life about 20 years ago. Mr. Little was a member and elder in the old Fifth United Presbyterian church, which formerly stood at Washington street and Webster avenue, for many years. When the Fifth church and the Third church united Mr. Little continued as a member of the church session. Mr. Little's family have all lived to an advanced age. His father, who died six years ago in Ireland, was 14 years old at the time of his death. Mr. Little is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. . Watson and Mrs. C. F. Hamm, and three ons, Charles J., David J. and Samuel B. ittle, all of Pittsburgh.

Refused the Application.

LOOKS GOOD ON THE NORTH SIDE

Allegheny City Republican Committee Reports Bright Prospects for Victory.

HEADQUARTERS OPEN TODAY

Members from Twelve Wards Say the Party Is Rapidly Gaining in Strength and Citizens Are Losing—Shrievalty Candidate to Be Named Next Week.

The Allegheny city executive committee of the Republican party met last night at the call of Chairman Francis J. Torrance. Mr. Torrance presided, and in the absence of E. L. Braun, John L. Henderson, vice chairman of the organization, was secretary.

The meeting was called primarily for the discussion of possible candidates to run on the Republican ticket this fall, but as there was not a full attendance Chairman Torrance declined to have this question brought up officially. Another meeting will be held within a week at which this subject will be discussed and the choice of the Allegheny Republicans for sheriff named.

The committee on headquarters, of which Dr. James W. Dickson is chairman, was instructed to open the Republican headquarters today. The lease for the house at No. 808 East Diamond street has been signed by Chairman Torrance and Treasurer Charles F. Kirschler. During the past week the house has been furnished and at 10 o'clock this morning will be thrown open. Secretary E. L. Braun of the Republican city committee will be in active charge.

Members from 12 wards spoke briefly of the state of affairs in their districts. They reported that the Republican party had gained in strength wonderfully during the past few months, and is stronger now than before the last fall fight. The failure of Wyman and his councilmen to redeem ante-election pledges and the way in which things are being run wide open in the lower wards, has satisfied many voters that nothing was gained on the North Side by the victory of the Citizens party.

In summing up last night Chairman Torrance said the chances of a Republican victory looked good, judging from existing conditions in Allegheny.

With the opening of the new headquarters in the Diamond, politics will become more lively on the North Side and frequent meetings of the executive committee will be held. Early next week the city committee will meet and the candidate for sheriff favored by the Republicans will be named. This nominee is expected to be slated by the county committee, as it is understood that Allegheny is to get the office and that the Republicans of the North Side will be allowed to name their own man.

The Citizens party on the North Side has done nothing yet toward securing headquarters and Mayor Wyman said yesterday that he had not heard of any available sites.

Blind Man Beat His Housekeeper.

John Laban, aged 56 years, and Mary Blythe, aged 40 years, were arrested for disorderly conduct at Carson and South Fourth streets last night. Laban is a blind man, living at No. 324 Bingham street and the woman is his housekeeper. The two had a disagreement and the woman had her face badly bruised, notwithstanding the fact that the other combatant could not see where to direct his blows.

Missionaries En Route to Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hundley of Cincinnati, who are on their way to Africa to engage in mission work, will be given a farewell at the Christian and Missionary church, auxiliary No. 2, Fulton street, between Wylie and Center avenues, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Glass Factory Resumed.

Pending a decision in regard to trouble over the employment of two discharged members of the American Flint Glass Workers' union, the Phoenix Glass Company at Monaca resumed work yesterday. The factory of H. C. Fry at Rochester is still idle on account of practically the same trouble.

PILES AND ALL RECTAL DISEASES CURED IN 10 to 30 DAYS.

Rupture

I have proved with astonishing cures that My Electro-Chemic Method is the only treatment that has never failed to cure Rupture.

A truss won't cure you—the BEST it was ever known to do was to hold a rupture in place. By my method I cure Rupture without cutting, pain, danger and without interfering with your daily duties.

Throw Your Truss Away

ENTIRELY CURED OF PILES AFTER HAVING SUFFERED 15 YEARS.

I suffered constantly with the piles for 15 years, during part of which time I was unable to work. I tried salves of every kind without relief. Finally I concluded to try Dr. Geo. B. Wix's treatment, and in a remarkably short time was completely cured. I can do any kind of work and feel that I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Wix's method and his success.

Our Marked Down Clearance Sale of Fine Furniture.

We spoke at some length of this furniture sale in our advertisement of yesterday morning, and that it was read was shown by the fact that we had a number of customers who made purchases, large and small, early in the morning as 8:30. As we said before, a great many of our customers are out of the city at this time, but we still believe the number of stay-at-homes is large enough to appreciate this decided drop in furniture prices while this sale lasts. As we said in our first advertisement, we cannot agree to duplicate any of these pieces at the present prices, as they are decidedly below actual cost. More than that, the styles are the best and the goods are in first-class condition; therefore anybody who wants good furniture for little money will be interested in this great furniture sale.

Our Special August Sale in the Basement of Cotton, Pillow Cases, and Sheets and Muslins.

From a trade standpoint it looks as though this class of merchandise would certainly be sold for higher prices in the Fall owing to the increased cost of raw material. We have a large stock of these goods bought before the big advance and we propose to sell them now during this sale at lower prices than we have offered. So people who buy them now will get them at these low prices and those who delay may not be so fortunate.

President Roosevelt goes to the heart of the matter in his letter to Gov. Durbin on the growth of lawlessness when he says: "The best and immediate efforts of all legislators, judges and citizens should be addressed to securing such reforms in our legal procedure as to leave no vestige of excuse for those misguided men who undertake to reap vengeance through violent methods." An ounce of performance in that direction will accomplish more than tons of moral exhortation.

A 200-barrel well in new fourth sand territory in Butler county may discourage those sensationalists who have been trying to create the belief that an oil famine is imminent. Butler county has been pretty well drilled, but we have no doubt there is considerable oil under its broad acres even now. No doubt there is also some under Armstrong and Clarion counties, Allegheny, Washington and probably portions of Westmoreland and Fayette, not to mention neighboring states. Still good oil is worth money. Every new pool is an approach toward the last of it.

The recent decision in a London court that a South Dakota divorce, obtained after six months' residence, was "a fraud upon civilized jurisprudence," agrees with decisions in the courts of this country. The United States supreme court has held that the legal residence which South Dakota courts regard as sufficient to give them jurisdiction is not sufficient to make the divorce valid. Dakota divorces, therefore, are worthless outside of that state, and unless that state reforms its jurisprudence so as to make it respectable, the divorce mill which runs there may decline in business for lack of real value in its product.

Fusion or no fusion the Citizens party will enter the next campaign without a rag of reform left to cover its nakedness. Its sole principle is to go for the offices and incidental opportunities. It has no use for platforms or party pledges, except to fool the people and catch votes. It stands ready to bargain with any political organization on the basis of a division of the offices, and regards any other motive of political action as mere claptrap and humbug. The old claims of the Citizens party to represent the cause of reform have been so dissipated by its conduct and by the disclosure of its true character that no ground is left on which to contest the right of the regular Republican candidates to the support of all Republican voters, provided they are personally worthy. The time has passed by when party nomination gave a clear title to party support. The personal merits of candidates deserve scrutiny and will receive it.

It is announced that a clerk has been appointed in the police department so that daily reports can be furnished to the mayor and the director of public safety. It would be gratifying if something were done to let the public into some knowledge of the workings of the city government. Astonishing as the statement may seem no reports of the various municipal departments have been published since 1899. In every other city it is possible to get department reports giving statements of their operation and of the condition of affairs under their charge, but not in Pittsburgh. There is a story afloat that one of the recent reform appointees started to throw away death certificates on the ground that there was no use in keeping them, as the people were dead. While such raw work as that was checked, yet the tone of service in the municipal departments is lower now than ever before, and the records are in an extremely defective condition.

The death of the Russian consul at Monastir makes the second Russian diplomatic representative who has been assassinated in Macedonia within a few months. M. Rostkovski habitually acted upon the belief that an overbearing manner was best in dealing with Orientals, but all rules have their exceptions and his arrogant language in rebuking a Turkish gendarme, who had failed to salute him, so enraged the man that he opened fire. The affair has naturally excited great indignation in Russia and makes worse a situation already bad enough. The energetic and unscrupulous of the Bulgarian bands keep the country in a state of anarchy, and so impotent is Turkish administration that unpaid and needy soldiers are said to be selling their guns to agents of the revolutionary committees. Turkey is, however, strong enough to drown the insurrection in blood if allowed to do so, but is deterred for fear of European interference. On the other hand the European powers are unwilling to set up Macedonia as an independent state or to annex it to any other country. The pressure of events will eventually compel positive action of some kind.

Servia is experiencing a cutting boycott on account of the assassination record which has made the country infamous. Russia and Austria have decided to expel all Servian officers studying in their military schools, and Russia has forbidden her officers to have either official or social intercourse with Servian officers. The part taken by the heads of the Servian army in the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga has made the Servian uniform a badge of disgrace, and every Servian officer is made to feel that fact. The new king, too, finds his position upon the blood-stained throne as disgraceful as it is precarious. The conduct of King Alexander and Queen Draga justified revolution, and had they been bundled out of the country they would have received scant sympathy. They might have plotted against the succeeding government, and probably it was decided to kill them to avoid this risk, but nothing they could have done to hurt the new government if they had remained alive would have been so serious as the hurt done by their murder. It is doubtful whether the prestige of Servia will ever recover from the blow.

A Philadelphia Situation.

It is no disparagement of Robert von Moschzisker, the nominee of the Republican city committee of Philadelphia for judge of common pleas court No. 3 of the Philadelphia judicial district, to say that the man appointed by Gov. Pennypacker to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Henry J. McCarthy is the better man for the place. What there is in Mr. von Moschzisker of fitness for a judicial office is yet to be developed. He is young in years and young in practice of the law. George Tucker Bispham, on the contrary, is a towering figure at the bar, well rounded out, with few peers in his profession. The most remarkable thing, indeed, in connection with his appointment is not that the governor selected him, but that the governor could obtain his consent to serve on a common pleas bench even in such a county as Philadelphia. Mr. von Moschzisker may have it in him to develop into such an honor to the bar of the United States, but Mr. Bispham is full grown.

The manner of Mr. von Moschzisker's nomination was unfortunate. Not only is its political propriety questioned, but its legality is doubted, while the discourtesy to the governor in rushing through, without consulting him, a nomination for a place that must be filled in the first instance by appointment by him is apparent. Whether or not the Republican city committee had the legal right to nominate a candidate on the Republican ticket, the proprieties of the situation ought to have suggested the advisability of counseling with the governor, himself a former common pleas judge of Philadelphia, with a view to harmony of action in nomination and appointment. Instead, the Philadelphia organization adopted the unwise course of forcing a political adherent upon the governor by what looks like snap judgment, feeling sure that the man it preferred was not the man the governor would name, thereby virtually defying his excellency to override the organization's will. The governor answers this apparent defiance with Bispham, than whom none is more highly regarded in Philadelphia, a city which contains not a few great lawyers.

There is a way of honorable retreat from this awkward situation for the Philadelphia city committee in the doubt that is expressed of the legality of its course in acting for the party. It ought to resolve that doubt against itself in advance of a possible appeal to the courts and rescind its action, leaving to a body more broadly representative the duty of naming the candidate for judge. There can be little doubt in view of all the circumstances, and considering the qualifications of Mr. Bispham, that a convention unhampered in its choice would select him to be the Republican nominee. Indeed, if this is not done, the defeat of Mr. Moschzisker through a coalition of Democrats and independent Republicans is invited. Mr. Moschzisker is now first assistant district attorney of Philadelphia, which is an honorable place for one of his years and experience. It will do him no harm to wait a while for further advancement, and when it comes to him, if he pursues the proper course meanwhile, he will be all the better for having been held back.

Justice in Kentucky.

If justice miscarries in the second trial of Jett and White, now in progress at Cynthiana, Ky., it cannot be charged as the fault of Judge Osborne. Twice yesterday the judge interrupted Judge Lafferty, the fiery advocate for the defense, and reminded him there were certain limits to the license of an attorney in the abuse of private character, or reflections upon the public service. The judge had ample cause for interference, for the language of the attorney was extremely intemperate. His references to Capt. B. L. Ewen, principal witness for the prosecution, were entirely beside the cause at issue, and his contemptuous fling at the national guard was as indecent as uncalled for.

It has been a part of the tactics for the defense in this celebrated case to endeavor to intimidate witnesses, courts and juries. Capt. Ewen, under protection of the militia, gave his evidence, both at Jackson and at Cynthiana. His example encouraged other witnesses to testify at the second trial who fled from the first. The tirade of yesterday was meant to cow the jury. Obviously Judge Osborne has not been frightened and there is room to hope the jury has not been affected. Fire-eating has been abolished from the practice in many courts in this country, and it is an encouraging sign that a judge in Kentucky is found ready to put a check upon that style of oratory. It speaks ill for the defense that it has deemed it necessary to resort to expletives in conducting the case and to unbridled villification in submitting it to the jury.

Congestion of Freight.

General Superintendent W. C. Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio makes reply to the charge that Pittsburgh is discriminated against in freight matters. He denies the charge. He says the trouble is that the lake shore is lined with cars, loaded with Pittsburgh coal, awaiting vessels for trans-shipment. If the West Virginia shippers are favored in any way it is because the cars they send east are unloaded promptly so they can be sent back to the mines for more coal. The shortage of cars in this district is not an actual shortage of cars, but a delay at the other end of the line in getting cars emptied for return to this district.

Mr. Loree ought to know. He must have access to the car records and is the sort of energetic manager who would appreciate the importance of keeping posted upon car movements. Upon his statement the congestion is primarily upon Lake Erie. The vessel tonnage is inadequate, so the shipments are backed up on the railroads and the mine operators at this end are short of cars. The situation is easily understandable, for a blockade anywhere in the system is bound to recoil upon other links of the chain.

Here is a rather surprising revelation in connection with the Pittsburgh congestion problem. We have all come to suppose the sole deficiency was a lack of railroad facilities. Navigable water has been looked upon as the natural panacea, and the supposition has been general that navigable water transportation is never overtaxed. Of course everybody knew that trans-Atlantic shipments were interfered with a few years ago because there were not enough ships to carry the freights. During the strike of the French coal miners it was very difficult to charter vessels for American shipments to Mediterranean ports. Now it seems like conditions may be found upon the great lakes. Coal from Pittsburgh to the northwest and ore from the northwest for Pittsburgh are crowding the lake fleet beyond its capacity. By heroic efforts the railroads have increased their facilities so they are almost able to handle all of the vast tonnage of Pittsburgh, only to find there is a blockade elsewhere to hold them back. From all of this it begins to appear that Pittsburgh tonnage is a national problem, not a local one.

Trying to Denationalize Finland

The exile of prominent Finlanders still continues. Last week the Rev. Magnus Rosendal, principal of the lyceum at Uleaburg and a well-known writer and speaker, was ordered to quit the country. Since July 28, 18 leaders of the national party have been expelled. The Finnish cadet school has been abolished because the graduates refused to enter the Russian military service. Only 19 of 243 former Finnish battalions have accepted service with Russia. It is the deliberate policy of Russia to denationalize Finland, and the expulsions are in pursuance of the idea that if the national leaders are gotten rid of the people will submit.

The former relations between Finland and Russia were so anomalous that they could not reasonably have been expected to endure. From the Finnish point of view the two countries were politically distinct, but had the same ruler, the czar being the grand duke of Finland. Finland had its separate government, based upon representative institutions and having nothing common with the autocracy of Russia. Finland managed its fiscal affairs to suit itself and had a low tariff, while Russia has a high one. Some idea of the situation will be had if we suppose that Boston was the national capital and that the state of Maine was not subject to the national tariff laws, but made a tariff of its own on the revenue-only principle, a free movement of goods going in meanwhile between Maine and the rest of the country. Besides this Finland had its own military and civil organization and claimed complete political autonomy.

If the efforts of Russia were confined to abolishing this state of affairs and making Finland an integral part of the Russian state, its course would hardly be censured by publicists, but that might have been accomplished without interfering with Finnish local institutions, which are much more advanced than those of Russia, and might have served as a valuable example. The efforts of Russia to denationalize the country and reduce the Finns to the subject condition of other races under Russian rule are probably stimulated by the troubles which the spirit of nationality is making in other countries. Austria is torn by the rivalries of Magyrs, Croats, Czechs and Germans. There is constant friction between Norway and Sweden. The growth of Polish national spirit presents a problem to Germany with which the imperial government has so far failed to deal successfully. Russia is apparently determined that Finland shall not impair the national unity and she is prosecuting a policy of national repression with ruthless severity.

Meanwhile, the case of Switzerland shows that the difficulties caused by differences of nationality may be satisfactorily met by the federal principle of government. German, French and Italian speaking peoples live amicably together under a republican government which probably represents the highest degree of efficiency and economy yet obtained in political organization. It is like our own government in its federal and representative character, but there is a radical difference in one particular. The executive and legislative branches are separately constituted, as with us, but instead of being disconnected in their operation are closely connected. The federal council, corresponding to the president's cabinet, sits with the legislature, and acts as its organ in the preparation of the budget and in the drafting of measures of general importance.

A Bacterial Scare.

Madrid scientists are in a peck of trouble. They have been inoculating rabbits with the germs of typhus, smallpox, cholera, tetanus, hydrophobia and other deadly diseases for purposes of study. Some miscreants have stolen the rabbits. Now the scientific gentlemen are greatly perturbed, because they fear the rabbits have also been eaten and that there may be an outbreak of all these horrible maladies in the city.

Bacteriological science is unnecessarily hysterical, particularly in Madrid. The fellows who were hungry enough to steal laboratory rabbits will probably be able to digest them without serious consequences. Of the diseases named, two are infectious through the digestive organs, namely, cholera and typhus. The others are not supposed to be particularly harmful in the digestive tract. Even cholera and typhus may prove innocuous in a strong stomach with a keen appetite and healthy juices. Then again there is Dr. Robert Koch's latest theory that bovine tuberculosis is not akin to human tuberculosis, and it may be that tuberculosis baccilli injected into the rabbit will not injure the eater of the rabbit. Anti-toxin serum is obtained by repeated injections, so by what right do the Madrid bacteriologists assume that the serum by first injection is deadly?

Assuming that the worst consequences may follow the feasting on rabbit flesh in Madrid there is yet small basis for an international scare. The sporadic cases can be easily quarantined and the bacteriologists can vaccinate all of the friends of the victims to prevent the spread of the disease. And surely we are not to infer that the panic is due to the fear of the learned men that nothing will happen and that their science will thereby be discredited. If that was their worry they could just as well have refrained from advertising the mishap.

The military and naval corps de ballet of the Post asks: "What discipline, what esprit de corps can be expected in the military branch of the nation when a Miles and Schley are kicked by civilians from its ranks after standing the brunt of battle and hazarding life where bullets and cannon balls swept thick through the air?" The answer is, of course, that they weren't kicked by anybody from the military branch or any other branch. As a matter of fact, both continue in the service of the United States. The situation with regard to them is that a grateful country relieves them of work and gives them life incomes which they have well earned. Both, however, remain subject to a call to duty in case of need.

When the superintendent of police was absent from the city on a number of occasions recently the next in command was not placed in charge of the bureau, but was made temporarily subordinate to his logical subordinates. Now that the director of public safety is to enjoy a vacation, a different course is to be followed. Instead of placing the office boy or a patrolman in charge of the department, the mayor intends to take command in person. This is the better way, and indicates that even the reform administration lives to learn.

The very generally distributed tip of Miles for the Democratic vice presidential nomination speedily collided with southern disapproval of the shackling of the late Jefferson Davis by the general on a certain important occasion. And the southern sentiment that still feels hurt about that little act is a rather considerable fraction of the Democratic party.

The Hon. Richard Croker's declaration that he will never again return to the United States may be matched by a declaration that no harm would have been done to any part of this glorious country if he had reached this conclusion previous to his first appearance.

Announcements that some one is about to give the late Hearst boom for president a dose of elixir vitae or something may be taken to mean that the honeymoon period is slowly yielding to the realities of life.

National league clubs of other cities are plucking up courage to believe that there is room at the top. But in the National league race there is room at the top for only one.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Sir John Cockburn, an eminent English authority on matters medical and surgical, says that women are less nervous than men in surgical cases and are altogether better fitted than men to become doctors.

Rear Admiral George W. Melville, former chief of the bureau of steam engineering, who has retired from active duty, will make his home in Philadelphia. He has two married daughters living there, and he has always been fond of Philadelphia, visiting the city often.

The shah of Persia, who has recently been "doing" Europe, appeared quite skeptical when told that European rulers were invariably the hardest worked people in their respective kingdoms. "Ah, no, no," gravely replied his majesty, "the emperors and kings of Europe have no anxiety, no responsibility. Their majesties are only allowed one wife each!"

Charles W. Miner has been promoted from colonel of the Sixth United States infantry to brigadier general and will be retired in the near future. He assumed command at the battle of Santiago when Gen. Egbert was shot. He was in charge of the island of Negros, in the Philippines, for three years. He has been in the regular army since the civil war.

NOT UNDERSTOOD.

Not understood. We move along asunder;
Our paths grow wider as the seasons creep
Along the years; we marvel and we fall asleep
Not understood.

Not understood. We gather false impressions
And hug them closer as the years go by,
Till virtue often seems to us transgressions,
And thus men rise and fall and live and die,
Not understood.

Not understood. Poor souls with stunted vision
Oft measure giants by their narrow gauge.
The poisoned shafts of falsehood and derision
Are oft impelled 'gainst those who mold the age,
Not understood.

Not understood. The secret springs of action
Which lie beneath the surface and the show
Are disregarded; with self-satisfaction
We judge our neighbors, and they often go
Not understood.

Not understood. How many hearts are aching
For lack of sympathy! Ah, day by day
How many cheerless, lonely hearts are breaking!
How many noble spirits pass away
Not understood.

O God, that men should see a little clearer
Or judge less harshly when they cannot see!
O God, that men would draw a little nearer
To one another! They'd be nearer Thee
And understood.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

And now comes one, a product of our modern schools, no doubt, who wants to know what is meant by "the rule of three," or what it is.

It is clear he didn't do his first ciphering in "The Western Calculator," or the early editions of Ray's 'Rithmetic, or he would have known the rule of three, either single or double.

The new-fangled arithmetics must have it under some head, maybe under that of "simple proportion," or they may have found a bigger, if not a better name for it.

Anyway, the old-time country boy who only went to school about three months in the year, and that during the coldest and snowiest part of the winter, when rabbit and coon hunting was best, rarely succeeded in getting further in ciphering than the rule of three, or maybe through fractions. Now and then one with a head for figures would worry through the book before being compelled to give up school entirely, and this would entitle him to recognition as a "good scholar," if not that of a "smart feller."

* * * * *

The rule of three is that rule by which, when three numbers are given, a fourth is found having the same ratio to the third as the second has to the first, or by which the missing term of one of two equal ratios is found when the other three terms are given.

The rule of three was one of the four landmarks, as it were, in the old arithmetics. The first division ended with long division, the second included compound numbers, the third took in fractions and percentage, and the fourth the remainder of the book. To be able to figure interest was thought to be about all that a farmer needed in his business. More than that was looked upon as an accomplishment.

Later on country schools took in higher arithmetic and algebra, and they do say that at present they sometimes break into geometry.

But it can be said of the boy who studied arithmetic in the old-time country school that as much as he got he got mighty well, for he was allowed to dig it out himself, the master showing him only when he got stalled. Nor did they study in classes, but every fellow for himself, plugging along according to his capacity.

* * * * *

Things are different now, quite different, and all for the better perhaps. The people were different then, conditions different, and the demands of the times altogether different. The talent most in demand then was that which enabled a man to split the most rails, cradle the most grain and clear up the most land.

No, not to be able to drink the most whisky. While the average man could drink some, and most of them did take their bitters, particularly in harvest time, and when the weather was very cold, or very damp and chilly, there wasn't much drunkenness. Indeed, it was a far greater shame then to get drunk, and was looked upon as a far more heinous sin to be a drunkard, than it is now.

Some contend that whisky was purer and better then than now. There wasn't much else but pure rye whisky then, but not nearly so much as there is now. And while there is no doubt of there being a great deal more bum whisky, so to speak, than there was then, this will not account for the increase in drunkenness.

"Like father, like son," is a rule that must be taken into account when figuring on this problem. As the man became more efficient in mathematics, so did he in other things, drinking whisky not excepted.

* * *

In fact, it was the ambition of nearly every boy to excel his father, not only in arithmetic, but in everything. That he succeeded is shown by the wonderful advances that have been made since then, all of which is due to the son rising superior to the father. If the traits of the father were commendable, well and good; if not, so much the worse for the boy. All of the old-time fathers were not heavily burdened with good traits—not by a long shot. Hence the various conditions of the men of today.

* * *

That dipsomania, or the liquor habit, is a symptom of a disordered or diseased condition of the organs of appetite and taste there can hardly be a doubt. At very least the abnormal, or depraved appetite is due to the diseased conditions of these organs, or parts. And in most instances the child is born with a tendency to any particular disease or disorder belonging to its parents.

Children, as you may know, do not inherit diseases from their parents, but they may and do inherit physical defects and tendencies which lead to and facilitate the development of these diseases under favorable conditions.

From this it is easy to understand why men and women are afflicted with consumption, dipsomania and other destructive disorders. The organs of taste and of appetite not being normal they have no natural or nomal desire for food; and not having this, the digestive system gets no cue and at best acts perfunctory, so that digestion is imperfect, and the organs of assimilation, which act in harmony with the digestive organs, do their work imperfectly. This simply amounts to starvation, and the individual has to be largely supported by the food elements already stored up in his body. Thus he literally consumes himself, hence the name consumption.

With normal sense of hunger and of taste there is but little danger of bad digestion, bad assimilation or bad elimination.

The nerves of taste and of hunger are located in the mouth, fauces and throat, and whatsoever acts injuriously upon them must necessarily pervert their functions, obtund their sense or cause them to become diseased.

You know that moral sense may become perverted by being subjected to abnormal conditions. Just so may the physical senses become deranged.

Until the people are made to understand these simple facts, both as to moral and physical health, they are bound to be plagued with harassing, loathsome disease.

It is most important, therefore, that young people marry well, avoiding all extremes of age, race, moral and social conditions; and particularly avoiding families with a history of some well-defined physical or moral defect or disorder.

* * *

But how about the country boys coming to the city for wives?

It is all right for the dandy sort, but it doesn't seem to be the correct thing for the boy who plows and hoes, and reaps and sows, and does things on the farm. He needs a helpmeet, not a help-eat.

Of what use would a city girl be on a farm who imagines that butterflies make butter, and that milk is obtained from milkweed? Any old cow could scare her half to death, and would if she didn't scare the cow first. No self-respecting cow would allow a city milkmaid to come closer than safe and sure kicking distance, for the city girl's idea of a milkmaid is something a cow never sees, for cows don't go to the theaters, nor do they read novels.

And, then, just think of a farmer's wife lying in bed until the sun is up above the treetop, and not going to bed until nearly midnight. Why, she would be the talk of the neighborhood, and her husband would be marked for sure failure.

Country girls are, probably, much better qualified to become city wives than city girls are to become country wives, because their education and training has so developed their skill in adapting themselves to various conditions that they can readily fall into city ways, and yet preserve in a large measure their good country qualities.

Value of the Maneuvers.

Civilians are apt to regard the naval and joint maneuvers of the army and navy along our coast as elaborate and rather expensive comedies. For those actively engaged therein, however, these war games are no jokes. In every other respect than in the absence of bodily peril they have all the characteristics of actual warfare. The strenuous rivalry is there, and the strain of constant alertness, just as if the participants were really enemies. It is unfortunate that the coming maneuvers will not be joint in fact, that is to say, between detachments of the army and navy operating in combination against other detachments of both services. The co-operation of both would be needed to defend our coasts against a real foe, and co-operation cannot be learned by opposing a purely military defense to a purely naval attack.—Philadelphia Record.

America Cannot Pose.

Right and law will prevail in the end, and unless current signs fail this passing orgy of riot and lynching is going to be brought to a close in short and summary fashion in the near future. But the evil has evidently gone so far already that our attempt to pose as the special champions of law and humanity is met with jeers and derision the civilized world over.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Excitement not of altogether a pleasurable description has prevailed in that part of Brooklyn known as Long Island City, while malodorous Hunters Point also has been in the zone of agitation. It is just a street railway strike. Brooklyn has had so many of these disturbances, including the serious one in the winter of 1894-95, that it takes comparatively little notice of an outbreak of that kind now. The men who deserted their posts yesterday were extras, but it does not seem as if the regular conductors and motormen would take a hand in the fight. They have not done so yet and cars have been running pretty well on schedule time. Policemen have been on duty watching the tracks and cars to see that no violence was attempted by the disgruntled men, and these policemen are more disgusted with the strike than any other class. It is always possible that a strike may grow worse as time passes, and the railway company is preparing itself for anything that may come up in this line. The strike is said to have resulted from the refusal of the company to reinstate three extra men who had been dismissed for incompetency. It is true that one can always find several sides to a strike difficulty, and the extras may have another explanation than that given from the company's offices.

Greene Is Back at Work.

Police Commissioner Greene found plenty of work before him when he returned today from his vacation in the northwest. He had the governor of the state for his companion while away. When he appeared at headquarters this morning and had run the gauntlet of the policemen who saluted him every few steps on his way to his office, he settled down to business. He found that he had to arrange for the appointment of 350 patrolmen, and then to see about having plans prepared for a new headquarters building. The commissioner looked extremely fit and he tackled his work with the vigor of a man whose vacation had done him good. About annoying matters such as the asphalt pavements in New York he had nothing to say. You cannot catch Greene unawares even when he feels good after a holiday.

Dogs Go Unmuzzled.

Barks and yelps of satisfaction sound up and down Manhattan. The dog-muzzling ordinance seems to have become a dead letter. Passed two months ago, no official attempt has been made to enforce it, and dogs go about just as they please with no one to interfere so long as they do not bite.

Grievance of a Song Writer.

"Do you suppose an unknown song writer has any chance with musical publishers in New York?" said a wise Broadwayite to me, plunging straight into his grievance, tonight. "Well, he has not. You see a big hit like 'Hiawatha' or 'The Pittsburgh Gazette March,' and you may think that it is easy for a man with the faculty for turning out catchy melodies wedded to good words or without words, as in the two hits I have mentioned. Let me tell you how it is. Mind, I do not say all publishing houses follow the system I am about to describe, but I know that some of them do. You send them a song, and it is turned over to their corps of writers, all pretty smart fellows. They read the words and try the air of your song, and one of them says, 'Here's something pretty good in this thing.' Then he snatches it out, copies it, and works it into another song as his own. You get your manuscript back, with the information that it will not do. You are unknown, you see, and the music business in New York is a close corporation. If your song is impossible, you get a pleasant letter from the firm, saying that if you will send $40, to cover the cost of the plates, they will be pleased to push your effort, and send you 250 copies. Perhaps you send the $40. In course of time you receive your 250 copies, together with an assurance that the firm will push the song. That is all you hear about it. The printing of the 250 copies, with perhaps a few more to put on the shelves of the firm, has cost about $9, giving the concern a profit of $31. Oh, it is a great game. Some of the publishers do not follow these tactics, and others may not do it exactly as I describe, but I am giving my own actual experience with one firm."

The Tammany Candidate.

Tammany seems to be uncertain as to its intentions in the coming municipal campaign. In this it is in marked contrast to the sentiments of "Big Bill" Devery. That picturesque statesman knows that he is a candidate, and he never will allow anyone else to overlook the fact. The latest is that Morgan J. O'Brien, justice of the supreme court, may have the Democratic nomination if he wants it. Charles F. Murphy will go to Saratoga this week to talk the matter over with the coterie of politicians.

Monkey-Faced Owl Wakes Up.

A great relief has come to the visitors to the menagerie at Central park as well as to the keepers. There is a monkey-faced owl in the collection whose name is Sandford. The owl sleeps for a week or two at times and the rest seems to do him good. He had been sleeping rather longer than usual up till today, and it was feared that he might be in a trance. Joy has come to everyone now, however. Sandford opened his eyes one by one this morning and then set to eat a hearty breakfast. His many admirers are delighted to know that he is all right.

Change of Bill at Manhattan Beach.

There is a change of bill at Manhattan Beach theater tonight. "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" has taken the place of "A Chinese Honeymoon." The fact has created something of a sensation along Broadway, where the doings of musical comedy are as important as a flurry in Wall street.

Avoids Surgical Operation.

Carbolic acid was swallowed by an East Side woman, the incentive to suicide having been a peculiar one. She was about to undergo an operation at a hospital and was afraid that it would kill her. To put the result beyond peradventure she swallowed a cup of cold poison, and the operation will be unnecessary.

Political Drift

"Within a year from the present time both political parties will have held their national conventions and made their nominations for president and vice president," says the Indianapolis Journal (Rep.). "Usually at this stage of the proceeding there is evident a good deal of combination and wire-pulling on both sides to secure the respective nominations. The present situation shows an abundance of this on one side and little or none on the other. Our friends, the enemy, are all at sea in regard to candidates as well as issues, while the Republicans are taking it quite easy in a sort of calm serenity as to both. Their confidence is well based on President Roosevelt's administration and his personal popularity."

+ \+ \+ \+

Mississippi is yet unreconstructed as seen by the New York Evening Post (Ind.), which says: "Mississippi's answer to President Roosevelt's assertion of the national supremacy at Indianola, is the election as governor and senator, respectively, of two men who stand for the denial of education and opportunity to the negro. Senator Money, who triumphed in the primaries over his more liberal-minded rival, Gov. Longino, put the race question to the front in all his speeches. It will be remembered that, in open senate, he declared that 'if every colored man in the south had been graduated from the finest university in Europe or America, he would not be fit for the obligations or duties of American citizenship.' This is the man whom Mississippi delights to honor. And for governor, the state has chosen a candidate who advocates a division of the school fund between the races on the basis of taxes paid by each."

+ \+ \+ \+

"The rapidly growing demand for Gov. Durbin to take the second place on the ticket with Roosevelt meets the general approval of Republican politicians," says the Indianapolis Sentinel (Dem.). "An arrangement of this kind would bring all the state institutions into line for Roosevelt and also for the re-election of Senator Beveridge. There is no doubt expressed by any one as to Gov. Durbin's ability for the position."

+ \+ \+ \+

Referring to the appointment of George Tucker Bispham to the common pleas court in Philadelphia, the Press (Rep.) of that city says: "What will follow? That depends. Perhaps nothing. Perhaps much. Judge Bispham will wear the ermine till January and gain a title for life. That may be all. But conditions may be imagined which would give the chapter a more interesting turn. Will Judge Bispham be a candidate for election? Will the Democratic convention be molded for him or against him? If the plausible and clever Mr. Donnelly should fail in his statesmanlike work of attaching the Democratic organization as a tail to the Republican organization's kite, if Judge Bispham should be a candidate and happen to receive a Democratic indorsement, would there be any independent Republican movement in his favor?"

+ \+ \+ \+

Congressman Bankhead's selection of Senator Gorman for president does not please the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser (Dem.), which says: "This will save all the rest of the party in Alabama a lot of trouble in the next year, and, of course, the bulk of Alabama Democrats will appreciate his thoughtfulness in taking the task of selecting a candidate off their hands. And, then, he is such a knowing man. He has even found out that Senator Gorman is the only candidate that can beat Roosevelt in New York. He even intimates that Wall street is for him. However, that is not new; the trusts and Mr. Gorman were mighty good friends when the Wilson tariff bill was emasculated in the senate by Democrats. Maybe Mr. Bankhead carries Alabama in his vest pocket, and can let Mr. Gorman have the delegation next year, and maybe the rest of the party will have a word to say on the subject. Time will tell."

+ \+ \+ \+

"Reports from Washington are to the effect that the Democrats are going to make the race problem a factor in politics and will press it in those northern sections where a spirit of hostility to the negro has manifested itself," says the Buffalo Express (Rep.). "This determination is declared in the face of the wise assertion of Senator Gorman that the negro question has no place in politics, that it is a sociological question and as such must be finally settled. The only object which those Democrats who talk of making it a political issue have in view is to gain a few votes. They care nothing for the negro. Great questions are usually placed on that low plane by that party. But any attempt in this direction will be quite apt to recoil upon the party making it. Politically, the race issue would become a two-edged sword which might injure those who wielded it far more than those against whom it is directed. The principle of law and order is not a political one and should never be considered."

+ \+ \+ \+

"Within 12 months it has become plainer than ever that there can be no reconciliation between the Cleveland and Bryan elements of the party," says the St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.). "The reorganizers may control the next convention, but they will never be able to placate the Bryan Democrats, whose support, in that case, will be 'very still.' Judge Parker disappointed the Georgians on his recent visit. Of course, he would get Georgia's electoral vote if nominated, but the southerners he met on his journey regard him as a frosty sort of personality. Gorman is a smooth machine politician. The people of the United States have no confidence in him, nor has Maryland, outside of his own political circle. Democratic plans for 1904 are chaotic. In no respect can results be foreseen or estimated. Democratic weather has thickened since last year, and that is all that can be said as to the party outlook."

An Unwarranted Criticism.

Because Secretary Root did not include some commendation in the order for the retirement of Gen. Miles, there has been some foolish criticism of his course, says the Philadelphia Press. But the secretary could not have done otherwise without a violation of orders. When Gen. Schofield was retired in 1895 such a commendatory order was issued by Secretary Lamont, but it aroused so much criticism that President Cleveland issued an order, still properly in force, to the effect that no other language should be used on the retirement of an officer than that necessary to make the formal announcement. It will be a good thing for the nation when the trouble caused by designating an officer commanding general, without any such authority comes to an end, as it will at the close of this week. The president is commander-in-chief by authority of the Constitution, and only by changing that instrument could the power be transferred to any one else. Lieut. Gen. S. B. M. Young, who succeeded Gen. Miles, will only hold the office until next Saturday, when he becomes chief of staff, and the misnamed office of commanding general will cease to exist. Gen. Miles opposed that change, but congress and the president overruled him. The law providing a general staff will take effect on the 15th, and there is every reason to believe that it will lead to beneficial results. Secretary Root is entitled to the credit for this change.

GREAT MERGER GOES THROUGH

ELECTION OF NEW OFFICERS

T. Hart Given President—Board of Directors Composed of 37 Representative Local Financiers—Capital Stock Increased—Mammoth Projects for Future

After several postponements the stockholders of the Colonial Trust Company yesterday afternoon ratified the merger deal, voted to increase the capital stock to $4,000,000, to allow the absorption of the American Trust Company, and elected a board of directors of 37 men who will direct the $75,000,000 institutions.

Officers of the new Colonial Trust Company were elected as follows: T. Hart Given, president, now president of the Farmers' Deposit National bank; J. C. Chaplin, vice president, now occuping the same position with the Colonial Trust; Homer C. Stuart, treasurer, formerly secretary of the same company; J. A. Irwin, secretary, formerly secretary-treasurer of the American Trust. The board of directors, as follows, is made up of directors of the American Trust and Farmers' bank: T. Hart Given, J. C. Chaplin, Joshua Rhodes, J. D. Callery, J. W. Donnan, J. D. Nicholson, A. E. Succop, John C. Reilly, W. H. Latshaw, John Walker, Hay Walker, Jr.; J. A. Bell, Charles Donnelly, W. R. Woodford, F. A. Kingsley, W. W. Blackburn, J. W. Friend, J. W. Brown, J. W. Rhodes, J. R. Leonard, W. B. Rodgers, D. C. Noble, D. M. Clemson, Herbert Du Puy, F. A. Griffin, W. D. Humphries and J. G. Bennett.

A second increase of stock will shortly be made to absorb the Farmers bank, completing the gigantic undertaking of merging several of the strongest trust and banking institutions in Pennsylvania into a corporation with assets of nearly $75,000,000. The increase made yesterday was for the purpose of taking over the American Trust Company. Of the $4,000,000 capital stock, 20,000 shares will be exchanged for the present stock of the Colonial Trust and 20,000 for the 23,000 shares of stock issued by the American Trust. The American Trust, which is a recent consolidation, is made up of the Pennsylvania Trust Company and the Tradesmens National bank, both now in the process of liquidation; the Columbia National bank and the Germania Savings bank. The Colonial, before absorbing the American, owned the Colonial National bank and practically all the shares of the Freehold National bank.

The election of T. Hart Given as president of the Colonial Trust Company was by agreement. At the time of the announcement of the absorption of the Farmers' Deposit National bank it was stated by officials of the Colonial Trust that Mr. Given would become the head of the new company. The board, which will be the largest in the city, has representatives of all the merged companies, and it was elected with this view.

PERSONALS

So frequent have applications for membership in the Traffic club of Pittsburgh become that the association at a regular bi-monthly meeting last night at the Hotel Henry decided unanimously to change the by-laws so as to admit nearly 20 new members. The club was formed a little over a year ago and the membership was limited to 100. At the first meeting there were 100 and more members, although, of course, only the specified number was admitted. The club is composed almost entirely of freight traffic officials of home and foreign lines and although its existence has been brief, its influence has been felt. Since the change of by-laws it is expected that the waiting list will be attended to at once. It will take some time for the club to recover from its defeat at the hands of the baseball nine of the Transportation club of Cleveland last Saturday at Friendship park. The score will probably be rubbed out, however, when the Traffic club plays the Cleveland railroaders in their home town, some time in September.

"Ten years ago," said S. Newmark, a manufacturer of corsets, of New York, at Union station last night, "over 75 per cent of the corsets used in this country came from Europe. Now the reverse is the case. The company with which I am connected has just put in operation a model plant at Portsmouth, England, and we are teaching the Europeans a thing or two."

The Rev. George E. Hawes, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Braddock, returned home yesterday from Mercy hospital, where he had been confined for some time suffering from an affection of the bone in his right ankle. He expects to occupy his pulpit next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Hawes was operated on early in June for necrosis and several pieces of bone were taken from his leg.

The Rev. Archibald T. Campbell of No. 726 North Euclid avenue, in charge of the Rowan Avenue Christian church, East End, preached twice on Sunday at the Franklin Avenue Church of Christ at Columbus, and last night the congregation of that church voted to extend a call to Mr. Campbell. The expectation is that he will accept the call.

A cablegram has been received from J. B. Griggs, secretary of the local Young Men's Christian association. He, with Robert A. Orr of the firm of Robinson & Orr, left last week for a trip through France and Switzerland. The message was sent from Cherbourg, France.

To date the joint agency of the Pittsburgh railroads, at No. 225 Fourth avenue, has handled and validated 3,000 tickets on account of the convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union in this city. The agency will be open until August 31.

A. E. Hitchcock of London, Eng., is at the Duquesne.

J. A. Chambers, president of the American Window Glass Company, went to Indianapolis last night.

The Pennsylvania railroad will run their fourth seashore excursion to Atlantic City, Sea Isle City, Cape May, Anglesea, Wildwood, Ocean City, etc., on Thursday, August 13, 1903.

Special train of Day coaches and Pullman parlor cars will leave Union station at 8:55 a. m. Rate ten dollars for round trip in coaches, or twelve dollars in parlor and sleeping cars, when accompanied by usual Pullman tickets. Evening trains leave at 4:50 and 9 o'clock, with coaches and sleeping cars to Philadelphia, and at 10 p. m., with sleeping cars through to Atlantic City without change.

FIXING RESPONSIBILITY FOR DEADLY TOY PISTOL

Father of Little Victim Sues for Damages from Storekeeper Who Sold Weapons—Many Deaths in County from Similar Causes.

Responsibility for the deadly toy pistol is to be fixed by a damage suit entered yesterday in common pleac court No. 1. John N. Innes of Victor street, Allegheny, asks $5,000 from the storekeeper who sold the fatal weapon to his son, W. J. Innes, 9 years old.

Innes alleges that his boy on July 4 last purchased a toy pistol from the defendant, John Lucht, who keeps a store at No. 415 Brighton road, Allegheny. It is asserted that the pistol was defective, and when it was discharged the cap flew in all directions. One piece struck the boy on the hand, wounding it, and from this he contracted lockjaw, dying nine days later, on July 13.

So many deaths due to the use of toy pistols, firecrackers and other noise-producers on Decoration and Independence days have occurred in this country this year, that the suit will be watched eagerly. The outcome is of great interest to both manufacturers and dealers in these goods as well as to the relatives of the victims. If the plaintiff is awarded damages, many similar suits will follow in all parts of the country.

In Allegheny county alone Coroner McGeary has recorded on his books the names of 21 victims in about six weeks, in addition to that of Young Innes. The names of the others are:

BERT SHAKESPEARE, 10 years old, Millvale, died June 4.

ADAM SENERT, 11 years old, Braddock, died June 6.

M. A. CARMODY, 7 years old, No. 248 Forty-fourth street, died June 8.

JOSEPH NICO, 17 years old, Heidelberg, died June 9.

JOHN PEMDEL, Millvale, died June 18.

JOHN A. WILEY, 13 years old, No. 6372 Shakespeare street, died July 10.

JOHN A. MILLER, Carnegie, died July 10.

MRS. ADA BICKERSTAFF, 38 years old, died July 11.

GERALD WHITE, 15 years old, Duquesne, died July 12.

M'TIGHE TIRED OF CRITICISM

Denies That He Has a Nephew Running a Speakeasy in Wylie Avenue.

PLACE WILL BE CLOSED TODAY

Superintendent Says It's a Joke to Run a Police Department, but He Should Not Be Held Responsible While He Is Eating or Sleeping.

Superintendent of Police McTighe was indignant last night when asked if his nephew, Thomas Newcomer, was proprietor of a speakeasy at No. 525 Wylie avenue. The police official said the place was conducted by Sadie McGinley and had been closed a number of times by his officers. Supt. McTighe said he had a number of plain clothes men detailed to watch this place Sunday and try to secure entrance, but they were unable to do so, although it is reported over 100 men frequented the place during that day. The house will be closed this morning and the proprietor will be arrested.

"I am sick and tired of these relations stories," said the police official. "I don't know any nephew by the name of Tom Newcomer. Sadie McGinley has been conducting that place for some time. I have closed her up six times since I have been in office. Sunday I detailed a number of men to watch the place and try to get evidence against her. What the men were doing I don't know. I understand 100 men visited the place Sunday. They got in, and I cannot tell why my officers failed to do so.

"However, I will close the place up today. Why, this world is a joke in my mind, and as far as running a police department, that is a bigger joke. There's nothing to it. Pittsburgh is getting the best government it ever had, but the newspapers don't seem to recognize it.

"They seem to think that Johnny McTighe is responsible for everything. There are some hours during the day when Johnny is a plain citizen. I certainly must be allowed to sleep and eat. When I am home for supper I am not responsible for officers fighting in the police station. If anything happens about the city when I am at home at noon or asleep at night, the cry is: 'It was Johnny McTighe's fault!' Now, I don't need this job. I have all the money I want in the world. I don't have to work. I know the grafters don't like me and I don't like the grafters, and while I am superintendent of police I am going to be boss. Now that's all there is to it—I am going to be boss.

"Now they are talking about my friend F. W. Newberry visiting me in my office. They say he is running my department. Others say that he is my chief advisor. Why, Newberry and I are like brothers and have been for years. And I want to say that Newberry will come to my office as much as he likes. He is a companion of mine and has a right to come here."

DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Adeline Wilkins.

Mrs. Adeline Wilkins, who shot and killed her husband, Maj. William Denny Wilkins, in their apartments in Federal street, Allegheny, while struggling for possession of a revolver on the morning of September 10 last, died of tumor of the throat at the home of her sister, Mrs. Emma Sullivan, in Altoona, Pa., yesterday morning. At her trial Mrs. Wilkins pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter, claiming that the shot was an accidental one and fired while she was under the influence of morphia. Sentence was suspended and Mrs. Wilkins was given in charge of relatives on her promise that she would abstain from the use of morphia. Maj. Wilkins was well known in Pittsburgh as an expert accountant and a member of one of Pennsylvania's most prominent families. Mrs. Wilkins was a native of Summerhill, Cambria county, Pa., where she was born 38 years ago. She was well known in Altoona society and lived in that city till her marriage to Maj. Wilkins, 13 years ago, when she came to Pittsburgh to live. She is survived by four brothers and four sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. J. K. Orevost of Wilkinsburg.

HORSE FELL DOWN MOUNTAIN, KILLING ALTOONA CITIZEN

ALTOONA, PA., Aug. 10.—John Halton, a prominent Altoona coal dealer and contractor, drove to Dean Station, Cambria county, today to buy curbing stone. On the way home this evening his horse lost the road in the neighborhood of Wopsononock and fell over the mountain side. Mr. Halton was instantly killed. He leaves a widow, son and daughter.

Officer and Negro Wounded.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Two constables and three policemen joined today in the chase of a negro who had held up a hotel clerk. When the officers approached the negro, Andrew Crawford, he emptied his revolver before he was brought down by a shot fired by Special Officer A. G. Davis. The negro had placed his revolver against Constable Perry Nolan's side and fired, but Nolan shoved the revolver away and the ball passed through his foot. Davis shot Crawford in the spine. He may die.

CATARRH DESTROYS THE KIDNEYS

Many Persons Have Catarrh and Don't Know It.

JAMES M. POWELL.

Mr. James M. Powell, 633 Troost street, Kansas City, Mo., Vice Grand of I. O. O. F. of Cherryville, Kan., writes:

"About four years ago I suffered with a severe catarrh of the bladder, which caused continued irritation and pain. I was miserable and could not stand up or walk for any length of time without extreme weariness and pain. I began taking Peruna and it greatly relieved me, and in eleven weeks I was completely cured and felt like a new man."—James M. Powell.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain.

Mr. Cyrus Hershman, Sheridan, Ind., writes:

"Two years ago I was a sick man. Catarrh had settled in the pelvic organs, making life a burden and giving me little hope of recovery. I spent hundreds of dollars in medicine which did me no good. I was persuaded by a friend to try Peruna. I took it two weeks without much improvement, but I kept on with it and soon began to get well and strong very fast. Within two months I was cured, and have been well ever since. I am a strong advocate of Peruna."—C. Hershman.

Peruna cures catarrh of the kidneys, liver and other pelvic organs, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. No other systemic catarrh remedy has yet been devised. Insist upon having Peruna. There are no medicines that can be substituted.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice, gratis.

draperies to order

Exclusive decorators insist upon "period" decorations—stiff, formal, painfully correct—elegant but uninviting—giving your rooms more the air of an institution than a home.

We believe that a home should reflect the individuality of its occupants, therefore devote our efforts to carrying out your ideas and intentions to the letter.

We have a large corps of perfectly competent people doing this work—competent to do anything anybody wants in the line of Interior Decoration—and willing to do it the way you want it done.

Sketches and estimates submitted.

Our representative will call at any time you state.

TALUMPERT WAS GIVEN A SURPRISE

Applied for a Divorce and Learned He Had Been Divorced for 10 Years.

FORMER WIFE HAD THE LAUGH

South Side Man Was Slow in Learning That He Had Been a Single Man for a Long, Long Time—Proceedings to Be Discontinued.

Ignorant of the fact that by the law's decree he had been a single man for 10 years, and still believing that the woman he married in his youth still claimed him as husband, Tobias Treumpert, a well-known German of the South Side, filed a libel in divorce against Henrietta Treumpert, engaging Attorneys Schoyer & Hunter to prosecute his suit. A petition will be presented in court for a discontinuance of the action as soon as the court opens for business.

The attorneys for Treumpert took his sworn statement of the facts, alleging desertion in 1876, and asked the sheriff to serve the papers on the respondent, who has resided for several years on Mt. Washington. Every preparation was made for a bitter fight, as Treumpert, who is well fixed and owns property, did not want the woman whom he believed to be his wife to share in his estate after he was dead.

The deputy sheriff who took the papers attempted to serve them on Mrs. Treumpert. When he made known the contents she laughed and said she did not know why she should accept service, as she had procured a divorce from Treumpert in Greensburg in 1892. Her attorneys were Williams, Sloan & Griffiths, the latter now a member of the firm of Lyon, McKee & Mitchell. Register George Stengel is said to have represented Treumpert at the time.

The attorneys stated that Treumpert had been served with the papers in the suit and had even attended some of the hearings, but he did not understand that his wife had been granted a divorce.

His present attorneys secured a copy of the decree from Westmoreland county and Treumpert seemed to be glad that he had been single all these years, but he left the office of his attorneys without offering any explanation as to why he did not know his wife had secured a divorce.

INSANE MAN TERRORIZES WASHINGTON COUNTY TOWN

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—With his face blackened with stove polish and his hat filled with twigs of trees, Daniel Bugnar terrorized the little town of McGovern, yesterday. Armed with a revolver and shotgun, Bugnar ran down the streets and practically drove the women population out of the village by his appearance and hideous cries. Deputy Sheriff Samuel J. Howe overpowered Bugnar.

TREATS HIS MONKEY LIKE A HUMAN BEING

Alfred Tiorelli, an Italian organ grinder, believes that monkeys are almost human. When his "monk" misbehaves Tiorelli tries to mend his morals by giving it a sound thrashing. He was arrested on Webster avenue yesterday afternoon while enforcing discipline. The police say that Tiorelli was recently fined $15 and costs for the same offense.

Nebraska's Water Platform.

LINCOLN, NEB. Aug. 10.—Nebraska Prohibitionists today nominated for associate justice of the supreme court George I. Wright, for regents of the university, C. A. Barker of Lancaster and R. V. Muir of Nemaha county. The resolutions, in addition to calling for the suppression of the liquor traffic, declare for woman suffrage, public ownership of public utilities and election of president, vice president and United States senators by direct vote.

FIREMEN ASSEMBLING FOR THEIR CONVENTION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 10.—With each train that arrived in Latrobe today there was an addition to the delegations of fire fighters and their friends already here awaiting the opening of the convention of the firemen of Western Pennsylvania. Tomorrow morning a business meeting of the delegates and the local executive committee will be held. A large, merry crowd already throngs the streets.

An impromptu parade of the Connellsville fire laddies was held near their headquarters today, and attracted much attention.

The people of Latrobe have turned the town over to the visitors and nothing has been left undone to add to their pleasure and comfort and make them feel at home. An informal reception was held at the headquarters of the Jeannette and Connellsville fire departments this evening.

The Wilmerding, New Kensington and Greensburg delegates arrived in a body this evening. A feature of the Greensburg delegation is Gardiner's band, a new organization composed of the best talent of that town. Snell's Bradenville band will furnish music for the Jeannette contingent.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER; EVIDENCE OF MURDER

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—This afternoon the body of William Tetweller, aged 30, was found on a log in the Mahoning river. His skull was fractured and the body bore other evidences of foul play. His pockets were turned inside out and the coroner pronounced it a case of murder. Saturday he appeared in police court against two negroes who were charged with breaking into the trunks of people with whom they boarded.

PASTOR CALLED SHERIFF TO QUELL CHURCH RIOT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The Rev. Father Pawlowski, pastor of the new Polish Catholic church here, was forced to call upon Sheriff Brown last night for protection from a mob of Polish and Slavish residents, who threatened his life. The Rev. Mr. Pawlowski came here several months ago from Pittsburgh and organized a congregation among the Poles, who had no regular place of worship previous to that time.

He began collecting funds for a building, which is in course of erection. The congregation has been divided into two factions over the arrangement of the interior.

Sunday afternoon, after Father Pawlowski had blessed the new bells, which are not yet erected, the faction hostile to him made demands for the remodeling of certain features of the church. When these were not at once granted they became violent. Constable Lineus Perkins of Union township was called, but finally the disturbers got beyond his control and Sheriff Brown was summoned. The trouble was also instigated in some part by Slavish residents who are not pleased with the Poles having an exclusively Polish church.

KAUFMANN'S
"THE BIG STORE"

Laces and embroideries

ALL importations and all remaining lines of summer goods must be hurried out. Our entire stock has been overhauled and great quantities of odd widths, short lengths and discontinued patterns all at about half.

All kinds of laces, including Platte Val, pointe de Paris, Venise, Chantilly, Cluny, Torchon and Medici; also embroidery edgings, insertions and flouncings; at about half original prices, choice, yard. 2c, 5c, 10c & 15c

All hats must go

WE have gone through our entire stock—culled, sorted and grouped all straw hats.

Commencing today and until all straw hats are sold you are privileged to select any hat in our entire stock—no matter what the former price, $3, $2.50, $4 or $5, including all Mackinaw, Sennit, Shansi and other braids, in all styles and shapes—just pick out the hat that suits your fancy and it's your for only 1.00

Women's shirtwaist suits

1.39 for women's shirtwaist suits; reduced from $3, $4 and $5. No reason at all why the price should be $3.50 instead of $5, except that it's clearing time for us.

These suits are made from lawns, dimities, linens and other stylish summer fabrics in white and colors; new and stylish effects, prettily tucked and pleated; good wide skirts; trimmed with embroideries and fancy stitching—reduced for this sale to 1.39

Women's shirtwaist suits — reduced from $8.75, $10 and $12; made from taffeta silks, satin foulards and pongees; in tailor made and fancily trimmed effects—now reduced to 5.00

Women's wash suits and shirtwaist suits, reduced from $14, $18 and up to $21; made from fine quality linens and other summer material—choice this sale 9.50

Women's summer dresses and shirtwaist suits—reduced from $22.50 and $25, $30 and $35; made from fine linens, lawns, organdies, etc.; in white and colors—choice now 16.50

Girls' & misses' wear

HERE'S a chance to pay half or even less than half for children's wash dresses—in fact, these sale prices barely cover the cost of the materials alone.

Girls' fine white dresses—made from splendid quality lawn; fancy yoke effects, beautifully trimmed with embroideries, narrow tucks and hemstitching; large lace edged ruffle over shoulder, full bishop sleeves, with fancy trimmed cuffs; skirts cut extra full, with 6 rows of narrow tucks around bottom and a 4-inch hem, like cut. Choice from almost our entire stock of white dresses; some worth even $5; sizes 4 to 14 years; choice 1.19

Girls' colored wash dresses—among them you will find the very latest one and two-piece styles; such as Russian and sailor blouse and cadet suits, with emblems on sleeve; also fancy dress styles, trimmed with embroidery, laces, braids, etc.; skirts have deep hems; all sizes 4 to 14 years. We have arranged three large tablefuls of these dresses and are positive they are the best values you ever saw—worth up to $2; choice 69c

Women's summer waists

If you can duplicate half the styles or equal the qualities of these waists offered in today's sale for a third again as much money, then all our planning, experience and buying direct from the manufacturers have gone for naught.

Women's taffeta silk waists—full pleated fronts, pleated back, large pouch sleeve, stylish stock collar; in red, white, light pink and blue—would sell readily at $5, price today 2.49

Women's waists—all-over embroidered and full tucked fronts, tucked or plain back, large puff sleeves, neatly tucked cuffs, fancy stock collar; worth every cent of $1.50; reduced for this sale to 98c

Women's waists—made from a fine sheer quality of white lawn, low necks, short sleeves; front is trimmed with embroideries, lace insertion or fagotting; back appropriately trimmed to match front; large ruffle on sleeve—worth up to $2.50; choice this sale 1.39

Knit underwear

NICKELS and dimes do the work of quarters in this department today, for we have reduced the prices so low as to leave but slim margin between them and actual cost from the maker.

Women's knit vests—good Swiss ribbed; in black, white, pink and blue—usual 20c quality for 10c

Women's vests or pants, lightweight, made of best combed Egyptian yarn; white and ecru, 25c

Women's vests—lightweight quality; wool or silk and lisle ribbed; this sale only 1.00

New ideas in stock collars

THEY are such inexpensive articles that one can afford to indulge one's fancy to the extent of a half a dozen or so. We've just received a new lot of the most charming styles, including pretty white embroidered stocks with medallion fronts, some exquisite patterns, also pretty Venise lace stocks. When you see these stocks you'll wonder how we are enabled to sell them for so low a price, 48c

The new drape veils

THERE are divers use for the veil, but the most appropriate and most used is for trimming the summer hat. The many artistic ways in which a woman of ingenuity can drape and fashion these veils is surprising. If your summer hat begins to look a little dingy one of these veils draped about it will renew its original appearance.

They are made of chiffon, all the new colors, including brown, navy, green, light blue, pink, etc.; hemstitched, dotted or embroidered; some have broad satin borders 1½ yards long—prices 1.48 down to 48c

Hosiery, extra

WE secured 5 cases of women's summer hosiery. This is due to an arrangement with several importers and selling agents to relieve them of their accumulation. Of course, we secured them at greatly reduced prices.

The lot consists of women's fast black stockings all-over lace lisle, plain black or black and white feet, red and blue backgrounds with fancy stripes and figures; none worth less than 25c; most of them worth 30c; choice of all 15c

Special lot of children's school stockings—about 200 doz. in all including 1x1 and 2x1 ribbed; guaranteed fast black, splice heel, toe and knee; easily worth 19c and 25c, today per pair 11c

Men's half hose—broken lines of regular 25c, 35c and 50c lines, including fancy German lisles and cottons—all in one lot, 19c

GAMES TODAY.

Boston at Philadelphia.
New York at Brooklyn.

As a farewell seance before leaving on a hard eastern campaign, the Champions yesterday entertained Patsy Donovan's St. Louis crowd at Exposition park, taking it into camp, 7 to 4. It was a "pop call" for both teams at the park as they were on their way east from the west and the card brought out 3,230 of the faithful.

The elongated collegian, Falkenberg, was on the rubber for the Pirates and he pitched a game that demonstrated he has some class. All things have been said of his ability as a twirler for the big league, but he certainly did good work against the Cardinals, barring a little wildness which was very much in evidence in the first and fifth innings, when he issued two passes to two batters in each round.

He got out of a hole in the opening round through a double play without having a run scored on him, but in the fifth he was not so fortunate and Brain scampered across the plate with the first for his team, he earlier in the inning having walked.

The crowd thought it would be an easy proposition for St. Louis with the ex-collegian as master of ceremonies, and was not slow in howling its disapproval of Manager Clarke's selection. The yell became louder when he walked Farrell, increased when Donovan sacrificed and Smoot traveled down through his generosity, but Wagner's fast double play on Brain and Smoot killed the chances for scoring and the crowd breathed easier, ditto Falkenberg. After this inning he did well, not allowing one safe hit to be registered against him until the fourth, when Smoot planted a nice line drive to left for one base. In all the visitors rung up six drives for the afternoon.

Clarke's men had little trouble in solving McFarland's offerings, but at that the score would not have been so large against him had he been accorded better support in the infield by Brain. This person displayed an article of ball that was saffron-hued, one muff of a pop fly allowing one run and a wild throw another.

Pirates Begin Hitting.

The Pirates opened up on McFarland with a vengeance. Beaumont drove a liner to Brain, which he got in his hands nicely, but dropped, Beau getting on before the ball reached the bag. Farrell got Clarke's grounder, retiring his man at first. Beaumont, before this, had stolen. Leach hit to left middle for a sack and Beaumont walked home. Wagner's single sent Leach to third and he tallied on Bransfield's scorching single to Barclay's field.

Clarke began the third with a hit to Brain, beating the throw to Hackett. Leach dumped the ball towards first and then made Hackett put the ball on him. Clarke at the same time was making a hot run to third and got there before Burke was through yelling for a throw. Wagner responded with his second drive to left, Clarke coming home. "Kitty" Bransfield drove one between Hackett and Farrell on a line which Donovan scooped up, but juggled it momentarily. Donovan tried to catch Wagner at third and Bransfield reached second on the play. Ritchey walked and was thrown out at second on Sebring's life, Wagner scoring. Sebring stole second and attempted to score on Weaver's grounder to Hackett, but was thrown out at the plate, he being a second after Bransfield.

Weaver scored in the sixth on his single, Falkenberg's sacrifice, Beaumont's out and Brain's wild throw of Clarke's grounder. Bransfield doubled in the seventh and romped home on Brain's drop of Sebring's dinky fly back of third. Wagner began the round with a single, but was caught off first and run down between the lines, after the whole St. Louis infield had taken a try at catching him.

Cardinals Score.

J. O'Neil got the Cardinal's first tally by reaching the first station on a life in the fifth and going around on a steal and Farrell's two-bagger to right. A base on balls to Brain, followed by a steal and a single by Burke scored Brain in the sixth. Farrell and Brain scored in the eighth. Farrell singled and he scored on Wagner's throw over first of Brain's grounder. Barclay pasted a fast one to middle, sending in Brain.

The visitors made a strong bid in the ninth for a rally. Burke fanned, but Hackett drove a pretty single to middle. M. O'Neil was sent in to bat for his brother and he stopped a fast inshoot with his arm and was walked. The best Dunleavy, who was substituted at the bat for McFarland, could do, was to foul fly to Weaver, and Farrell put an end to the proceedings by lifting a sky-scraper to Clarke. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Weaver was off a little in his throwing to the bases.

O'Day had a crowd after him at several stages of the game. He appeared to be off on his base decisions and on balls and strikes.

Patsy Donovan received his usual Pittsburgh cheer when he first came to the bat. Jimmy Burke also got the glad hand from his local friends.

Falkenberg was slow in fielding Donovan's dump in the first inning when Farrell was on first. He had plenty time to get Farrell at second, but instead waited and retired Donovan at first.

"Kitty" Bransfield did a neat piece of work by taking in Leach's wild throw on Barclay's grounder in the second inning. The throw was well in and Kitty had to lean towards the runner to get it.

A spectator called the turn when Brain dropped Sebring's fly. "Brain will drop it," was yelled from the left field bleachers, which he did, much to the disgust of Burke, who wanted to take the ball.

Wagner robbed Burke of a hit in the second by taking in his fast grasser after it had got past Leach, retiring his man on a long throw across the diamond while in a very bad position to make a throw.

Fred Clarke made a pretty catch of Smoot's line drive in the eighth. Smoot started the ball like a rifle shot toward the fence. Clarke turned and ran back with it, then turned around and with a jump, nabbed it.

Fred Clarke gave Ritchey a call-down on the field which was heard by the occupants of the grandstand. In the first inning, with Wagner on second, Ritchey hit a ball when Wagner was nearly to third on a steal. Ritchey flied to Barclay and Wagner had to chase back. "Get in the game there; give the man a chance," yelled Clarke to the second baseman, who said not a word, but walked to the bench.

Wagner was not the only man caught off first. Jimmy Burke was caught by Falkenberg in the sixth. He made a break for second, but was nailed. Burke tried to tell O'Day that a balk had been committed. Wagner was fooled on a throw. The Cardinals had a tough job in landing him. He chased them up and down the line and was finally caught after he had been blocked off, football fashion. He raised a kick because he was blocked, which was denied by the umpire.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—For the fifth successive time Washington went down before the local American leaguers today. It was a pretty game to look at, abounding in sharp playing and only phenomenal fielding kept the score down to reasonable limits. Moran, at short, was the hero of the day, his work being little short of marvelous. Chesbro put the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Score:

Hit on Arm in Exhibition Game at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The Cincinnati Reds stopped off here today en route to Philadelphia and played an exhibition game with the local team which resulted in a victory for the Reds, 4 to 1. Phillips, who started to pitch for the Reds, was struck on the arm by a pitched ball while at bat in the second inning and had to retire from the game, Poole taking his place. The crowd was immense. ST. LOUIS VEXED AT DAVE BRAIN

The management of the St. Louis team was vexed at Brain last night because of his loose playing yesterday. There was a rumor that Brain had laid down in his work, allowing both flies to drop because he was displeased with the team. The report had it that he would be suspended by Donovan. Brain was secured from the Rochester Eastern league team this spring, and it is thought he is nursing a grievance because he did not get a slice of the $1,000 said to have been paid Rochester by St. Louis for his release.

ENGLISH GOLFERS HERE TO PLAY AMERICANS

Will Meet Collegians on Myopia Hunt Club Links, Hamilton, Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Eleven golfers, representing the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing society, arrived today from England and tomorrow will meet a team made up of representatives of several of the American universities in the first of a series of matches which have been arranged for the visitors during their stay in this country. The English party includes John L. Low (captain), T. Mansfield Hunter, J. A. T. Bramston, Norman F. Hunter, H. G. B. Ellis, H. W. Beveridge, P. W. Leathart, D. F. Ransom, G. D. Barne, C. H. Allison and C. N. Day. The match tomorrow will be played on the links of the Myopia Hunt club, Hamilton.

The team of the Intercollegiate Golf association will be made up as follows: Frank O. Reinhart, Percy R. Pyne, J. W. Baker and L. H. Conklin, Princeton; N. S. Campbell, F. J. O. Alsop, Percy R. Jennings and Bruce D. Smith, Yale, and U. A. Murdock, G. O. Winston and W. C. Chick, Harvard.

Each match will be for 18 holes and the winner will score one point instead of the number of holes up. On Thursday the visitors will meet a team made up of the leading players of the Massachusetts Golf association at Manchester, Mass., and on the next day they will leave for Chicago. The visit west, however, will be brief, as the Englishmen are anxious to see the races for the American cup, which begin next week. After that event they will meet a number of New York golf teams and will finish their tour with a match against an all-American team on the links of the Nassau County club, Glencove, N. Y., immediately following the conclusion of the amateur championship at that place.

RIVERSIDE STAKE WON WITH EASE BY ORSINA

Filly That Caused Trouble Recently Takes Rich Selling Affair.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Orsina, the filly which caused C. Lind & Co. to be ruled off for causing, it was alleged her defeat last time out, easily won the Riverside stake at Harlem today. She led all the way and won by two lengths, pulled almost to a walk. Postmaster Wright was second and Lady Matchless third. The stake was a selling affair and was worth $2,280 to the winner.

Orsina was entered to be sold for $300 and was run up to $2,500 and bought in by Pat Dunne for the customary extra $5. Weather clear and cool. Track fast. Summaries:

First race, 4½ furlongs—William Wright, 108, Helgesen, 11 to 10, won; Instructor, 115, R. Williams, 11 to 2, second; Chockayotte, 112, L. Wilson, 7 to 1, third. Time, :55.

Second race, steeple chase, short course—Paulaker, 137, L. O'Brien, 6 to 1, won; Falella, 134, J. Johnson, 5 to 1, second; Duke of York, 160, Cairns, 9 to 2, third. Time, 3:24 4-5.

Third race, Riverside stakes, mile—Orsina, 92, H. Phillips, 3 to 2, won; Postmaster Wright, 114, S. Bonner, 8 to 1, second; Lady Matchless, 93, W. Knapp, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 3-5.

Fourth race, 8½ furlongs—Hargis, 105, Helgesen, 9 to 2, won; Bragg, 107, W. Knapp, 18 to 5, second; Warte Nicht, 101, Adkins, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Fifth race, 5 furlongs—Nannie Hodge, 110, L. Wilson, 9 to 5, won; Witchcraft, 110, Robbins, 3 to 1, second; Determination, 100, H. Phillips, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:00 2-5.

Sixth race, mile—Cornwall, 104, Pollock, 3 to 1, won; C. B. Campbell, 102, L. Wilson, 6 to 1, second; O'Hagen, 105, Robbins, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 4-5.

YOUR GRACE KILLED.

Meets in Accident in Steeple Chase at Saratoga Track.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Fair weather, a slow track and small fields prevailed at the seventh day of Saratoga's race meeting. The stake event, the Catskill, was taken by R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Highlander, with Redfern up. Considerable interest was devoted to the steeplechase handicap over the short course, J. W. Coit's Amur won it by a head from T. Hitchcock Jr.'s Foxhunter in a driving finish. In taking the next to the last jump Holland and Your Grace collided and went into the ditch. Holland came off uninjured, but Your Grace died from the injuries received. Sehling and Porter, who had the mounts, escaped injury, as did Songer on Ohnet, who stumbled over the water jump and threw his rider. Big Gun threw his rider, Fry, who was also lucky enough to come off unhurt. Summaries:

First race, 5½ furlongs—Grenade, 111, O'Neil, 18 to 5 and 4 to 5, won; Graceful, 111, H. Cochran, 9 to 10 and 1 to 3, second; Hippocrites, 102, Redfern, 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time—1:11 2-5.

Second race, steeplechase—Amur, 135, Mara, 5 to 2 and even, won; Foxhunter, 156, G. Green, 2 to 1 and 7 to 10, second; Caller, 135, Donohue, 3 to 1 and even, third. Time—4:06 2-5.

Third race, the Catskill, 7 furlongs—Highlander, 111, Redfern, 2 to 1 and 4 to 5, won; Elsie L., 106, Hicks, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; The Musketeer, 111, Fuller, 3 to 1 and 9 to 10, third. Time—1:32.

Fourth race, mile and a quarter—Circus, 98, Redfern, 11 to 10 and 1 to 4, won; Irascible, 92, H. Callahan, 16 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Carbuncle, 100, J. Martin, 2 to 1 and 2 to 5, third. Time—2:16.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Wotan, 122, Hicks, 5 to 2 and 3 to 5, won; Reveille, 104, Redfern, 16 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Cascine, 115, Fuller, even and 1 to 5, third. Time—1:20 3-5.

Sixth race, mile and one-sixth, on turf—Conundrum, 104, O'Neill, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Florham Queen, 85, McCafferty, 2 to 1 and 3 to 5, second; Easy Street, 103, J. Martin, 20 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time—1:52.

GROOMING SHAMROCK.

Army of Employes Getting Boat Ready for Race.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A small army of dock yard employes, besides her own crew and some of the crew of Shamrock I., swarmed about Shamrock III. as she lay in dry dock in Erie basin today and began the task of putting her in trim for the cup races.

Once thoroughly cleaned she will be repainted and re-enameled. Capt. Wringe does not expect to get her out of dry dock before next week. On Wednesday the day before the first race with the Reliance, she will probably be measured by the official measurer of the New York Yacht club to ascertain her racing length and whether either boat will have to give the other time allowance.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

A. G. Ansell, Horseman, Receives Stroke at Greensburg Sunday.

GREENSBURG, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—A. G. Ansell, the well-known horseman of Uniontown, who has a big string of horses entered for the race to be given by the Gentlemen's Driving club this week, including the famous Alf Patchen, was stricken with paralysis at a local hotel last night. While at the Buffalo races last week he sustained a slight stroke, but it did not cause alarm. He arrived in Greensburg yesterday morning and drove to the track during the afternoon. Last night he was stricken. He has been taken to his home. His physicians have hopes that he will recover.

Merriment Wins Feature Event.

BUFFALO, Aug. 10.—Merriment won the feature event at Fort Erie today. She trailed her field and then came through next the rail, showing something of her 2-year-old form. Results:

IDEAL OPENING AT EMPIRE CITY TRACK

Monte Carlo, Favorite, Takes Two Heats and Wins 2:09 New York $5,000 Stake.

TALENT IS TWICE JOLTED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Metropolitan grand circuit season opened today at the Empire City track with 5,000 spectators present, a fast track and ideal weather.

In the opening event, the 2:18 pace, Funston sold at 50 to $30 for the field, but was only a moderate second to the big California gelding, Mush, who won in straight heats with speed to spare. The talent lost again in the 2:15 trot, for which the gray gelding, Jim Ferry, sold at $50 and the field at $10. He proved to be a counterfeit, as George Muscovite took the lead in both heats, winning by a length from Norrie.

The 2:09 New York stake of $5,000 brought out a strong field of 11, Monte Carlo selling for $50 to $70 for the field. The favorite got the best of a flying start, led all the way, but only won by a neck from Dan T., who came with a great rush in the stretch. Dan T. won the second by a fine drive in the stretch, but broke in the third, Monte Carlo winning by two lengths.

For the 2:12 pace Frank Yoakum sold at $100 to $90 for the field. The speedy but erratic Beausant went off with a rush, winning the first heat, only to be distanced in the second, which was won by Donna McGregor. In the third heat Dart won from the mare by a neck. In the fourth he made a bad break and Donna McGregor won in a walk. Summaries:

STRATHCONA, DEFENDER, WINS SECOND RACE

Skipper Barr Outgenerals Rival and Beats Irondequoit by Over Two Minutes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

TORONTO, ONT., Aug. 10.—The second race for the Canada's cup was won by Strathcona, the defender, by more than eight minutes elapsed time. Skipper Jarvis got the better of Barr at the start and crossed the line two minutes and three seconds ahead. At that time the wind was about 8 miles an hour. The Canadian yacht's superiority in windward work was at once shown and she held the lead all through.

Strathcona swung around the first mark at 12:54:43, and when the Irondequoit turned she was almost seven minutes astern. The American skipper had trouble in setting his spinnaker, the stops refusing to part, thereby losing a minute or two. The wind had lightened and the yachts, squared away, made comparatively slow time.

At the finish three-quarters of a mile of water separated the two boats. Summaries:

Name	Start	1st Mark	Finish
Strathcona	11:00:07	12:54:43	2:48:47
Irondequoit	11:02:10	1:01:41	2:58:52

CORBETT IS WISE ON A NEW BLOW

DOES NOT KEEP IT SECRET

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—James J. Corbett has devised many a neat plan for encompassing the defeat of Champion Jeffries, when they meet next Friday night, but his latest is the most novel of them all.

You know that Jitsu game they have in Japan, he said. They have some 200 ways of killing or disabling a man with a twist or a blow of the hand. I have worked out one or two of them and I think they are so simple that it is a wonder no fighter has thought of using them before. There is one thing that will get Jeff out of that crouch in a jiffy if I can work it on him, and it won't hurt him at that. If you hold out your arm at full length and jab your knuckles into it inside, just above the elbow, you will find that the arm will be nearly paralyzed. The effect is just like that of hitting your funny bone.

There is a nerve exposed there with very little muscle to cover. Jeff, in the crouch, holds that left arm of his extended at full length. There is nothing easier in the world than to swing a little short hook in there, landing on that tender spot instead of reaching for the head or body. If you will try it by just pushing a few times with the knuckles of your hand, you can easily see that it will be impossible to hold your arm out. A few of those jolts would make Jeff's arm flop like the wing of a crippled duck, and then where would he be? He holds his arm in such a position that it would be a cinch to reach the right spot. Then there is another spot on the outside of the arm a t just above the elbow, but that would be harder to get at. The effect of that deadening of the nerve wears off in a few minutes, but in the meantime your opponet has a crippled arm and you can do whatever you please with him.

There are other ways to use this scheme, but the best is the one that is easiest to use on Jeff. There is nothing like being scientific in matters of this kind. One of these little Japs can whip a man of three times his size. There is no reason why the same kind of a blow should not work on a man like Jeff. It can be delivered either with the knuckles or the edge of the hand.

Having described the theory of the plan, Corbett put his trainers at work making practical demonstrations of its effects.

ROBERT EDGREN.

In the matter of being fickle and whimsical the big fighters can give a little girl in a blue frock cards and spades. Jim Jeffries for instance. A few weeks ago at Harbin he said: "The last time I fought I felt more like going into a hospital than into a prize ring." "What did it?" was asked. "Road work," was the rejoinder. "That's so," chipped in Joe Kennedy. He used to run to Middleton and back behind a cart. It weakened him. He knows better now. That's why he is so fast." Did Jeffries carry through his program? Scarcely, for every day now brings its own report from Harbin: "Jeff went on the road to Middletown today and did not work in the gymnasium."

Corbett is tarred with the same brush to a certain extent. Today was no exception to his routine. Corbett's five round bout with Sam Berger Sunday morning was more like a regular contest than a friendly bout. Corbett felt like extending himself, and Sam being willing for a good warm-up, the pair went at it. Tommy Ryan kept calling under his breath to Corbett to be careful of his hands, but Jim did not appear to hold back to any extent. Betting on the contest is still at 2 to 1 and the pool room men say that neither side has to wait long for takers. It is believed now that there will not be any change in the odds for a few days at least.

PECULIAR GAME.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The wives of bookmakers and the men belonging to the professional racing set have set the pace this year in the matter of fine raiment and glittering jewels, and the society women have been outdone. The displays made by the wives of the layers of odds have been so elaborate and costly that women belonging to the "400" are showing a tendency to wear less expensive gowns and more modest jewelry than in years gone by.

On any night at the Grand Union hotel gems and jewelry worth $1,000,000 can be seen. On a recent afternoon the wife of one well known "bookie" appeared in the stand so gorgeously arrayed in finery and precious stones that the light of Quality Row, where the men and women of millions view the sport, was for the moment comparatively bedimmed. The lady's appearance created no end of a sensation in her immediate vicinity. Quite unabashed she lolled on a chair seat awaiting the coming of her bookmaking better-half, who at the moment was trying to accommodate the people who desired that he should have the keeping of their money. "Mrs. Bookmaker" sat there glorying in an outfit valued at not less than $20,000. Experts said the lace alone must have cost $500.

Her shoes were of white kid and enameled in gold tints. A hand-painted bodice and a diamond-studded parasol lent a further dazzling effect. The gown could not be purchased in this country for less than $5,000. She wore a perfect wealth of diamonds. To estimate the value of her gems at $15,000 is well within the mark. Later the better-half came along, hat perched back, cigar cocked in his mouth, and, in his own inimitable way, directed his wife to "come on."

It is common gossip that Foxhall P. Keene's visit to Saratoga is being delayed owing to the fact that a member of the "Mets" outbid the young multi-millionaire in securing an advantageously-located cottage on Union avenue. He paid something like $1,200 for the house for 23 days.

THIEVES LOOT TWO COTTAGES

Pittsburgh Family, Which Occupied One, Lost Money and Jewels.

GIRLS TO HAVE A TUG OF WAR

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 10.

The cottage of J. A. Staley of Pittsburgh was broken into last night by burglars and jewelry and money to the amount of $1,200 was taken. The police say most of the booty will be recovered. The cottage occupied by Mr. Staley is at No. 100 States avenue and is owned by Charles H. Lippincott, one of the proprietors of Haddon Hall. An entrance was effected through a second-story rear window.

The robbery was discovered by Mrs. Staley this morning when she went to her room and found her jewel case, in which she also kept a considerable amount of money, had been rifled. She then remembered having heard a noise in the house Saturday night, but thinking it was Mr. Staley paid little attention to it until an hour later, when Mr. Staley came in from the beach. She told him that she thought she heard him up stairs and asked him to investigate. Some friends called about that time and the matter was forgotten.

Just across the street at the C. K. Harris cottage, occupied by a family named Berry, a theft was also committed, the robber collecting about $300. It is thought from the manner in which the plunder was secured in both cases that the robberies were committed by the same individual.

Chorus Girls in Tug of War.

There will be a tug of war between eight Miss Bob White girls from Young's pier and four of the life guards on the beach this afternoon as the result of a little playfulness on the part of the girls, who, aspiring to be athletes, have been doing stunts on the beach for two weeks. They got up a challenge to the guards and persuaded their manager to sign for them. They sent it to the captain of the life guards, thinking that he would say that the rules would prevent the guards accepting. Instead, however, he picked out four stalwart guards.

Important Conventions Due.

Quite a number of important conventions are booked for this city for this month and September. Through the efforts of Prof. R. Hempel, the well-known local music teacher, the music teachers of the American Guild convene here from today until Thursday. The Knights Templar of Camden will meet at the Hotel Rudolph next Monday. A banquet and reception will be held at which about 200 knights will be present. The Pennsylvania Bankers' association will hold a convention in the Rudolph beginning September 4. The convention of the Unitarians of the United States, to be held in the Rudolph the latter part of next month, will be the most important assemblage in the history of their denomination. It will bring here some of the most prominent speakers of the country.

Guards Refused to Take the Water.

Arthur Monroe and Paxe Conover were suspended by Mayor Stoy this morning, pending an investigation into the matter of their refusal to make a test of their abilities as swimmers and boatmen during a test of the men under the command of Capt. Anthony Ruffu, Jr. The men under Capt. Ruffu was assembled at Kentucky avenue and the beach at 8 o'clock this morning for a trial swim. Monroe refused to make the trial because he had been subjected to a test last Thursday and had proved himself satisfactory. Conover refused to make the test because he had been on the sick list, under the care of a physician for three days. All but five of the guards made the test. These could not swim. Whether they will be retained or not depends on their political influence.

O'NEIL GETS ENGAGEMENTS.

Madden Will Race Pulsus or Aristocracy Against Broomstick, but Won't Bet.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Frank O'Neil, the jockey who has earned so much praise by his good work in the saddle since he won the Brooklyn handicap on Irish lad, signed an agreement to ride next year for Pierre Lorillard, Newton Bennington and Fred Burlew, each of whom pay a pro-rata of his retainer, which will be larger than it is this season.

The unusual activity as to jockeys engagements is due to the demand for riders for the Futurity, which bids fair to be a sensational race. S. S. Brown hopes to win it with Broomstick, whose weight will be 127 pounds. J. E. Madden says he will race either Pulsus or Aristocracy against Broomstick if Capt. Brown so desires, but will not wager any money on the result. Nothing will come of the offer, horsemen say.

STOPPED SUNDAY BALL.

DAWSON, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The revival of the blue laws here Sunday caused the arrest of 19 ball players. For several Sunday's past men and boys have been congregating at the Fayette Athletic park, much to the annoyance of the residents of the village. Constable Elmer Grimm was ordered to stop the practice, and when the game was called Sunday went into the park and took 19 to the lockup. 'Squire Wright demanded a forfeit of $3 each from the players, but they refused to give it and decided to stay in the lockup and fight the case. However this morning, after one night's imprisonment, they decided to settle the case, each of the 19 paying $6 50.

LEARNED DOCTORS DISCUSS MOB LAW

Subject Is Considered of Very Serious Import by Chautauqua Assembly.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE

President Frost of Berea College Takes Up the Case of the Feudists of Kentucky—Education, He Says, Is the Only Remedy.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 10.—An important modification of the Chautauqua assembly program has been made for this week. Thoughtful citizens have become alarmed at the apparent increase of the mob spirit, which manifests itself in all parts of the country. Mountain feuds, lynchings, labor riots are described on almost every page of the daily press. The time is ripe for thoughtful discussion of the ominous tendency. It behooves good citizens to understand and interpret the facts, and to outline policies and principles which must be maintained in order to counteract lawlessness and violence.

The following distinguished men have consented to speak on the various aspects of this problem: Dr. J. M. Buckley will give a lecture on "Mental and Moral Contagion," in which he will present from a scientific point of view the psychology of the mob spirit; President William G. Frost of Berea college, in the Kentucky mountains, spoke on "Mountain Feuds;" John Temple Graves of Atlanta, Ga., will discuss "The Lynching Problem," Chief Justice Charles B. Lore of the supreme court of Delaware, will also discuss certain phases of the same subject.

D. M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who has attained considerable notoriety through his recent public utterances on the labor union question, will speak upon labor riots from the employer's point of view.

President Frost's Address.

President Frost, in his address today on "Feuds in the Southern Mountains," said in brief: "Each part of our country has liabilities to special forms of disorder and violation of law, and each part of the country thoroughly reprobates those forms of disorder which exist in other parts. It is of the utmost importance that this discussion be taken up in no sectional spirit.

"Of the three forms of law violation—mobs, lynchings and feuds—the feud naturally comes first, as the oldest, a survival of the primeval man. The first feud was between Cain and Abel. Gradually, as government has grown more effective and religion more persuasive, men have been content to leave the righting of their wrongs to judge and jury. But this resignation of individual to the state has been gradual and imperfect.

"No cause need to be given for a feud save the absence of restraint. And those restraints which have gradually gathered about the citizens of the Empire state, for example, are still weak in the southern mountains. The mountaineer possesses a revolutionary ancestry, and maintains a civilization of colonial times. He must not be confused with the 'poor whites,' for he has a large independence of spirit and fortune. Sociologically, he is a southerner who owned lands but did not own slaves. This circumstance was of large account in the civil war, putting night 200,000 fighting men into the ranks who followed the old flag, cleaving the southern confederacy with a great wedge of stubborn loyalty.

Progress Being Made.

"Government in the mountains has not been organized or carried forward with a regularity and majesty which could inspire confidence or effectual dread. The voice of the preacher is seldom heard, and then too often on irrelevant matters of sect and doctrine. Many a feudsman prays behind his gun, and relates with the vigor of an Old Testament patriarch how the Lord has delivered his enemies into his hand. The mountaineer has not known a better state of things than that in which he lives and to this must be added the appearance of the whisky bottle, so that the tongue is loosed and the fingers made ready for a quarrel.

"All these are conditions which existed more or less in pioneer communities throughout the country before the temperance reformation. Weapons are present, whisky is drunk, there is a recognized sentiment that one should avenge his own injuries, and that it is manly to avenge an injury on the spot—all the conditions for homicide. Considering these conditions, the decadence of the feud and the general prevalence of law and order in the mountains, is something to be admired and wondered at. The feud area has been greatly contracted, large portions of the mountain people are wholly out of sympathy with the feud idea and only need to be more numerous and courageous and intelligent to bring all feuds to an end.

"The case in Breathitt county is a political one—an outbreak unusual and not to be classed with ordinary feuds. As the death of Hamilton was the occasion for the great sermon by Dr. Knott, which practically ended the duel in America, so we may hope the storm of opposition roused by the death of Marcum may bring us near the end of political assassination in Kentucky."

LOCAL MEN ARE THE CREDITORS

REORGANIZATION IS INTENDED

Assets Are Listed at $72,380.17, While Liabilities Only Foot Up $25,572.81. Valuable Airbrake Patents Owned by Hunt Company.

The Hunt Foundry and Machine Company, the plant of which is at Kensington, yesterday made a voluntary assignment in the Westmoreland county court at Greensburg. The company is made up in great part of Pittsburghers and possesses patents on an airbrake valued at $10,000. The officers of the company are G. A. E. Ahlberg of No. 4716 Bayard street, president, and R. N. Heath of the East End, secretary and manager.

President Ahlberg, when seen at his residence last evening, said: "The company intends to reorganize, and the speediest and most convenient way to do so, as the directors looked at it, was to make an assignment to one of the directors. Cash is scarce and the company would have been unable to meet its debs if called upon to do so. The plant will probably not shut down, at least for no length of time. The directors expect to reorganize soon, with a larger capitalization."

The announcement of the assignment was received with great surprise in Greensburg, as it was considered one of the leading industries of the county. The assets of the company are listed at $72,380 17, with liabilities of $25,572 61. The principal creditors are Pittsburgh firms, as follows:

Peoples Natural Gas Company, $110 70; Baird Machinery Company, $250; National Tube Company, $110; New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company, $179 90; Jamison Coal and Coke Company, $259 26; Somers, Fitler & Todd Company, $448 25; Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, $567; the Garlock Packing Company, Queen City Rubber Company, Hartley-Rose Belting Company; Marshall Bros.; Epping-Carpenter Company, J. F. Morrison, Pittsburgh Photo Engraving Company, John Eichleay, Jr., Company, D. J. Kennedy Company, Diebold Lumber and Manufacturing Company, W. M. Stieren Company, L. H. Gibson, J. M. Addy, Keil-Lipphart Company, S. Obernayer & Co., F. Mason & Co., Speck, Marshall & Co.; Walker Soap Company, Follansbee Bros. Company, Shanahan Transfer Company, J. Rodgers McCreary, Armstrong & McKelvey, Scaife Foundry and Machine Company, James Jiles Company, Kelly & Jones Company, J. K. Davidson & Co. and the Armstrong Cork Company. Rogers, Brown & Co. of Cincinnati are creditors to the amount of $1,089 72.

The assets are as follows: Real estate, $30,000; tools and machinery, $15,479; accounts receivable, $5,487 83; due on capital stock, $10,000; patents, $10,000; cash in the Diamond National bank of Pittsburgh, $113 34; value of uncompleted work on ice plant at Homeopathic hospital, Pittsburgh, $1,300.

Neville C. Davidson was appointed assignee. George H. Clapp of Pittsburgh is the holder of a mortgage for $12,000, and it is said that the possibility of this mortgage being foreclosed, together with the pressing of some of the creditors, decided the directors as to the action they took.

OLYMPIC SCHEDULE.

A. A. U. Committee Arranges a Program for World's Fair Games.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10.—The Amateur Athletic union's Olympic games committee held its first day's session here today. The committee spent several hours on the final program of this feature of the world's fair. The time fixed for holding the games is August 29, 30, 31, September 1, 2 and 3, 1904. The committee voted in favor of having the running races measured according to the metric system. Aside from the Olympic events, or the world's championships as they are designated, several handicap events will be given each day. The following is the official program as arranged:

Monday, August 29—Olympic events, world's championships, 60 meter run, throwing the 16 pound hammer, 400 meter run, 2,590 meter steeplechase, standing board jump and running high jump. Tuesday, August 30—Marathon race, 40 kilometers. Wednesday, August 31—200 meter run, putting the 16 pound shot, lifting barrel, 400 meter hurdle race, standing high jump and international tug-of-war on dirt. Teams of five men from each country for the tug-of-war.

The committee decided that foreign teams could be made up of residents of the United States and Canada. The committee decided that in this particular event the American belt would be barred.

Thursday, September 1—800 meter run, throwing the 56 pound weight, 200 meter hurdle race, running broad jump, running hop, step and jump, tug-of-war (finals). Saturday, September 3—Olympic events, world's championships, 100 meter throwing the discus, dumb-bell, second five sections; 4,000 meter steeplechase, 110 meter hurdle race, pole vault for height, three standing jumps and international team race, 5,000 meters, each country entitled to start five men, the country scoring the lowest aggregate to be the winner.

The committee also took up the question of scheduling the important athletic championship fixtures of America and the following dates and events were decided upon. Amateur Athletic union's track and field championships and handicap meeting:

June 2, handicap meeting; June 3, junior championship; June 4, senior championship; July 4, all-round athletic championship of America, comprising 10 events; July 8 and 9, the American swimming championships and water polo championships; October 14, 28 and 29, the American gymnastic championships; October 14, wrestling championships; November 17, cross country championships, team and individual in one race.

Old Favorites Furnish This Week's Theatrical Offerings

The popularity of the stock opera company at the Duquesne Garden has suffered little abatement with the advanced summer season, and the double bill last night attracted a fair audience. William Stephens, the new tenor, formerly with Grau, made his initial appearance as Turridu in "Cavalleria Rusticana" and the character was well interpreted by him. In the scene where Turridu casts off Santuzzi Mr. Stephens and Mary Carrington, the favorite prima donna were compelled to repeat the score, so well was it received. Jack Raffael as Alfio, and Josephine Bartlett as Lucio were, as usual, good.

Gilbert & Sullivan's "Pinafore" never seems to lose its charm, and although Mary Carrington was not in the cast, her place was well filled with winsome little Margaret Robinson, whose voice, though lacking in force, just seemed to fit the part she had to play as the captain's daughter in love with a common sailor, although wooed by Sir Joseph, the head of the navy. William Corliss, as his lordship, has sung the part before and throws in the little frills that makes the character interesting. Harold Rehill's rich tenor makes him an ardent and successful lover, while Jack Martin can always be depended upon to take such parts as Dick Deadeye with the approval of the audience.

Charles Cochran, a local bass, had the part of the boatswain and his work shows that Pittsburgh can turn out good light opera talent. Josephine Bartlett as Little Buttercup sang the part well, but seemed to lack the vivacity that makes the part so pleasing. The chorus is well trained. Altogether this week's bill is somewhat in advance of what the stock company has been doing this season and should fill the garden nightly.

Bijou—"A Ragged Hero."

If there is such a thing as guaranteeing a good time to several hundred people, the proprietors of the Bijou theater have certainly hit the combination. From the whistling "newsy," who has not forgotten how to make the intervals between acts a pandemonium, to the man just back from vacation with a disgusted feeling about things in general, they all enjoy it. And this week the treat in store for them is a choice one, in their estimation, for "A Ragged Hero" got a rousing welcome last night from a house that had no standing room to spare. Hal Brown is back again, ragged as ever, and with a few new quirks to his comical makeup and philosophical remarks. If he were not able to tap the fun reservoir, his companion in that wonderful cake walk, Gertrude Swiggett, would have caused a "slip" on the face of the most sober-minded. Another old favorite who has gained a little with age is Alfred Sidwell, the country hostler, the exaggerated type of the four-corners loafer. With these oddities to start the mirth, the plot of the play is a second consideration. The climaxes are, however, well put on, and Herbert F. Denton in the role of the villain is at his best.

Academy—Dainty Duchess Company.

Patrons of Harry Williams' Academy of Music would be happy if warm weather and warm weather costumes would continue until the end of the burlesque season. The garb worn in the Spanish dance, in August, beats anything ever exploited at the seashore and looks for all the world as if the transparent material used in making the "peek-a-boo" shirtwaist had been appropriated for the whole suit. This costume was shown by the Dainty Duchess Company, with profound satisfaction to a big audience, last night, and was the hit of the show. In the performance, however, there were other attractive features beside the airy fairy costumes. Anna Suits, Idylla Vyner, Eva Allen and Margie Hilton head the company, supported by a queenly chorus and a contingent of happy comedians. The olio is strong and includes Jordon and Harvey in a Hebrew sketch, Frye, Allen and Evans in a one-act farce, Williams and Adams, who parade as the Monte Carlo millionaires; Hayes and Suits, specialty dancers, and Zimmer, the comedy juggler.

In the Traction Parks.

Good weather and good shows made patrons of the trolley parks happy last evening, the opening performance for the week being given before larger crowds than have been there for some time.

Calhoun's crowds were entertained by vaudeville artists. Miss Hattie North showed herself to be a pleasing comedienne and a singer of ability. The McNulty Sisters, in a singing and dancing sketch, made a good impression, while Felardo, "the human musical instrument," gave some remarkable imitations of the different instruments used in an orchestra. He uses only his mouth, but the imitations are perfect. Tobias and Gregor, comedians, furnished lots of fun, and the Barry and Woodford trio made quite a hit in their sketch, "The Fashionable Escort," in which they introduced the smallest pickaninny in vaudeville.

Kennywood had band concerts by the Rocereto band, and Mlle. Alice Dumont sang a number of songs in a manner that called forth applause. Koster, the aerial acrobat, entertained his audience with some marvelous feats that were both difficult and dangerous.

Southern park's crowd was amused by another big vaudeville bill. The Dancing Howards were there, with a very neat turn. Miss Alice Lewis' singing was warmly appreciated, while Eddie Reeves, the champion clog dancer, proved his right to the title. Cook and Oakes, eccentric comedians, kept their audience in a good humor, and the Kiltie trio, composed of Gorman, Proctor and Gorman, appeared in a comedy musical sketch which was accorded well-deserved applause.

SOCIETY

MISS SUSAN R. RISELING and J. M. Metzgar were quietly married August 10, 1853. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Metzgar celebrated their golden wedding. A reception was held at their Fairmont street home. During the evening the bride and bridegroom of 50 years ago received about 100 of their friends, their daughters, Miss Margaret and Miss Ree Metzgar, and their son, B. V. Metzgar, assisting. Very informally conducted, the affair proved most enjoyable. Mrs. Metzgar received in a modish gown of black crepe de chene, elaborately trimmed in duchesse lace, while the two daughters were gowned in beautiful soft white costumes. The golden idea was carried out in the decorations by the use of golden rod and nasturtiums. The parlor of the Metzgar home presented an exceedingly festive appearance, with its nasturtiums-banked mantel and large vases of golden rod. The chandeliers were festooned with dainty asparagus fern, the green also mingling in the mantel adornment. The center piece of the dining table was of golden rod and green, the other decorations following the same lines of those of the parlor. The hour was 8 o'clock.

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Metzgar took place at Bedford, where the young people were living at that time. The wedding was very quiet, the Rev. Mr. Kopp of the Lutheran church officiating at the ceremony. The only representative of the Risling family present last evening, with the exception of the hostess, was Miss Riseling of Joplin, Mo. Mr. Metzgar is 72 years of age, while his wife has passed her 71st milestone. Both old people enjoy good health and have retained all their faculties.

Weddings at McKeesport.

Daniel Shulhon and Miss Anna Jacobs will be married this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Jewish synagogue of McKeesport. Afterward a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Binaah Jacobs. In the evening a reception will be tendered 100 invited guests at Olympia park.

Miss Blanche Harrison and Philip L. Fleckenstein, both of McKeesport, will be married this morning in St. Peter's Catholic church, McKeesport. After the ceremony the bridal party will go to the new home of the groom at No. 1403 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, where a reception will be held and a wedding breakfast served.

Quiet Wedding at Connellsville.

Miss Bess Harge Porter, daughter of Mrs. Rachael Porter, and Eugene Norton, cashier of the First National bank of Connellsville, were quietly married last evening at the home of the bride's mother in South Pittsburgh street, Connellsville, by the Rev. William R. Warren, editor of the Christian Worker, Pittsburgh. The marriage was a very quiet one, only relatives and immediate friends of the family attending. The bride was gowned in white batiste. There were no attendants. The couple left on the Duquesne limited for an extended tour of Canada and the northern resorts.

Pittsburgher to Wed at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The engagement of Miss Carrie W. Fish, daughter of Alfred Fish, president of the Fish Stone Company of this city, and George A. Parker of Pittsburgh was announced today. Mr. Parker is an electrical engineer in the employ of the Westinghouse company. The marriage will be solemnized at Gambier, O., on September 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Parker will be at home in Wilkinsburg, Pa., after October 1.

Engagement Announced.

Formal announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Ethel Chalmers Gutelius, daughter of Mrs. Jean H. Gutelius of Connellsville and Alexander Henderson MacLennan of Harrisburg. Mr. MacLennan was formerly of New York. No date for the wedding has been set, but it is probable that it will take place in the early fall.

Outing at Calhoun Park.

The committees in charge of the Young Men's institute outing at Calhoun park tomorrow have made elaborate preparations for the event. A number of large delegations will be present from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. A large line of attractions will be run, as well as dancing from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night. The following members of the institute have been appointed to serve on the committees:

Marital Events of Today.

A number of late summer weddings will take place today, prominent among them being that of Miss Kate Swinbank of Wyoming street and Albert Morton. The wedding will be a quiet home event. The young couple leave immediately after the ceremony for Newmarket, Canada, the former home of the bridegroom.

St. Peter's Roman Catholic church of McKeesport will be the scene of the marriage of Miss Blanche R. Harrington and Philip Flackenstein today. The bride's attendant will be Miss Myrtle Kuhn, while the best man is to be Frederick Flackenstein, a brother of the bridegroom.

Invitations were issued some time ago for the marriage of Miss Clara E. O'Neil and William B. Kretzier, both of Elmsworth. The ceremony will be solemnized at the Church of the Sacred Heart this morning.

Miss Edna Moulier Young will today become the bride of John C. Abbiett, the ceremony to take place at the home of the bride's parents, in Olympia street, Mt. Washington. It will be an evening event, the hour being set for 8 o'clock.

The engagement recently announced of Miss Millie Roberts of the East End and Burton Whitfield of Oakland will terminate in a wedding today. The New Cambridge house at Cambridge Springs will be the scene of the wedding at an early hour this evening.

Celebrated 91st Birthday.

To have reached the age of 91 and still enjoy health so that she can form one of an enjoyable dinner party is not the good fortune of many women, but Mrs. Jane DeBarenne is an exception. At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Duncan, Osborne, Mrs. DeBarenne yesterday received the congratulations and well wishes of a number of relatives and friends, who counted it a great pleasure to greet the venerable woman who has nearly reached the century mark. Mrs. DeBarenne has lived in the Sewickley valley for many years and has hosts of acquaintances, who are pleased to know that she still retains her health and vigor to a degree seldom enjoyed by one of her age. Among those who greeted her yesterday were: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Applegate, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shrimplin, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Scott, Mrs. Martha Scott, Mrs. Robert McFarland, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. James McCann, Miss Johnston, Scott McFarland and W. C. Duncan.

Day Family Reunion.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—A reunion of the family of L. W. Day was held today at his home, the event being in honor of the 66th anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Day. With one exception the seven sons of Mrs. Day were present. They are: Charles Day, Washington; Prof. Eli S. Day, McKeesport; Edward S. Day, Decatur, Ill.; Lemuel S. Day, Washington; Dr. Howard W. Day, Monessen; Hilliard D. Day, Washington, and Dr. Minor H. Day, Donora. Stephen B. Day and Wade J. Day of Washington were also present.

At Ocean City.

Miss Margaret McGinnis of Gale street, Brushton, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lunn of Baltimore, left yesterday for Ocean City. Miss McGinnis was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lunn, the party to remain for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Lunn are former Pittsburghers. During her stay in Baltimore many handsome entertainments have been given in honor of Miss McGinnis.

Opening of a Series.

The first of a series of card parties was given last evening in West Lacock street. The affairs are under the auspices of the ladies of the G. A. R., Chapman circle, No. 60. Last evening's event is the first of a series which will continue through the winter season. Handsome prizes will be awarded to the winners, the proceeds of the entertainments to be devoted to the charitable work of the organization.

An Irwin Engagement.

An engagement recently announced in Irwin and of interest in Pittsburgh is that of Miss Margaret Guffey and Samuel B. Cummings. Miss Guffey is the daughter of Mrs. William Campbell Guffey and a niece of Thomas H. Irwin and Col. J. M. Guffey of Pittsburgh. The wedding will be an October event.

Beeson—Ritchie.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Beeson of Braddock avenue, Brushton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Blanche F. Beeson, and Grant Ritchie of Allegheny. The date for the wedding has not been made public.

Social Notes.

Miss Lucy Connor of Forty-third street is making a trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and the seashore.

The next few months will be spent in Colorado by Mrs. James F. Smith and her sister, Miss Annie Callaghan of Lawrenceville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKenna are making a visit of some length in the east. They will visit Atlantic City and New York before returning to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. A. S. Thomas and Miss Adelaide Thomas of Denniston avenue are in the east spending three weeks. The most of their time will be spent in New York.

CLUB'S AIM FAILED.

Organization of Ohio Girls Who Vowed to Be Old Maids Booms Matrimony.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Tomorrow evening at Marion Walter B. Layton of this city, son of a wealthy retired farmer and bank president, will lead to the altar Miss Mabel Everett, a popular young society maiden of that city.

Behind the wedding is a pretty romance. The bride-to-be is a member of the exclusive Doltaire club of that place, organized as a sort of old maids' club. Its original membership list contained the names of 13 young women of that city who vowed they never would marry. Already 11 of them have married, and with the wedding of Miss Everett there remains but one member in single blessedness. The approaching wedding of another of the club's members, Miss Edith Lust, is announced.

It is said that every young women in that town is on the waiting last of the Doltaire club. The record made by the club is not half bad for what was organized as an old maid's club.

Driver Had Two Ribs Broken.

When answering a call the patrol wagon from Central station was run into by Madison avenue street car, No. 778, at Strawberry alley and Smithfield street, shortly after 10 o'clock last night. Driver Thomas McAndrews, 60 years old, was thrown off his seat. McAndrews was taken to his home at No. 10 Federal street, where it was found that two ribs on his right side were broken.

WHAT THE OLD DOCTOR SAID.
"Doctor," said I, "you say appendicitis is much more common than it was thirty years ago."
"Indeed it is," replied the old doctor. "That we encountered this disease then, is true, but not with such appalling frequency. Appendicitis, these days, is almost as common as sore throat."
"To hasty eating and to the use of foods which have a tendency to clog and fret the intestines and deaden peristaltic action. The way to avoid appendicitis and the surgeon's knife is to shun unnatural foods that beget intestinal torpor and constipation."
People who eat Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit do not have constipation and hence need not fear appendicitis. This perfectly natural food preserves the tone of the digestive tract and induces every excretory gland to subserve the body's interests. Have you tried this most delicious of all cereal foods?
"I have been eating your Shredded Wheat for over a year and it has completely cured me of constipation, with which I had been troubled for twenty years." — Joseph Jessop, Beldon Hall, Coronado Beach, Cal.

BANK ASKS FOR AN ACCOUNTING

JUVENILE COURT AT WORK

The Homewood Peoples bank filed a bill in equity against William and Robert H. Marshall. It was asked that they be restrained from disposing of certain interests in a brick manufacturing business; that they render an accounting to the plaintiff; that they be compelled to disclose a certain transaction and that the court appoint a receiver for the business.

The bank, it is said, had several claims against Thomas Marshall, who was associated in the business with the defendants, and after an action at law the interests of the partnership were sold. It is alleged that Thomas Marshall was the owner of nearly all of the concern, reputed to have a valuation of $65,000, but that he delivered certain of his interests to the defendants without consideration. It is alleged the defendants had no money with which to purchase the share of Thomas Marshall, and that the purpose of the latter in placing the assets in the hands of the defendants was to evade the plaintiff's claim.

Judge Marshall Brown held a brief session of juvenile court yesterday and sentenced Roy Davis, an 11-year-old boy, to Morganza. He was charged with stealing a gallon of ice cream from Albert Forsythe of Homestead, and the constables of that borough thought he was the leader of a gang of boys that had committed several larcenies. It was Davis' second appearance before Judge Brown. On the former occasion the court was lenient.

Lawrence A. Thompson entered suit against Frank Jones and George B. Boswell to recover $3,799.77, alleged to be due as the result of Jones' failure to complete a sub-contract on the insane department building at Claremont within the specified time. Boswell was Jones' bondsman.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Executions were issued as follows: Joseph Weiskircher against Philip Volk, $4,100; William E. Phillips against Benjamin B. and Ella Harrison, $158.

The American Trust Company, through Trust Officer Brooks, took out letters on the $40,000 estate of Emaline G. Bennett, of which it is executor. The testatrix left all her property to her family.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Agnes J. Aston against Samuel Aston was filed. They were married December 24, 1889, and separated in March, 1901. Drunkenness is charged. The libellant claims that when she sent her husband for money to bury their dead child the respondent returned staggering drunk.

MILLIONS OF PERIODICALS.

e annual report of the board of pub on to the synods of the United Pres ian Church of North America has been compiled. The total circulation eriodicals for the past year is 5,530,- In addition to these regular publica others have been put out by the d, among them a 681-page manual of United Presbyterian Church of North erica.

he board will publish about November a book of psalm selections. The music as been chosen with special reference o the needs of children. A fourth issue for the new "Bible Songs" has been ordered. This will bring the total number of copies printed to 300,000. The report also states, "A book of psalm anthems, with popular music, is being prepared by Prof. H. H. McGranahan."

The last general assembly voted $5,000 for the publication's board mission work. The board is profoundly impressed with the missionary value of its work in the free distribution of church supplies and evangelical literature, and insists on its rights to be classed with the mission boards of the church. The report speaks of the notable advances made in the past year in the Sabbath schools, and reminds the presbytery that this is one of the most promising lines of evangelical work. The Sabbath school papers will be improved in appearance and color maps of Palestine will be given as free supplements to the "Bible Teacher" and "Quarterly" for 1904.

AXLE WORKS CLOSING.

The Howard axle works of the Carnegie Steel Company at Homestead is closed down with the exception of two hammers and several hundred men are rendered idle in consequence. The plant has been working but half time for the past week, and yesterday the night turn was laid off and all the day men with the exception of two crews.

No cause for the shutdown has been given, but it is rumored that arrangements are to be made in the plant to install the new system recently invented by Count Camille Maeader of rolling axles instead of forging them, as is done in the present method.

The new system is said to be a pronounced success, as a stronger and better axle can be rolled than those forged. Count Maeader is the experimental engineer of the Carnegie Steel Company, and has been at work on the new process for several years. Should the new system be introduced in the Howard plant two-thirds of the men will be thrown out of employment.

Health Officer Getting Busy.

Health Officer C. A. Walker of McKeesport is making life interesting for offenders against city ordinances. Last week 15 prosecutions were made against boarding house keepers, and thus far this week informations have been made against several more. Jasper Thomas was arrested yesterday for driving an open garbage wagon. Similar arrests are to follow.

Was Robbed While Chloroformed.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—After chloroforming H. S. Newman, the proprietor of Guy's hotel in Seventh street, and Miss Wells, his nurse, a thief, supposed to be the night clerk, escaped with $600. The clerk, who is known as Henry Deerwood, sent a telegram from Boston saying that he was about to return the money and a letter has also been received containing two checks for $100.

RIVER PACKET LINES DID GREAT BUSINESS

July was one of the best mid-summer months from a commercial point of view that rivermen have experienced. It is true that not as much coal was shipped as during July, 1902, but the shipments were heavy, amounting to 248,475 tons. This amount passed Davis Island dam, according to the report compiled yesterday at the United States engineer's office.

The packet lines did an enormous business. There was not one that did not have a big trip, and many of them were compelled to use dozens of cots to accommodate the crowds of passengers that went out on every boat. Fifty-four steamers passed Davis Iland dam, and they had good water nearly all month. The highest water was on July 7, when 9.6 feet was recorded, and the lowest on July 31, when navigation was tied up, there being only 3.5 feet at the dam.

One hundred and fifty coal boats passed up and 123 down through the locks. In their tows were coal boats going down, 104; coming up, 273; barges going down, 271; coming up, 308; flats going down, 127; coming up 111; miscellaneous, coming up, 31; going down, 30. This is an exceptionally good showing considering that not once was a real coal stage reached. If a coal stage had been reached at any time, the shipments would have probably exceeded those of July, 1902, which stands as a record, 32,000,000 bushels having been locked through Davis Island dam that month.

One thousand tons of sand and 12,575 tons of miscellaneous goods were also locked through this dam. The total tonnage going down was 255,825 tons and 6,225 tons were brought up. This shows how little is brought up the Ohio into Pittsburgh in comparison with the tonnage sent out.

The coal tonnage of lock No. 8, Monongahela river, which is about the output of the river, was 710,460 tons, which is but slightly less than the tonnage of the previous month. The other tonnage was, sand, 31,035; gravel, 56,138; general merchandise, 4,110. Boats to the number of 1,508 were locked through No. 1 and 38,602 passengers were carried on the packets plying in the Monongahela river during the month of July. There was also the usual tonnage in steel, iron and timber.

BLAME PLACED ON LAKE SHIPPERS

CANNOT GET ENOUGH BOATS

Denials That the Pittsburgh District Is Being Discriminated Against—All Sections Treated Alike—Shipments to the Lakes 50 Per Cent Over Last Year.

Unfairness on the part of coal companies in the Pittsburgh district is claimed by officials of the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads. W. C. Loree, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Pittsburgh, took occasion yesterday to deny the alleged statements of shippers of coal that the railroads are at fault in not furnishing cars for lake movements.

"The coal companies are made to say," said Mr. Loree, "that the railroads do not furnish enough cars and that as a result steamers are kept waiting at the lake ports. The case is exactly the reverse. We get the coal there and the companies are unable to get the steamers. That is the situation this morning, and it has been the situation for a month. There is no falling off in shipments, but, on the other hand, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and I will venture to assert, the Pennsylvania lines as well, are ahead in lake shipments.

"It is unnecessary to deal in speculation and say what we would like to do. That we are doing our best for the shippers here under the circumstances is sufficient. We cannot get all the cars required, but when we have anything like an abundanec we share with all sections alike. We have begun a new system of alloting cars, whereby the general superintendent is first notified of the wants of the shippers by the division superintendents. This method will work to the advantage of the shippers, and not to their detriment, as they say. I will admit that Pittsburgh offices know a great deal more about the requirements of the industries about here, but they may rest assured that their interests are being looked after as before.

"It has been my observation that shippers will ask for more cars than really needed, feeling, as they say, that their demands will be cut down. I have no criticism to offer on this point."

Practically the same statements were made yesterday by Pennsylvania lines officials. They say that there is a shortage of cars, but that the shipments of coal to the lakes from this district have increased 50 per cent over those of last season.

Mr. Loree said that at almost all of the Baltimore & Ohio lake ports there are hundreds of cars of coal waiting to be discharged. The railroads in this way are delayed by the shippers, who are unable to get water facilities. Reports from the lakes yesterday showed that there are very few statemers taking coal, and that very few are expected.

SHORTAGE OF CARS CLOSES COKE OVENS

UNIONTOWN, PA., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The shortage of cars for the shipment of coke is being seriously felt in the Fayette county coke fields and the H. C. Frick company is closing down 50 of its 400 ovens at Continental No. 1. Of the 200 ovens at Leith 10 were blown out today and 10 last week. The crews at Continental No. 1 will be transferred to Brownsville and Youngwood.

WAGE SCALE APPROVED.

Federation Window Glass Company Directors Grant 10 Per Cent Increase.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The directors of the Federation Window Glass Company, at a meeting today, confirmed the recent action of its wage committee in granting a 10 per cent increase in the wage scale. Simon Burns, president of L. A. 300, attended the conference and agreed to the insertion in the contract of a clause providing that the men will accept a proportionate reduction in wages if glass manufactured by the new machines sells for less than that made by hand.

The directors agreed upon a 20 per cent advance in the price of glass, going into effect September 1. One of the manufacturers said this evening that the factories probably will not open until October 15. Among the directors present today was William L. Monroe of Pittsburgh. The election of officers was postponed until October 5.

PITTSBURGHER IS ORDAINED A PRIEST

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—A graduate of Nashotah seminary at Delafield, Wis., John White of Pittsburgh, was today ordained a priest in the Episcopal church in the presence of his former rector, the Rev. A. Alexander of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Father White will leave at once for Nome, where he will take up missionary work. Mr. Alexander preached the ordination sermon.

Settling Troubles Away from Home.

Charles German has made information before Alderman James Sherran of the South Side against Alex Kelpsz, charging assault and battery. Both men are residents of Dilworth alley, Allegheny, and on August 1 they had a fight in a saloon in that city. Kelpsz entered suit before Alderman Welsh of the West End, against German, for assault and battery, and the magistrate imposed the costs of prosecution on the defendant.

MAYOR HAYS IS THE WHOLE THING

THAT POLICE BUREAU MUDDLE

Executive Will Attend the Board Hearing Tomorrow, When the Kennedy Case Comes Up—Changes in Sergeants Cause Trouble With the Bureau.

Mayor Hays is now the acting head of the department of public safety. Director Harry Moore went away on his vacation yesterday, and the decision to have the mayor keep an eye on the department was made at a conference held by the mayor, Moore and Thomas S. Bigelow, in the mayor's office in the morning. When Moore came out he said: "The mayor will be the acting head of the department while I am away."

The mayor himself denied that Director Moore's absence would make him acting head of the department.

"Why," he said, "the public safety department, despite reports to the contrary, is in splendid shape. I really believe that Director Moore might stay away for six months and the department would run smoothly anyhow."

"But will not the daily reports heretofore made to the director be addressed to you for the next two weeks?" the mayor was asked.

Will Attend Police Hearing.

Dispite his modest denial the mayor will take a deep interest in the workings of the public safety department. He will attend the police hearings tomorrow. At least 12 policemen will face charges, among them John A. Kennedy, who had trouble with Capt. Matthew Gorman and Lieut. Charles Grimes. The mayor will be in a position to learn all about the friction between the police and detective bureaus. Under the charter act he is responsible for every department in the city, so that he will be acting strictly within his rights in paying special attention to the workings of the safety department while Director Moore is away.

Director E. M. Bigeloy of the department of public works has been absent for some time, and in the meantime the mayor has been studying the department. No important move is made without consulting him, and it is said that he has already picked up much knowledge of the workings of the many important bureaus in Bigelow's department.

The mayor's office and the office of Controller John B. Larkin have had trouble with the payrolls of the police bureau.

Caused by Changing Sergeants.

There have been so many changes of sergeants from one district to another that the payrolls were in bad shape. The sergeants prepare the payrolls of the different stations and a green man, no matter how anxious to have the rolls right, is liable to make mistakes. Controller Larkin had a talk with Supt. McTighe of the police bureau yesterday about the payrolls, but the controller says there is really nothing serious the matter with them. Nevertheless, there has been delay in paying the policemen's wages for last month, on account of the irregularities. When the preparation of warrants is in progress, both the mayor's and the controller's offices try to expedite matters so that the men can get their money promptly.

Bruce Leggett of the Twentieth ward was yesterday appointed stenographer to the police superintendent. Leggett takes the place of Roy Fraker, who "resigned."

Supt. McTighe denies the truth of the report in circulation concerning his bureau, and he remarked that when a man had a clear conscience things like those reports had no terrors for him.

NEW HEALTH RESORT.

Reports of Discoveries of Curative Mineral Springs Near Tarentum.

Mineral springs are being discovered around Tarentum. Crowds go to the springs at Saxonburg daily to drink the water to cure rheumatism. A spring has been discovered at Hite. The water has been analyzed and compares favorably with the best mineral water in the market.

Tarentum business men own the springs at Saxonburg and a sanitarium is to be built next spring. The hotels at Saxonburg have been overtaxed daily by the number of visitors to the spring.

COREY STILL PRESIDENT.

Board of Carnegie Company Lacks Quorum—Time of Next Meeting Unknown.

There was no meeting yesterday of the board of directors of the Carnegie Steel Company to take action on the resignation of President W. E. Corey and the election of a successor. It was stated at the offices of the company that a quorum could not be obtained, owing to the absence of so many officials from the city.

No one in the offices was able to say when the board will get together.

Street Congestion in McKeesport.

A movement is on foot in McKeesport to ask councils to open Ringnold street from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to Market street. The opening would relieve the congestion of Fifth avenue and open a new business section. The cost would be high, but the men behind the project think the expense would be well merited. The properties to be taken, should the action be taken, are the Pittsburgh Brewing Company's warehouse, the Sanford Clark property and the Haben property. All of these properties are for sale.

Broker Cowan Discharged.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Joseph Cowan, the senior member of the brokerage firm of Cowan & Co., who was arrested here last week, charged with having withheld $58,000 given him by Mrs. Blanche Hubbel Smith of Milwaukee, was discharged today for lack of evidence.

MINERS SUFFERING FOR LACK OF CARS

The coal miners of the Pittsburgh district are facing a serious loss in wages on account of the scarcity of railroad cars. Ordinarily it is the operators and manufacturers whose complaints of deficiency in the car supply are heard, but Uriah Bellingham, vice president of the United Mine Workers of the Pittsburgh district, said yesterday that unless there is an improvement in conditions, great suffering will confront the miners. Along the Panhandle railroad and its branches, and along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, in Fayette county, Mr. Bellingham says, the situation is very serious.

"In the Chartiers valley, and especially along Millers run," said Mr. Bellingham, "7,000 miners are idle as a result of the lack of railroad cars. The Panhandle railroad does not furnish cars to the operators. On the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad the mines are working only four days a week. On the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad conditions are much better, for that railroad keeps the mines supplied with cars.

"The other day I was in the upper end of Fayette county, where the Washington Coal & Coke Company has four mines. Along the sidings I saw several thousand empty cars, waiting for the company to put coal into them. At mines operated by other companies hardly an empty car was to be seen. To 20 mines in this section only 13 cars were given in one week. I can't understand why this should be so, with the Washington company's mines having all the cars it wants.

"In the Pittsburgh district the miners should be getting out coal for shipment to the lakes, but there are no cars in which to put the coal, so the miners are idle. Cold weather will soon close the lakes to navigation and the coal that should have gone there will not be dug, for it cannot be transported on the lakes. I think I may safely say that things are in worse shape than they have ever been before."

PRINTERS IN SESSION.

Convention of International Union Opens at Washington. Cortelyou Present.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The forty-ninth session of the International Typographical union began at the Columbia theater this morning with a large majority of the 315 delegates present. Chairman Whitehead of the local committee on arrangements, presided, while by his side sat Secretary Cortelyou of the department of commerce and labor; Public Printer Palmer and a number of other guests.

The convention opened by prayer by the Rev. George E. Maydwell, pastor of the Waugh Methodist Episcopal church, who was formerly a printer. He was followed by Commissioner McFarland, who delivered the address of welcome, and he in turn by the Hon. Willis Moore, chief of the weather bureau. Mr. Moore was at one time a printer, and he spoke as one of the craft, congratulating the union upon its strength, upon the progress made and the influence exerted.

President Lynch responded to the welcome address. He expressed the opinion that in a few years the union would number 100,000 members, and closed by formally calling the meeting to order.

At 11 o'clock the convention adjourned until tomorrow in order to permit the members to accept the invitation of the local union to spend the remainder of the day in an excursion down the Potomac.

RECEIVER FOR A ROAD.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 10.—Vice Chancellor Pitney today appointed John W. Hardenberg of Jersey City and Lucian D. Ross of New York temporary receivers of the Coahulia & Pacific Railroad Company, a New Jersey corporation organized in 1899 to construct and operate a railroad in New Mexico. The application for a receiver was made by John T. Detwiler of Jersey City, one of the stockholders.

The liabilities of the company are given as $381,000, exclusive of a mortgage of $2,500,000, held by the New Jersey Title, Guarantee and Trust Company. The company was capitalized at $1,000,000 and received a subsidy from the state of Coahulla of $750,000. Detwiler says the road is without funds. The temporary receivers are authorized to borrow $50,000 for the purpose of conducting the road until the further order of the court.

A STRONG STATEMENT AND WE PROVE IT.

When you need a medicine you should get the best. We sell thousands of different medicines prepared to cure various ailments, but we have never sold a medicine which we think so highly of or of which we have heard so many good words spoken, as DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.

It will positively cure any disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, if the case is curable. It will do more than that as you will see when you use it.

No more highly respected man lives in Pittsburgh than C. E. Dudenhaver of 543 Cora street, Brushton, Pittsburgh. Read what he has to say of this excellent medicine: "Last fall I developed an aggravated case of catarrh. A number of doctors treated me with no permanent result. I was compelled to resign my position on account of my declining health. One day I ran across an advertisement of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I concluded to try, and I began to improve in health soon after I began its use and I did not have to continue long until I was cured.

My wife had been troubled with the same complaint most of her life and upon my suggestion used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured.

We sell this great medicine in two sizes at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle, and believe that any one suffering from any of the terribly painful and dangerous diseases for which it is prepared, will, after using it, thank us for recommending it to them.

STEADIER TONE TO EASTERN STOCKS

Brokers' Checks Passed the Clearing House O. K., There Were No Failures, and the Market Closed Near the Top.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Wall street was prepared for the worst before the opening of the market yesterday and—it did not happen. On the contrary, the market closed firm and near the top, after a day of some nervousness and suppressed excitement. The break which had occurred in the market after the appearance of Saturday's bank statement produced a most depressed feeling and was responsible for a revival of rumors which took liberties not only with the names of some members of the exchange, but included the names of financial institutions. It was, therefore, felt that yesterday would witness further forced liquidation and probably the announcement of failures. Even when London's quotations for American securities came strong and higher, the street looked upon them with skepticism, believing them to be the result of manipulation from this side. The opening, however, was entirely free from the expected pyrotechnics. Trading was active, and a number of specialties opened lower, but there was no overwhelming liquidation such as presaged the announcement of trouble last week and the week before. On the other hand there was evidence of supporting orders, and stocks thrown overboard were absorbed by strong interests. The supporters, however, made no attempt to "bull" the market; they were merely protecting it against attack. A moderate recovery occurred shortly after the opening, and then the bears marshaled their force and drove prices down, some leading stocks making new low records. About this time the oversold condition of Canadian Pacific became apparent. The stock was loaning at a comparatively high premium, both in New York and in Montreal, and the shorts trying to cover rushed the price up from 122½ to 126. There was a sharp reaction to 122, a quick recovery to 124, and for the remainder of the session the stock was less active and less erratic. Another stock the recovery in which did much to allay apprehension was Union Pacific, which opened at 68, advanced to 69½, declined to 67½ and then steadily recovered to 70 near the close.

The granger group received considerable attention, for the reason that the government crop report was due after the close of the market, and these stocks were expected to reflect sentiment in regard thereto. Atchison opened at 54½, rallied a point, broke to 54, and late in the day rallied to 56. Missouri Pacific opened at 87, advanced to 88½, broke to 85¾, and recovered to 88. The course of St. Paul, Rock Island and Illinois Central was also irregular, but all of them participated in the late rally and closed near the top.

The industrial list was very weak and irregular during the early part of the day. Consolidated Gas broke 4 per cent to 164, but recovered to 167. General Electric made a new low record by breaking from 150¼ to 148¼, but it made a strong rally to 151¼ at the close. Amalgamated Copper was comparatively steady, its opening price of 37¾ being the lowest of the day, and late in the afternoon the stock reached 39½. United States Steel common declined a fraction to 20⅝, but recovered to 21½. The preferred made a new low record by selling at 67½, but it also recovered all the loss, selling at 68¾, and closing at 68½ bid. The new 5s sold off 1½ per cent to 76¼, a new low price. Sugar declined to 108⅜, the lowest of the year, and United States Leather preferred broke from 77 to 74¾.

Republic Iron and Steel preferred declined to 60 in the face of its good report of earnings, but recovered to 61 at the close. The trading during the day was unevenly distributed. During the first two hours the sales exceeded 400,000 shares, or at the rate of more than 1,000,000 shares a day, but the total sales were only 756,000 shares.

The news which developed during the session of the market was all of a favorable character. Sterling exchange declined to the lowest of the year, the decline being credited to heavy purchases of American stocks by foreigners. Call money rates remained easy at 2@2½ per cent, at one time touching 3 per cent, but closing at 2¼ per cent. Railroad earnings were all encouraging, those for the first week in August showing an increase over the corresponding period last year. The increase in the Canadian Pacific dividend was not announced until after the market closed.

The government crop report did not appear until after the close of the market. It showed a further depreciation in spring wheat, corn and oats, and it will be accepted as foreshadowing a considerably reduced yield as compared with last year. The condition of spring wheat was placed at 71.1, a decline of 5.4 per cent from the July figures and a decline of 12.6 per cent from the figures of August last year. The yield of winter wheat was estimated at 12.4 bushels to the acre, which, calculated upon an acreage of 33,750,000 acres, would indicate a yield of 416,000,000 bushels. This is a decrease of 37,000,000 bushels from the indicated yield in July, but is almost identical with the crop actually harvested last year. Corn was reported at 78.7, a decline of less than a point from the July figures, but 7.8 per cent below the estimate for August, 1902, in which year we harvested the largest crop of record. The present figures, however, are 24.7 points above the August estimate in 1901, and while it is yet too early to estimate the final yield in 1903, it is likely to approximate 2,000,000,000 bushels, provided there are no serious backsets between now and October. The condition of oats was reported at 79.5, a decline of 4.8 for the month, and of 9.9 compared with the corresponding date last year. The final rally in the stock market and the decline in the grain markets were attributed to an inkling as to the nature of the government report, but the latter did not justify either movement. The stock market, however, is much lower now than it was at the corresponding time in 1901, when the crop outlook was decidedly worse than at present, and in the judgment of competent observers prices today have discounted the worst that can happen to the crops or to industrial affairs.

The local stock market was dull and heavy at the opening, and later in the day when some improvement took place in prices, in sympathy with the better tone in the east, trading here came almost to a standstill. The only stock in which the dealings reached 1,000 shares was Crucible Steel common, which sold off to 10⅝, but recovered to 11, a net gain of ¼ for the day. The preferred sold off to 71¼, and closed at that price bid, a net loss of ½. Only 100 shares United States Steel changed hands all day, and the stock closed ¼ higher than on Saturday. The preferred declined to 67, which was ¼ below the low price touched in the east, but it recovered to and closed at 68½, a loss for the day of ½ per cent. Only 25 shares Pittsburgh Coal common changed hands all day at 26, but the stock recovered to 26¾ bid at the close. Twenty shares of the preferred sold at 83, which was unchanged. River Coal common was unchanged at 10¼, but the preferred lost a fraction, selling at 37½. Westinghouse Airbrake declined 2 points to 147, the lowest for years. Westinghouse Electric declined to 80¼, but rallied to 81½, closing at that price bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was moderately active within a narrow range, closing unchanged at 32. Bank and trust company stocks were dull and 1 to 3 per cent lower, closing at the decline.

FEATURES OF THE DAY.

IN PITTSBURGH.

IN WALL STREET.

Short demands were conspicuous in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Metropolitan.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Manufacturers Light & Heat was one of the few local stocks for which there was a market within a narrow range of fluctuations. A little over 800 shares changed hands yesterday at 31⅛ to 32, the close being unchanged. It is said a large proportion of the stock that has recently been sold was taken by investors in Washington county, who are quite bullish on natural gas stocks. The bulk of Ohio Fuel Supply is also said to have gone into the hands of Washington county buyers. Owing to its experience with Philadelphia Company, Pittsburgh does not enthuse over the prospects for the newer gas stocks, although acknowledging that the management of both Manufacturers and Ohio Fuel is in the most experienced hands in the business.

The directors of the National Fire Proofing Company are scheduled to meet next Thursday to take action on the dividend on the common stock. So far as known, the regular 1½ per cent quarterly will be declared. The Fire Proofing stocks were inactive yesterday, 50 shares of the common at 21⅞ and 10 shares of the preferred at 32¾, constituting the day's business.

Westinghouse Airbrake made a new low record by selling at 147, a net loss of $2 a share. Only 70 shares Electric changed hands all day at 80¼ to 81½, the stock closing at 81½ bid.

Only 25 shares common and 20 shares preferred Pittsburgh Coal changed hands all day. The common sold at 26, a decline of 1 per cent, but it recovered to 26¾ bid at the close. Important financial developments in connection with the company are expected in the near future.

Colonial Trust was nominally quoted at 450 bid, 500 asked. There were no sales. There were no quotations on American Trust.

The quarterly dividend on United States Steel preferred is payable next Saturday, and the transfer books, which have been closed since July 21, will reopen next Monday. On the latter date the transfer clerks "will get busy," if reports of Pittsburgh commission brokers are any guide to operations in the stock during the past three weeks. One local broker stated yesterday that his house will have fully a thousand shares to be split up and transferred to the names of new investors who have bought for cash since the closing of the books. The purchases range from five to 50 shares, and they were made for the dividends paid, the yield at current prices being over 10 per cent. Many of the buyers were evidently never before interested in the stock market, judging from the explanations necessary to account for the non-delivery of certificates in the name of the buyer immediately upon the execution of the order. For the benefit of the uninitiated a brief statement may be made, which will apply to practically all stock corporations. When a certificate of stock is issued, the name of the owner thereof is recorded on the books of the company. This is to enable the company to have the name and address of all its shareholders, to whom it may send notices of meetings, checks for dividends, etc. When the owner of a certificate sells all or part to a new investor, new certificates must be issued and the names of the new owners are recorded on the books of the company. When a dividend is declared the directors not only fix the date of payment, but the dates between which no stock will be transferred to new buyers. The interval between these dates when the transfer books are "closed" is the time required by the company to give its clerks the opportunity for copying the names of stockholders entitled to dividends, calculating the amount in dollars and cents, drawing and indorsing the dividend checks, and mailing the same to stockholders. While the books are closed the buying and selling of stock goes on, but the issue of new certificates and the transfer of stock from the old to the new owner on the records of the company can not be made until after the date for reopening the books. Ordinarily the buyer pays his broker when he receives notice that the stock has been bought and receives a receipt in the shape of a due bill for the number of shares purchased. When the transfer books are opened the broker obtains the new certificate and delivers the latter to the customer upon the return of the receipt or due bill. This is the custom with all stocks that are paying dividends. In the case of nondividend paying stocks delivery is often made of a certificate in the name of a former buyer, which is properly indorsed and witnessed and thereafter passes from hand to hand like a bank note.

Wall street revived the story that St. Paul contemplated the issue of $25,000,000 new stock authorized last year and now in the company's treasury.

The June statement of Chicago Great Western shows an increase in net earnings of $109,339. For the fiscal year the net increased $623,000. Last August the stock sold at 35. Yesterday it sold at 13⅜.

According to the United States Investor, bond sales for the month of July amounted to $16,149,868, not including temporary loans. Of the above amount $11,847,428 were issued by cities and towns, $1,914,440 by counties and $2,388,000 by states. This amount shows an increase of $1,077,958 over the $15,071,910 for the month of June and an increase of $2,742,010 over the $13,407,858 for July, 1902.

The directors of Rubber Goods Manufacturing have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable September 15.

It is said that there are six brokerage houses in New York whose aggregate liabilities were above $300,000,000 in 1902, and who do not today in the aggregate owe $50,000,000.

Improvements and repairs	1,148,763	1,011,244
Balance	2,974,736	2,248,831
Dismantled plants	233,836
Net profits	2,740,900	2,248,831
Dividends	1,427,082	1,424,107
Surplus	1,313,818	824,724

After the close of the market it was announced that the Canadian Pacific directors had declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, thus placing the stock on a 6 per cent basis. Heretofore it has paid 5 per cent per annum. In Montreal shorts had to pay $20 a day for the use of 100 shares borrowed stock and in New York a still higher premium was exacted.

THE MONEY MARKET

The local money market is firm at 6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Money, 2@3 per cent; the rate for short bills is 2¾@2 11-16 per cent; the rate for three months bills is 2 1-16@2¾ per cent; Consols for money, 91; Consols for account, 91¼.

The stock markets opened idle and dull. There were some liquidations owing to the approach of the settlement. Attention was mainly directed to the mining shares. Consols and home rails were depressed on the weakness of Americans. A general recovery, however, took place later. Americans governed by the demoralization in Wall street on Saturday were nervous and undecided.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—The Boerse was depressed today by the situation in New York and the advices from Macedonia. Coal and iron shares were offered in considerable quantities at lower prices. Canadian railroads were firm, ostensibly because of the large short account which exists in Wall street. There was hardly any transaction during the last hours of the market.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The Bourse today was heavy and uneventful. The Macedonian troubles had a somewhat depressing influence on international securities. Industrials were inactive. The close was calm and rather feeble. The private rate of discount was 2 3-16 per cent.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $230,417,938; gold, $101,639,542; silver, $29,876,746; United States notes, $11,936,039; treasury notes of 1890, $100,240; national bank notes, $15,686,828; total receipts this day, $2,000,689; total receipts this month, $17,784,571; total receipts this year, $66,396,147; total expenditures this day, $1,880,000; total expenditures this month, $14,820,000; total expenditures this years, $71,208,189; deposits in national banks, $156,007,735.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Money on call steady at 2@3¼ per cent; closing, 1¾@2½ per cent; time money firm; 60 days, 4 per cent; 90 days, 4½@4¾ per cent; six months, 5½@6 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5¾@6 per cent; sterling exchange heavy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 85.45@4 85.50 for demand and at $4 82.85@4 82.90 for 60-day bills; posted rates, $4 84@4 86½; commercial bills, $4 82¼@4 82¾; bar silver, 54⅞c; Mexican dollars, 43c; government bonds steady; railroad bonds heavy.

Banks and Treasury.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,000,000; payment by banks to government, $3,469,000; balance on the day's transactions, $469,000, paid by banks to government; total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $234,000, against $2,030,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—It is expected this week that drygoods will show a slight reflection at least at first hands, of the increased business which has been done by jobbers both locally and throughout the country. Buyers want goods for immediate delivery, and are willing to pay asking prices.

Consul Lincoln's Body Arrives.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Red Star steamship Finland, which arrived today, brought the body of George F. Lincoln, United States consul general at Antwerp, who died in Brussels late in July.

Viaduct Over Bowman Hollow.

Within a few weeks trolley cars will be running from McKeesport to East Pittsburgh over the North McKeesport line. The road is owned by Bowman Brothers of McKeesport, and cars have been running for some time under an agreement with the Pittsburgh Railways Company. Now a force of men are erecting a viaduct over Bowman hollow, which will give the new company its own route into East Pittsburgh.

WALL STREET MARKET GAINS IN STEADINESS

Buying of Excellent Character Exerts Beneficial Influence.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

The stock market yesterday was nervous and excited all day, but it made a strong effort to pull itself together after Saturday's demoralizing break, and this effort, all things considered, was fairly successful. The movement of the day was highly irregular, due for the most part to liquidation on the one hand and short profit-taking and covering on the other. With it all there was some buying of excellent character, both on the part of foreigners and of domestic investors. That there were moderate supporting orders in the market there is no reason to doubt, but bankers participating in such movements said that it required the purchase of relatively small amounts of stock to steady meritorious stocks, and the action of the standard shares went far toward confirming this opinion.

Little or no attention was paid to the news developments of the day, and, in fact, the news which came out during business hours was for the most part of an unimportant character and without influence on prices. After the close of the market the crop statement was published. It was rather a surprise to the grain market in the very slight deterioration shown in corn. After the close of business was also announced the increase in the Canadian Pacific dividend from a 5 to a 6 per cent basis.

The security market, like many which have preceded it, was controlled by general rather than specific influences, with the possible exception of the Canadian Pacific incident, when a calling of stock and a bidding up of prices discouraged short selling. Liquidation and some bear raiding at the opening forced numerous low prices and some extensive declines, but the latter, for the most part, appeared in the specialties and the general railway list was well maintained. There was some buying from both European and American investors in the market, and this had a steadying influence. There were some signs of professionalism at the close and speculative sentiment was more hopeful.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE.

Ceremony Will Take Place at Noon Today at the New Nixon Theater.

Samuel Nixon of Nixon & Zimmerman arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday after a month's vacation in Europe. The corner stone of the Nixon theater will be laid today at noon.

Many prominent theatrical managers from the east will be here and take part in the ceremony. G. Nixon Nirdlinger, son of Mr. Nixon, and general manager of the Nixon & Zimmerman enterprises, with Mr. Marshall, will also be here. The Rev. S. Edward Young will officiate. When completed the Nixon will be managed by Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., now manager of the Alvin theater.

Mobe Drivers Reach Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—E. T. Fetch and M. C. Krarup completed a 3,000-mile trip from San Francisco to this city in an automobile today. They were entertained by a number of automobile enthusiasts, and will stay in Chicago until tomorrow morning when they will continue on their journey to New York city.

Standard Investment Bonds.

The Colonial Trust Company, 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, offers for sale a variety of bonds, yielding the purchaser from 4½ to 5¾ per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

News from the Rociado mining district of the richest strike in the history of the camp has been recived. At the depth of 100 feet in the Arizona mine, owned principally by Gov. D. A. Hadley, a vein carrying 40 per cent pure copper and running several dolars in gold and silver was uncovered.

The annual meeting of the Pharmacist Gold Mining Company will be held September 7. For the fiscal year there has been shipped from the mine 1,878 tons of a gross value of $51,863 69, which had a net value of $32,124 28, and from which was received in royalties $7,726 28. The gross value of the ore per ton was $27 61, treatment charges $10 50, net value per ton $17 11, and royalty per ton, $4 11. This property has been worked under the leasing system for the past two years.

The cost of making Wolverine copper during the fiscal year ended June 30 was 7.125 cents per pound. During the previous year it was 13.82 cents, the figures including construction charges in both instances. A reduction of nearly 50 per cent is a notable performance. It is accounted for by the smaller construction account, the improved copper yield of the rock stamped and the better service brought about by the new stamp mill.

After a variable career covering a half century, the Allouez seems to be in a fair way of obtaining a mine with the proper proportion of copper. Developments on adjacent property render it practically certain that the Kearsarge lode is well mineralized on the Allouez tract. The new shaft which is going down to pierce the underlay of this formation is 40 feet deep.

At the works of the Pittsburgh & Montana Mining Company, better known as the Farrell properties, on the flat east of Butte, an army of men is engaged in the construction of a smelter and mining work. Two shafts are being sunk. They have reached a depth of 900 feet. It is reported that some very high grade copper glance has been struck in one of the shafts at its lowest point. A wooden gallows frame is being erected and a spur is being built to the Northern Pacific railroad. The main structure of the smelter is well under way. Mr. Baggaley of Pittsburgh and Don Gillies are giving the work their personal supervision. All the property of the company, about 300 acres, is being fenced. The Pittsburgh Company has bonded several properties in the Cataract district, near Basin, and a shaft will be sunk 500 feet to develop the sulphide ores, which are to be used as a flux for the Butte ores. The company has expended more than $1,000,000 in buying mining property and erecting a reduction plant.

The nine mines of the Amalgamated Copper Company, which suspended July 1, because of the incompletion of the gigantic flues of the Washoe smelters at Anaconda, by which it is planned to remedy the smoke nuisance, will resume the hoisting of ore about August 20. The mines are the Mountain Consolidated, High Ore, Anaconda, St. Lawrence, Bell Parrot, Moonlight, Nevr eSweat and Diamond. Development work in several of the mines have been in progress right along. At the Anaconda the shaft is being sunk below the 2,000 foot station. When this work is completd ethere will be several hundred feet of new stoping around which an unlimited quantity of ore can be extracted.

The Horseshoe cyanide plant at the Mogul mine in Ruby Basin is in commission. The mill was completed and the machinery all connected last week. It is being supplied with ore from the Mark Twain and Golden Sands dumps. These dumps wer eformed while the two mines were turning out high grade ore for shipment. This is the largest complete crushing cyanide plant in the Black Hills. It will ultimately have a capacity of 1,000 tons a day. At present the crushing complement consists of 60 stamps working in a solution of cyanide. Water for the mill will be furnished from the Mogul shaft.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Spot tin declined to £128 10s in London, and futures there declined 17s 6d to £123 2s 6d. Locally tin was about 40 points lower at $28 75@29 12½. POLICE ARE PUZZLED.

Strange Story of Masked Thieves and Heavy Sleepers.

Allegheny police are puzzled by an alleged robbery at the residence of Joseph Schuck of No. 33 McDonald street, Allegheny. It was reported that the house had been entered by masked thieves early yesterday morning and robbed of $31 in cash. Assistant Superintendent John Glenn sent Detectives King and Ehrhardt to the house to make an investigation.

Mrs. Schuck, who says she saw the robbers, was reluctant to talk. She asserts that two masked men climbed her side porch, went through a room in which her daughters were sleeping, and threatened to shoot her if she made a noise. Then the men, she says, forced open a small box in which she had $31. This they took and went out the way they had entered, overlooking some rings and other jewelry that was in plain view on a dresser.

A 13-year-old son, who was sleeping with Mrs. Schuck, was not aroused, nor were either of her daughters.

Future of College to Be Settled.

The southern district of the Lutheran Church Synod of Ohio and other states will hold its annual meeting in St. Paul's church, Allegheny, beginning tomorrow and holding sessions for one week. The principal topic to be discussed is the matter of taking Lima college, Lima, O., under the care of the synod.

BIGGER THINGS TO COME.
Because there are so many rich men in Pittsburgh it does not follow that there is no money left for others. Where much money is, much money is to be made. There will be more of it made in the next few years than ever in the past. My customers have the very best means of learning how money is to be made in stocks; and the advantage of the best equipment of obtaining information and executing orders.

FINCH DISTILLERY PROPERTY SOLD

AN EAST PITTSBURGH PROJECT

Lot Sellers Are Making More Liberal Terms of Payment—A Bluff Street Sale of $20,500—New Building Projects. Many House Sales.

John W. Painter of McKeesport has conveyed his interest in the old Finch distillery property on the South Side, to his partner, James B. Pontefract of Allegheny, for $100,000. The property is in two parcels, lying on opposite sides of Third street, and extending from McKean street to the low water line of the Monongahela river. The larger parcel, on which the distillery is erected, measures 180 feet in McKean street and is 530 feet deep. The other parcel, with the same depth, is about 90 feet wide. Besides the distillery, a six-story structure, there are included in the sale an old bottling house and the distillery machinery, appliances and tools. Last winter this property, which belonged to Joseph S. Finch & Co., with that of the Pittsburgh Planing Mill Company adjoining it, was reported sold to the Wabash railroad several times, but no deal for either property was ever closed by the railroad officials.

No Lot Will Cost Over $250.

The C. H. Wanner Company has concluded the purchase of the Albert Chalfant farm of 100 acres at East Pittsburgh, the preliminary deal for which was announced in The Gazette several weeks ago. The exact consideration is $100,000, or $1,000 an acre, and the purchase was made for the East Pittsburgh Land Company, which received its charter last week. This company has a capital of $25,000 and the following directors: C. H. Wanner, John P. Gangswich, Frank T. Redman, Thomas M. Ward, and Harvey McKinney. The farm is located about 10 minutes' walk up Electric avenue from the Westinghouse works and is well adapted for plotting. It will be laid out at once into lots 25x120 feet each, which will be graded and provided with the usual lot improvements. It is expected to have the property ready for market by September 1. A feature of the company's scheme will be that there will be no lot in the plan costing over $250, a much lower price than has prevailed on many of the lot plans offered around the city. The company is also having plans prepared for 25 brick houses to cost $2,500 each, which it will build this fall.

Lot Buyers Get Liberal Terms.

If lot buyers are not satisfied with their bargains this year, it is not the fault of the lot sellers. Aside from the fact that the plans put on the market this summer have been better prepared, had more and better improvements and had more building in prospect than those marketed in former years, the promoters are offering the most liberal terms of payment. A few days ago a large company, operating in the West Liberty district, sent out circular letters to its patrons extending the time during which they could get the 10 per cent discount for cash 60 days more, making the total period four months from date of purchase. The Turtle Creek Land and Improvement Company, which sold 435 lots since its opening, June 20, is giving its buyers a cash discount of 15 per cent for cash up to September 1, or one-third more than the usual reduction. It has also recently notified its patrons that a 10 per cent discount will be allowed on all cash payments of $100 or over, made on or before September 1. This latter is a new proposition and promises to be of great benefit to buyers, as many of them have a large part of the purchase money saved, but cannot make their payment for some time. The company has finished putting in the water, gas and sewer mains, and will set the stone curbing in a few days. Maple avenue, which is 2,700 feet long and the main street of the plan, is being paved the entire length.

Old Homestead Changes Hands.

No. 1818 Bluff street, known as the old Cubbage homestead, has been sold to the Hausman & Wimmer Company for $20,500. It belonged to Annie Cubbage and the deal was made by E. E. Britton of the Columbia Realty Company, through Joseph M. Dixon. The lot is 90 feet wide and extends back 200 feet to Locust street. The residence is an old brick house of 12 rooms.

Architect F. C. Sauer has awarded the contract to Murphy Bros. for building the addition to the automobile establishment of Banker Bros., in Baum street, East End.

Plans are being made by Architects A. Dudgeon & Son of Wilkinsburg for a $6,500 brick residence for J. C. Logan at Denniston and Hastings avenues. The same architects are taking bids on a $7,000 residence for J. P. McKee at No. 5428 Ellsworth avenue.

Architect F. C. Sauer is taking bids on the eight-story warehouse of the Marietta Chair Company, to be erected in Liberty avenue, near Twelfth street.

A $7,000 Residence Sale.

Ward street: L. A. Clark & Co. sold for C. L. Walther to Thomas Baker No. 3315 Ward street, near Cato street, an eight-room brick house, lot 39x165 feet, for $7,000.

Auburn street: J. A. Young & Co. sold for C. M. Reimer to H. Patton, an improved lot on the south side of Auburn street, near Park avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $4,500.

Stanton avenue: J. C. Buffum sold to William McFarland an improved lot 50x125 feet, on the north side of Stanton avenue, near Dallas avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $6,250.

Allegheny: Henry W. Armstrong sold for Sarah Mackie to John and William G. Doherty, two brick buildings, lot 31.5x64 feet, at Nos. 1416-1418 Poplar street, Allegheny, for $4,700. Also for S. W. McGinness to Joseph Schneider, No. 506 Knoll street, Allegheny, a two-story frame house, lot 20x120 feet, for $2,550.

Carnegie: The Columbia Realty Company sold for the Domestic Land Company of Carnegie to the Hausman & Wimmer Company a vacant lot, 90x412 feet, adjoining the Pittsburgh Railways car barn in Carnegie, for $4,500.

Scattering Realty Deals.

Allegheny: Barr Bros. & Co. sold for David Barney to L. Rees a frame house, lot 20x110 feet, in Meade street, Fourth ward, Allegheny, for $1,550.

Bryant street: Charles H. Chance sold to Harry J. Packer an improved lot, 52x150 feet, on the west side of Bryant street, near Wilmot street, Fourteenth ward, for $8,120.

Linden avenue: The Union Realty Company sold for David S. McCann to George Steele, a lot 43x120 feet, on the north side of Linden avenue, near Fair Oaks street, Twenty-second ward, for $3,000.

Permits were issued yesterday by the Allegheny bureau of building inspection to Mrs. G. F. McKee for the erection of a two-story frame dwelling on Hill street, near California avenue, Allegheny, at a cost of $3,000; to Thomas Dudley for the erction of a two-story dwelling in Bailey avenue at a cost of $2,500.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of from 15 to 20 points under disappointing European cables, larger primary receipts and a more optimistic view of the cable claiming the need of rain in Brazil, received late on Saturday, it being argued that the new crop is not yet sufficiently advanced to have suffered any material damage. Offerings were limited, however, and later in the session the market steadied on covering and regained part of its early loss. The close was steady net 5 to 15 points lower. Sales footed up 24,000 bags, including August at $3 70@3 75; September at $3 75@3 85; November at $3 95@4 05; December at $4 35@4 40; January at $4 45; April at $4 75; May at $4 75@4 80, and July at $4 80@4 85.

SLIGHT ADVANCE IN CREAMERY BUTTER

The Elgin board of trade advanced creamery butter half a cent yesterday, and local quotations are changed accordingly. The increased price was expected here, as the market has been gaining in firmness for several days. Cheese is easy, but steady at former quotations. Eggs are quiet and prices of last week continue to prevail.

There was a decline in the price of navy beans yesterday, owing to easier conditions, both of supply and demand, the reduction in quotations amounting to a drop of 10 cents a bushel from the highest notation of last week. Red kidney beans remain firm at former figures, with stocks moderate. Flour opened the week at prices which have been ruling for several days past, sellers declining to recede any from the advanced position taken recently, mills holding steadily to quotations and buyers paying present prices without demur, realizing that the strength of the market is brought about by conditions as they exist and not by manipulation. Coffee remains featureless, with selling quiet. Sugar is steady, and without further change in quotations.

The hay and grain market was steady yesterday, the beginning of the week producing no alterations in listed prices. Receipts were light for the first business day of the week, and arrivals can be readily absorbed by the present demand. There is not a great deal of hay en route for this market just now, and dealers expect to see prices steady for a while.

Potatoes are a little firmer than they were last week, and the bushel price has taken a slight forward step. Sweets are unchanged, with selling active. A little spinach was in the market on Saturday, but it cleaned up quickly and none was offered yesterday. Egg plant is very plentiful and prices are lower. String beans are in light supply and are holding firm at $1 per bushel. Home grown tomatoes are very much scarcer than they were and prices have become stiffer, dealers having been driven to southern stock on account of the shortage of nearby supplies. Peas are a trifle easier, with offerings increased. Fruits are unchanged. California grapes have commenced to appear in the market, offering at $1 50 per box.

Spring chickens are in better supply and the price of live went off 1 cent a pound yesterday. Other poultry remains unchanged.

The Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Cotton, spot closed dull; middling uplands, 12.75c; middling gulf, 13.00c; sales, 1,200 bales; futures closed steady: August, 11.73c; September, 10.45c; October, 9.35c; November, 9.68c; December, 9.67c; January, 9.68c; February, 9.68c; March, 9.69c.

Big Producer Struck May Mean a New Field

The most important discovery in the lower southwest fields yesterday belongs to Ritchie county and is located four miles south of Petroleum, on Dry Ridge. It is owned by William Bickel & Co. and is located on the F. M. Bickel farm. The oil was developed in the Berea grit and the well is estimated to be good for 200 barrels a day. The nearest production is at Petroleum and it looks like it would open a new pool.

In the Stout district, in Doddridge county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its second test on the Albert Pearcy farm and has a show for a 20-barrel producer in the Big Injun.

In the Hebron district, in Tyler county, the American Development Company and the South Penn Oil Company have completed No. 11 on the J. G. Smith farm and have a show for a five-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand.

In Lincoln district, in the same county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the Martha A. Tustin farm through the Gordon and found that formation barren. It is now drilling to the fifth sand. The same company has drilled its test on the Jacob Dillon farm through the Big Injun and found that formation barren and is now drilling it to the Gordon.

In the Salem district, in Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its tests on the E. V. Smith and A. F. Dennison farms through the Gordon and has a brace of dusters. These two tests may be drilled to the fifth sand. In the Littleton district, in Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the George Gillingham farm into the Big Injun and has a small show of oil. It will be shot and tested. In the fifth sand district, near Fairview, Marion county, the Fisher Oil Company's No. 3 on the C. M. Toothman farm, is producing 100 barrels a day and has not been completed.

The South Penn Oil Company's No. 4 on the M. E. Brooklyn farm is producing 200 barrels and F. B. Amos' No. 1, 125 barrels a day. The Snowalter gusher, northeast of Pine Grove, has declined to 215 barrels a day.

North of Cairo, Ritchie county, the Hudson Oil Company's No. 22 on the Harkness tract is holding up at 200 barrels a day and in the Whisky Run extension there are four wells, each producing 150 barrels and one 150 barrels, and another 175 barrels a day.

The South Penn Company has completed its No. 5 on the Gertrude Stein farm, in the "Little Germany" district, in Marshall county, and has a Gordon sand producer good for 15 barrels a day. In the same district the South Penn is due in the sand at No. 4 on the same farm. The Eclipse Oil Company is due in the sand at a second test on the G. Hawkey farm. The Benton Oil Company is drilling tests on the Shivelhood and Wyman farms.

Northwest of Woodsfield, in Monroe county, O., on a branch of Sunfish creek, and about one mile northwest of the producer on the Sylvester Yoho farm, the Southern Oil Company has drilled its test on the Peter Whal farm through the second Cow Run sand and has given it a shot. It is estimated to be good for 15 barrels a day. In the Jackson Ridge field the Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the William Howell 40 acres and has a show for a five-barrel pumper in the Keener.

In the Clear Fork district, in the same county, A. A. Cameron has completed his second test on the E. E. Dillon farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. The same party has completed a second test on the Margaret Mobberly farm and has the same kind of a pumper in the grit.

On Plum run, in Harrison county, the Chicago Ferndale Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the S. G. Patton farm and has a very light pumper, not good for more than two barrels a day.

GRAIN MARKETS WERE WEAK AT THE CLOSING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Au. 10.—Wheat opened with a good show of strength, influenced by higher cables, continued small movements and unfavorable weather. The early market was active, with considerable profit-taking in the December and May deliveries, which caused an easier feeling during the first hour, but the news in general favored the bulls, a private estimate on the new crop being more pessimistic than the most enthusiastic bull had anticipated, and under this influence the market again became strong toward the noon hour. During the last hour there was quite heavy liquidation, due to reports that the private estimate on the crop prospects was altogether too low, and despite the efforts of the bulls the market receded. Primary receipts were 728,300 bushels, against 1,186,200 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 175 cars, which, with local receipts of 166 cars—44 of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 341 cars, against 325 cars last week, and 586 cars a year ago. Corn ruled strong early in the day, in sympathy with the strength in wheat and on higher cables and cold weather in the corn belt. Offerings were light at the start, but as the session advanced the distant months were offered quite freely and the market eased off. A number of traders sold out long lines on the theory that the government report had been fully discounted, while commission houses supported the market. Local receipts were 160 cars, with 23 of contract grade. Oats were firm early, but free selling by some of those houses which were selling corn turned the market easy. There was a moderate amount of trade, with commission houses giving fair support to the market. The close was at about Saturday's closing figures. Local receipts were 283 cars. Although trading in provisions was quiet prices ruled firm, due to a better tone in the hog situation. Locals were the best buyers. The close was firm, with September pork 10c higher at $13 42½. September lard was up 5c at $8 07½, while ribs were 5@7½c higher at $7 97½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 230 cars; corn, 280 cars; oats, 345 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

Cattle.

While receipts of cattle at the East Liberty stock yards today were not so heavy as those of last Monday, more than the average quantity arrived, and the market just about held its own as to quotations. Handy butcher cattle were steady, and fairly active, with other grades dull.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,500 lbs, $5 20@5 35; prime, 1,300 to 1,400 lbs, $5 00@5 15; tidy, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, $4 70@4 80; fair, 900 to 1,100 lbs, $4 20@4 50; heifers, 700 to 1,000 lbs, $3 50@4 15; bulls and cows, $2 00@4 00; fresh cows and springers, $25 00@50 00.

Hogs.

Fifty double deck loads of hogs arrived this morning, for which the demand was active, with prices higher. The advance in the list of quotations over last Monday was about 35 cents.

Prime heavy hogs, $5 75@5 80; medium, $6 20@6 30; heavy Yorkers, $6 25@6 30; light Yorkers, $6 30@6 35; pigs, $6 35@6 40; roughs, $4 00@5 10.

Sheep and Lambs.

Supply was light today, only 15 carloads arriving, less than half the amount received one week ago. As a result the market was very strong, although the range of quotations was about the same as it was at the beginning of last week for sheep, while lambs were higher. Veal calves commanded advanced figures.

Best wethers, 95 to 100 lbs, $4 10@4 25; good mixed, 85 to 95 lbs, $3 75@4 00; fair, 75 to 80 lbs, $3 25@3 60; culls and common, $1 50@2 00; yearlings, $3 00@4 50; spring lambs, $4 00@5 90; veal calves, $7 00@7 50; heavy and thin, $4 00@4 50.

USED A BUTCHER KNIFE.

Frank Stoffer, said to be the best dressed among the Slavs at Homestead, was seriously cut by John Bocko at their boarding house in Third avenue, Homestead, early yesterday morning, and is in a critical condition. Bocko is under arrest, awaiting the outcome of his victim's injuries.

On Sunday, during Stoffer's absence from the house, Bocko dressed up in Stoffer's best suit and promenaded about the streets. Stoffer learned of it and a fight followed in which Bocko cut Stoffer several times with a butcher knife.

PITTSBURGH JUNCTION RAILROAD TO BE MADE A FOUR-TRACK LINE

It has been pratically determined to change the route of the Pittsburgh Junction railroad and make the line a four-track one. Three surveys have been made, but none has been adopted. An official of the Baltimore & Ohio said yesterday that it will probably be several years before anything in this direction is done.

The object is to eliminate the grades. To do this it will be necessary to build a second tunnel, which will parallel the present one. It will be about 4,000 feet in length and will have two tracks. One of the surveys calls for a line leaving the present tracks at Forbes street and running eastward to Fortieth street, where it will swing on to the Allegheny river bridge. The other survey is west of the Junction railroad.

It is likely that the first work in straightening the line from Pittsburgh to Youngstown will be on the Pittsburgh & Western, near Bakerstown hill. These improvements were gone over last Saturday by General Manager C. S. Sims but nothing definite was reached.

The grades on the Pittsburgh Junction are very heavy. There are two of them, one reaching from Laughlin Junction to the tunnel, and the other practically from the river to the junction.

Brokers Are Active.

Lines entering Buffalo are experiencing much annoyance on account of the activity of ticket brokers. Travel to Niagara Falls has been very heavy this season, and it is said that the scalpers have reaped a perfect harvest. The operation of the Buffalo brokers has been so open and their methods so persistent that the roads have combined in employing detectives who ride on all trains.

Almost exasperated, one line recently put out a ticket, open form. This created such a protest from the Central Passenger association roads that the form was withdrawn. A few nights ago one of the excursion trains had four brokers on board. A railway official happened to be on the train, and calling a brakeman the two of them took the scalpers in hand. Since that time all trains have carried regular detectives and cases of ejectment of brokers have been frequent of late. Officials of lines out of Pittsburgh entering Buffalo, or with Buffalo connections, will not admit that they are much annoyed, although the fact of the matter is they are very much worried.

More Tracks for Lake Erie.

An official of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie stated yesterday that by November 1 the road would have in use one-third more track than at the same time last year. During the past year some expensive work has been done. However, with the vast improvements in the way of new tracks and more equipment, the officials of the Lake Erie are going to put their shoulder to the wheel to take care of the rush of business that is expected this winter.

Railroad Notes.

George T. Bishop, president of the Eastern Ohio Traction Company, will not take up the duties of general manager of the company, as first proposed by the directors. General Manager Andrews will remain in his present capacity.

For the first summer in years local lines have been compelled to shut down on vacations. The rule unfortunately applied to many men who most need rest, but the business of the companies is such that every man is needed at all times.

The Baltimore & Ohio is expecting the delivery of 100 locomotives within the next few months. Over 50 of these engines will be assigned for duty on the Pittsburgh system. Out of the 100, 75 are consolidation freight engines, 15 switching and 10 Atlantic type passenger engines. It has not been decided how many of the passenger locomotives will be allotted to Pittsburgh.

Several passenger officials at Pittsburgh will be present at the mid-summer meeting of the Central Passenger association, to be held at Mackninac island tomorrow. Business of some importance is to come up, and the Pennsylvania lines, which will be chiefly interested will be represented by E. A. Ford, general passenger agent.

THE THREE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10.—River 7.9 feet and falling. Capt. F. R. Budd of Pittsburgh was a visitor on 'change today. The Sprague was under steam today. She was found to be in good working order and will be taken to the Mill Creek landing, where she will lay until sufficient water comes to allow her being taken to the lower river. Capt. R. L. Dunn, engineer of the steamer Albia, was robbed Sunday of $100 in cash and a diamond ring, which he had hidden in the oil cup of one of his engines. Business was livelier on the river front today than for several months past. All local packets on time. No towboat movements.

WHEELING—River 4 feet 9 inches; up, Cricket, Pittsburgh, 10 p. m.; down, Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet 7 inches and stationary; Woodward goes down Tuesday; Columbia up.

PARKERSBURG—River 4 feet and falling; no boats; the Kanawha will go on the docks here for a general overhauling.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary.

GALLIPOLIS—River 5 feet and about stationary.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 7 inches and falling.

PACKETS IN AND OUT.

Water Is Falling—No Other Cincinnati Boat This Week.

The water in the rivers is again falling. There was 4 feet at Davis Island dam yesterday afternoon. All the packets from downriver points arrived at the wharf on time. The little Cricket came up in place of the Ben Hur, although there was enough water for the Parkersburg packet to get in.

The Keystone State left yesterday afternoon with rooms crowded with passengers. She also had a big trip in freight. There will be no other packet for Cincinnati this week. The Cricket left yesterday afternoon for Parkersburg. The Kanawha leaves this afternoon for Charleston and Kanawha river points.

The Enterprise came in yesterday with empties from Marietta. She is the only towboat to come through the locks at Davis Island dam in some time.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 4 feet and the river was falling.

The Edgar Cherry will be placed in the Brownsville trade tomorrow. The Rose Hite will be tied up at Brownsville.

The Nellie Bartlett was inspected at Freedom yesterday. The Wasp and the boilers of the Sam Brown will be inspected today and the E. W. Grove will be inspected at Allegheny tomorrow.

CARRIE NATION TO SUE CITY FOR FALSE ARREST

SCRANTON, PA., Aug. 10.—Carrie Nation's summary conviction for selling hatchets in violation of the city ordinance was declared illegal by Judge Newcomb today, when her application for a writ of habeas corpus came before him. The writ was sustained on the ground that the magistrate's record was refective. Mrs. Nation's counsel will bring suit against the city for $50,000 damages for false imprisonment.

DEATH OF WIFE LENDS JOY TO CELEBRATION

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The most remarkable wedding anniversary celebration New York has ever had will be given tomorrow night at Webster hall, when Henry Michael of No. 94 First avenue, will celebrate with pomp and ceremony his silver wedding. Mr. Michael's wife died a year ago last Christmas. But notwithstanding her demise he will celebrate just the same, and with this object in view will spend about $2,000 in the entertainment of his 800 friends.

Mr. Michael, who is a big, ruddy, jovial man of 46, told a reporter today that the dinner would cost about $1,500 and the "stuff to drink," including 1,000 bottles of wine and 75 kegs of beer, $700.

"I want my friends to have a good time, and I guess they will," said the happy fish merchant. "That's all this blow-out is going to be for, just a good time for my customers and friends that have given me a chance to make a little money. I am not mad, and I am willing to give it back to them as they gave it to me.

"When my wife died, a year ago last Christmas, it was both a gift and a blow to me, though we had not been living together for more than a year. For the 20 years or so we were married she made life pretty trying for me. I am easy-going and would stand for her helping herself out of the till, running off and coming back whenever she took a mind to.

"She had me hauled up in court half a dozen times," continued Mr. Michael, "and we were dispossessed out of every place we lived in. Once when I was out of work she had me arrested for non-support. The court told me to go to work. He might just as well have told Gould or Vanderbilt or Rockefeller to carry a hod. After that the court put me under bonds to give her alimony, which I did. But this ain't in no way a celebration of her demise, though I can't say as I'd call her back."

STOLEN RABBITS CARRY DEADLY DISEASE GERMS

They Had Been Inoculated With Tetanus, Tuberculosis, Typhus and Smallpox.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MADRID, Aug. 10.—Forty-seven rabbits, which have been kept at the bacteriological institute for experimental purposes, and in which have been inoculated the germs of tuberculosis, typhus, smallpox, rabies, tetanus and other of the most deadly diseases, have been stolen, and it is feared eaten by the thieves and others to whom they have been disposed as ordinary healthy rabbits. Since the theft was discovered the police have been bending all their energies to the tracing of the deadly animals and the people who have partaken of them, while the medical authorities are looking out for serious outbreaks of diseases, with which they may have some difficulty in coping successfully. The rabbits cannot be found and results are being awaited.

Every one of the animals stolen was inoculated with the virus of a most deadly disease. Every person who has eaten these rabbits may become a plague center for the spreading of some of the most violent and fatal diseases known to medical science.

LONDON—The house of lords passed the sugar convention bill which was adopted by the house of commons.

GIBRALTAR—The American squadron under Rear Admiral Cotton has arrived here from Lisbon on its way to Villefranche, Southern France.

LONDON—The repeal of the proclamation prohibiting the exportation of arms and ammunition to China, was published in the London Gazette.

VIENNA—The strike riots at Cracow, Austrian Poland, have resulted, according to a Cracow newspaper, in 60 deaths since August 5, through conflicts between the strikers and the troops.

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY—Count Herdervary informed the lower house of the government's resignation and announced that Emperor Francis Joseph was coming to Hungary to form a cabinet.

LONDON—The steamship Cymric, leaving Liverpool August 14 for New York, will have Senator and Mrs. Chauncey Depew among her passengers. The Oceanic, sailing August 12, for New York, will take G. L. Watson, the yacht designer.

VIENNA—In consequence of the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, and the subsequent attitude of the Servian military officers, both Russia and Austria have decided to send home all the Servian officers studying in their military schools. Russia has forbidden her officers to have either official or social intercourse with Servian officers.

BELGRADE, SRVIA—King Peter's children, Crown Prince George, Princess Helena and Prince Alexander, arrived here from St. Petersburg. The king awaited their coming at the station. The premier welcomed the crown prince, who expressed his delight at arriving on the soil of his forefathers. The royal party subsequently attended a te deum at the cathedral.

FINLAND THE WINNER.

Red Star Liner Victorious in Ocean Race With the Ryndam.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—After being in sight of the Ryndam, a Holland American liner, for five days, the Red Star line steamship Finland, which arrived this afternoon from Antwerp, beat the former into port by about three hours. The Finland left Antwerp August 1, and when she was passing Flushing the smoke of the Ryndam was seen ahead. When night came the two vessels were about in the same relative positions.

Allen Kaplan, a second cabin passenger from Phoenixville, Pa., was forced to borrow $5 from an expressman to get to his home. He alleges that after spending $1,500 while abroad he was robbed during the trip of his last $5, which he had saved to pay his fare home.

FRANK A. PARKER.

Record of Old Gentleman Who Consumed Four of Them Every Day for 60 Years.

LAUREL, L. I., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—This village has a pancake problem which some city reader with a mathematical mind and a few leisure hours may assist it in solving. It is this: Find the bulk, superficial contents and number of pancakes, Uncle Joe Wells consumed in the last 60 years.

Mrs. Wells, who is a spry woman of 85 years, was married to Uncle Joe before her 15th birthday, and she boasts that every day since then, without a break, she has baked pancakes for him. Mrs. Wells confesses that the old gentleman always eats four at a sitting, and that he "sits" down to pancakes once a day. In 60 years then he would consume 87,000 pancakes, with perhaps a few added when he had company and wished to "show off."

MANHATTAN THIEF TACKLES SECTION OF ROOF

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Thieves are working both ends against the middle in New York. George Ackerman was arrested today as the rival of the man who stole the redhot stove. Ackerman deftly purloined a large section of a copper roof, but a policeman saw him and gave him a ride. Next comes Charles T. Barney and accuses James Flannigan of stealing about 5,000 feet of sod. Flannigan wanted it to add to the beauties of a baseball park.

ONE MORE VICTIM IN BALL PARK ACCIDENT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—Robert Cling died this afternoon in Samaritan hospital, making the ninth death as a result of the accident at National league baseball park. The unknown man, who is supposed to have died at St. Luke's hospital and taken away by friends, has been located and is still alive.

THINKS PRESIDENT'S LETTER WILL DO GOOD

Gov. Durbin in Answering the Epistle Says Nation Will Heed the Warning.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Aug. 10.—Governor Durbin today sent a formal reply to the letter he received yesterday from President Roosevelt concerning the recent mob at Evansville. It is as follows:

Dear Mr. President:

Acting in accordance with the suggestion made by the secretary to the president, I yesterday telegraphed you my approval of the communication you have seen fit to address to me under date of August 8. In doing this I proceeded on the well-warranted belief that the commendation you have so generously accorded to my official acts was only incidental to the broader purpose of your admirable letter, which is a moving appeal to the conscience and the patriotism destined in my opinion, to profoundly affect public sentiment on a vitally important national problem.

The effect of such an appeal from such a source is certain to be salutary in its widespread influences. In this instance, as in other emergencies, you have spoken with the courage of conviction, with the eloquence of earnestness and under the inspiration of the clear understanding of and devotion to the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship.

I feel that you have struck the keynote of a national necessity when you say that all public men, all writers of the press, all clergymen, all teachers, all who in any way have a right to address the people, should with every energy unite to denounce such crimes and to support those engaged in putting them down and declare the correlated doctrine that "we must show that the law is inadequate to deal with crime by freeing it from every vestige of technicality and delay."

Your stirring words will serve to press home upon the people a responsibility which, reaching beyond all those in authority is after all essentially their own. To arouse the realization of that responsibility and all that it implies will be to eradicate conditions which otherwise may soon become, as you point out so cleverly, an imminent menace to the very life of the republic.

FLIGHT OF PROJECTILES SHOWN BY NEW DEVICE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Aboard the battleship Kearsarge are 300 one-pounder illuminating shells, which Rear Admiral Barker has instructions to test some time during the summer maneuvers if the opportunity offers. These shells are fitted with tracers and are intended for use at night to illuminate the target.

A "tracer" consists of a burning composition encased in the rear end of the base fuse stock. This is lighted after the projectile leaves the muzzle of the gun, the intention being to follow with the eye the flight of small projectiles fired at night.

Experiments with tracers at the proving grounds at Indian Head last year proved so successful that Rear Admiral O'Neill directed that a number of one-pounder shells be fitted with this device and sent to one of the battleships of the North Atlantic fleet for further experiment. Ordnance officers are awaiting with considerable interest the result of the trials off the New England coast, as there is no doubt as to what the effect will be when they are fired in the beam of a searchlight.

STRIKE A THING OF THE PAST.

All Departments at Port Vue Mill Running Full Time.

An old-time appearance was given the streets leading to the Port Vue mill at McKeesport, yesterday afternoon, when the turns changed at the plant. The streets were full of men going to and coming from the mill, and the police were not needed to preserve order.

More men went to work yesterday than at any time since the strike, and every department of the mill is running full time. The strikers have declared their intention of remaining away from the mill and yesterday not one of the men was in sight.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER OF HOMELESS DOGS SCHEDULED

A wholesale slaughter of unlicensed and unmuzzled dogs will be commenced in Braddock early this morning. Chief of Police William Bennette a week ago notified all dog owners that unless the animals were muzzled and licensed on or before Tuesday, they would be shot. The borough is said to be overrun with homeless dogs, and an effort is to be made to exterminate them.

Cured of Asthma

After 35 years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effectual one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who says: "Your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of our druggist and tried it and one box entirely cured me of Asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort, which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues."

Mr. W. Sererus, Cavalier, N. D., says: "I was troubled with Asthma for 20 years, about 8 years ago I started to use your Asthma Cure, and have not had an attack for six years."

Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 891, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package.

TAFT ADVOCATES THE OPIUM BILL

Says Chinese Will Have It Despite Total Prohibition of the Traffic.

ROOSEVELT IS MISINFORMED

Under Proposed Law Filipinos, Moros and Americans Would Not Be Permitted to Use It—Only 100,000 Out of 8,000,000 Could Do So.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.

Copies of Manila newspapers received by the war department contain an address Gov. Taft recently delivered in Manila which sets forth fully the history of the opium trade in the Philippines and the events which have led up to the framing of the bill to regulate the trade which has recently created such a stir in the islands.

Because the bill contemplated the farming out of the privilege to sell opium to Chinese, Bishop Brent and other prominent churchmen opposed it and laid their objections before President Roosevelt. As a result of this agitation a committee, consisting of Bishop Brent, Dr. Albert Shaw and E. C. Carter has been named to visit countries in the far east and study the plans various governments have adopted to regulate the sale of the drug.

The bill which the Philippine commission had under consideration contemplated the prohibition of the sale of the drug to Americans, Filipinos and Moros. Only Chinamen were to be allowed to purchase it, and the sale of the drug was to be entirely in the hands of the Chinese.

Gov. Taft in his address asserts that the Chinese will have the drug in spite of laws and that the opponents of the bill have taken a stand which is no more consistent than that taken in this country by persons who would prohibit the sale of liquor absolutely. Gov. Taft says that the bill as framed by the commission provides for the absolute prohibition of the use of opium by 8,000,000 persons, and is permissible only in the case of about 100,000 persons.

Gov. Taft says it is not fair to liken the opium users of Manila and other Philippine cities to those of India and the United States. In the Philippines the Chinese smoke the drug chiefly. Few of them eat it and drink it. In the smoking of opium he says there is less danger than in the other methods of using it.

Under the Spanish regime Gov. Taft says the sale of opium was limited to Chinese and the privilege to sell in the various districts was farmed out to Chinese opium dealers. Spanish laws governing the opium traffic disappeared with the American occupation, and the only restriction thrown around the drug was the duties imposed on its importation and provincial laws providing for the punishment of persons who had done where the drug could be smoked. Gov. Taft says that the statements made to President Roosevelt have not put the actual conditions before him.

Killed Wife, Then Himself.

BUFFALO, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Kent Stow, son of F. U. Stow, central traffic manager of the Merchants Dispatch & Transportation Company, shot and killed his wife today, and then shot himself through the head. He was taken to the City hospital where he died tonight. Stow had been suffering from malarial fever and it is believed that he committed the awful deed while temporarily insane.
